COAL PRICE, PRODUCTION CONTROL URGED

Today

She Quotes the President.
The Real Estate Sore Spot.
Father Coughlin Testifies.
Optimistic Mr. Woolley.

—By ARTHUR BRISBANE—

MADAM KRAEMER-BACH, French newspaper writer, who lunched with President Roosevelt, quotes him:

"Congress would never approve the sending of troops to Europe, nor anything resembling a military expedition, but would not hesitate to apply economic sanctions against any nations that deserved them."

The first part of that statement will suit Americans. "Once was enough."

The second part about "economic sanctions" against aggressor nations is, many will hope, an incorrect quotation. There is a strong feeling that the United States should mind its own business, and, if European countries insist on fighting each other, let them fight.

FRANCE especially, as she has proved for more than a thousand years, is well able to take care of herself, except occasionally, when she gets in the hands of some foolish Napoleon Third.

Frederick of Prussia, great military genius, considering the natural and geographical influence of France over Europe, said:

Wenn ich koenig von Frankreich waere, so duerfte, ohne meine erlaubniss, kein kononen schuss in Europa fallen.

"Were I King of France, not a shot should be fired in Europe without my permission."

The importance of geographical conditions has been changed by airplanes, poison gas and aerial bombing, but the wise French have kept ahead of all other nations in the air as well as on the ground.

IT IS customary to blame "big business" and "Wall street," no matter what happens, especially in depressions. "Giving the devil his due," it may be pointed out that the worst feature in our depression is the real estate situation, foreclosed mortgages, buildings empty.

Big business and Wall street had nothing to do with that.

ALSO YOU hear complaints that banks are not lending money. They will lend it fast enough, however, if you give them security that they consider good.

Now they offer to discount bills at a "half of one per cent for short terms, three-eights of one per cent for bills up to 90 days, three-quarters of one per cent for 120 days," and there are few bills to be discounted.

BANKS ARE urged, on one side, to lend money freely, and they are told, on the other side, by government authorities, that they must be careful about their loans, keep themselves very "liquid," which means plenty of cash on hand. To do that, they must keep collecting loans as rapidly as possible.

A banker's life is not what it once was.

CLARENCE M. WOOLLEY, who runs many kinds of big businesses, with various big payrolls, is optimistic, as all good Americans should be.

In Louisville his factories producing plumbing materials, biggest factories there, are at work after a shutdown. And the biggest department store in the city shows an increase of forty per cent during the first weeks of August.

MR. WOOLLEY spent his summer vacation on the high lands of Northern Mexico, shooting and fishing, and wishes you to know that Mexico has a marvelous summer climate, wonderful sports if you like to shoot or fish, all comforts for travelers and a most courteous, obliging population.

More travelers from the United States should visit Mexico.

THE REV. FATHER CHARLES E. COUGHLIN, heard by millions when he talks on the radio, tells a court investigating bank failures in Detroit that two national banks were "wrecked by the philosophy that money in the hands of the masses was a menace."

Many had and still have that idea. No matter how much THEY have, they work desperately to get more, and slip into the grave reaching for more dollars. But they fear "the masses" might stop working if the lash of necessity were removed from their backs.

THERE WAS once prevalent, here and elsewhere, the idea that "education in the heads of the masses was a menace." The British governor of Virginia thanked God that there was no public school in Virginia in his day, hoped there would not be one for another hundred years.

We have escaped from that idea about education and we have public schools. Perhaps we'll get away from the idea of money that Father Coughlin describes.

IN ENGLAND, the modernist churchmen's conference was interrupted by an eighteen-year-old girl, Honor Rose, daughter of a naval chaplain, who told the clergymen:

"Public worship has no attraction for young people. Religion is supposed to express God through truth and

VOTE CHECK IN 'BOSSED' WARDS

'Machine Inspectors' To Aid County in Spotting Fraud

The County Commissioners in the primary election will have a direct supervision and check on election boards, especially in the controlled organization wards, it was revealed today, by exercising their right to appoint a "machine inspector" in every voting district where more than one voting machine is used.

Through the decision to put two machines in every district with more than 250 voters, this means the Commissioners will have a representative in practically every district of Pittsburgh, Clairton, Duquesne and McKeesport.

The "machine inspectors" need not be from the districts in which they serve. The controlled districts of the First, Second, Third, Fourth and similar organization wards may have acting as monitors men or women from townships and boroughs, all picked by Commissioners Charles C. McGovern, C. M. Barr and William D. Mansfield, who are out of sympathy with the organization.

In big districts where three machines are used there will be two machine inspectors. It is estimated that 500 appointments will be made.

According to Maj. William T. Rees, director of elections, 908 machines are to be used in the 476 districts of Pittsburgh and third-class cities.

While these machine inspectors ostensibly are to be on duty to see that the machines properly operate, their functions will permit them to observe the conduct of election boards, to observe the amount of "assistance" which is furnished voters and to see that the machines are not tampered with.

County Probers Scotch 'Racket' in Poll Tax

A wholesale attempt to purchase poll tax receipts is believed to have been broken up by county investigators who stated that they detected a man standing at the entrance of the Treasurer's office directing individuals how to inquire for their receipt.

According to Leo A. Riordan, the man was a Negro minister from Lawrenceville. According to Riordan, the men inquiring would be given a name to use in obtaining tax receipts.

Receipts were refused several persons who said they lived in the Second and Sixth wards.

Airport Firse Causes $1,000,000 Damage

RANTOUL, Ill., Aug. 25.—(AP.)—Fire of unexplained origin swept through the photographic and radio buildings on Chanute Field today, causing damage which air corps officials estimated at $1,000,000.

Beaver County Deportations Held 'Kidnaping'

HARRISBURG, Aug. 25.—(AP.)—Attorney General William A. Schnader today advised Gov. Pinchot that Beaver County officials who deported 46 Negroes to West Virginia committed "an outrage" and "are chargeable with the common law offense of kidnaping."

Schnader made his report to the Governor following an investigation into the affair by Special Deputy Attorney General John D. Meyer, of Pittsburgh.

Schnader, who ordered an investigation of the incidents of last January at Pinchot's request, added:

"It is not our function to make any recommendation to the judicial or prosecuting officers of Beaver County, but if it were, I should have no hesitancy in saying that this is a matter which ought to be submitted to the grand jury and which should be vigorously handled by the District Attorney."

HOUSE RAIDED

The Negroes, Schnader said, were taken into custody after a raid on the home of Virginia Heath, at Industry, on January 20; were held in jail over night and were then hauled by truck to within a few miles of the West Virginia line. The Attorney Gen-

BAR EXTENDS 'AMBULANCE' INQUIRY

Committee Conceals Identity of New Persons Involved

Increased activity, involving a number of new cases, is reported on investigations by the Allegheny County Bar Association's committee dealing with ambulance chasing and other forms of unprofessional conduct by attorneys.

Within the last few weeks investigators have been busier and have been working in new fields, according to well-informed sources. Names of persons involved were not revealed today.

Old cases will continue under investigation, it is reported. Some disbarment proceedings are pending and expected to come up in the fall term of Common Pleas Court.

The bar association's committee consists of Gifford K. Wright, chairman; Richard C. Long, Robbin B. Wolf, Benjamin Lencher, Charles B. Prichard, John H. Sorg, John J. Heard and Donald C. Anderson.

LABOR GROUP ADVANCES PROGRAM

Joins With Operators To Win Public to Recovery Code

International News Service.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—A comprehensive plan to fix the price of bituminous coal and allocate production to put the industry on a profit-making basis was proposed by labor today as operators of the Appalachian group and labor spokesmen resumed their efforts to complete a coal code.

The labor representatives are ready to join with the operators to resist adverse public opinion in the development of both price fixing and production control, which also would have the effect of sharing work in the overcrowded industry.

HOPE FOR SUCCESS

Optimism over the chances of reaching an agreement was expressed on both sides despite the many obstacles still to be overcome.

President Roosevelt has requested the completion of the code by Tuesday, if possible. The request was accepted as an inference that the administration will write its own code next week if an agreement is not reached.

Operators in the southern Appalachian fields were still reluctant to agree to complete unionization of their mines and no progress was made in the initial stages of the conference on this subject.

OLD FOES CONFER

Bitter competitors themselves for years, the nonunion mine operators from North and South were conferring for the first time with their traditional common enemy, the United Mine Workers.

Gen. Hugh S. Johnson was devoting practically all of his attention to bringing about an agreement at the conference arranged directly through the good offices of President Roosevelt himself.

Both sides, it was learned, were fearful of the growing restiveness among the miners and had reached a common desire to speed completion of the coal code.

The committee of four operators from Appalachian fields and four representatives of the United Mine Workers conferred far into the night and today resumed discussions.

The committee includes J. D. A. Morrow, president of the Pittsburgh Coal Company; Charles O'Neill, vice president of Peale, Peacock and Kerr; R. E. Taggart of the General Coal Company, and D. C Kennedy, a Southern operator, for the producers; John L. Lewis, president; Philip Murray, vice president; Thomas Kennedy, secretary-treasurer, and Van A. Bittner, West Virginia district president, for the union.

Four big questions — wages, hours, price and production—confronted the mine negotiators. After the opening conference, Deputy Administrator K. M. Simpson expressed the opinion that the question of differentials in wages between the various districts could be solved.

PHANTOM FIGHT BACK IN COURT

The fight of nearly 10,000 would-be voters to have their names restored to the county assessment lists was back in Common Pleas Court today.

The steps were to be taken by District Attorney Andrew T. Park, who has announced he plans to seek a writ of mandamus seeking an interpretation of the assessment laws.

Park was drawn into the fight under provisions of a statute enacted in 1893. His attention was called to the law by a petition signed by four attorneys, including former Congressman Harry A Estep, John Frankel, Edward G. Coll and A. M. Oliver.

The petition listed the names of 14 residents of the Seventh, Thirteenth and Fourteenth city wards "which counsel has selected out of a great number of aggrieved, as typically representative of the injuries complained of."

Through a misinterpretation of the law the counsel contends the citizens have not been certified for assessment by the Board for Revision and Assessment of Taxes.

POLO GROUNDS, New York, Aug. 25.—The Pittsburgh Pirates and New York Giants were tied this afternoon in the first game of a doubleheader.

Larry French and Fred Fitzsimmons fought it out on the slab in the early encounter.

The Waner act went over with the bag in the first inning when the Pirates scored two runs. The Giants also scored twice in the first round.

Fred Lindstrom hit a homer in the first to break a deadlock and he cracked out another in the fifth. Both went into the right-field stands.

Mounting Death List, Floods in Wake of Gale

47 Known to Have Perished; Vast Loss To Property

Associated Press.

The Atlantic seaboard's terrifying storm had blown itself out today, but from Northern New York to North Carolina there remained devastating floods, stupendous property damage and a mounting death list.

The death toll reached 47 as reports from hard-hit areas trickled in and the prospects were that it would go even higher.

Coast Guard cutters still sought the motorship Solarina, a 225-ton craft missing off the Carolinas with 12 persons aboard. The ship first was reported safe in a South Carolina cove, but today a checkup disclosed nothing of her.

There also was a possibility that some smaller craft off Virginia were missing and that a thorough investigation of some water-logged resorts would disclose additional casualties.

Hundreds were made homeless in Southwest Philadelphia as the swirling waters inudated an area of 10 square miles. The Philadelphia airport also was under water.

Water was receding from the marooned Camp Achvach for boys and girls at Godeffroy, N. Y., and Port Jervis police reported there no longer was any danger to lives there.

After leaving New York the storm, considerably lessened in intensity, struck out over Nova Sco-

Downtown Crowds See Death Plunge

In view of hundreds of downtown pedestrians, Louis Ellis, 35, fell to his death from a scaffold on the fourth floor of Old City Hall in Smithfield street this afternoon. He was painting window frames when he dropped into a roped area on the sidewalk. He died soon after in Allegheny General Hospital. Ellis, who lived at 1309 Arch street, was employed by a contractor.

COLUMBIA, Pa., Aug. 25.—Five persons were killed and a sixth critically injured when a special train, carrying officials of the Pennsylvania Railroad, crashed into an automobile at Manor road crossing east of here today.

The impact hurled their automobile, carrying the six persons, all of Columbia, through the air and wrecked it badly.

Bodies of the victims, a mother and her baby, two girls, and one man, were strewn along the tracks. A second man was rushed to a hospital.

MURDER CLUES IN POISONINGS

By HERBERT S. REED

Staff Correspondent.

NEW KENSINGTON, Aug. 25.—Any doubt that Druggist E. V. Kerr deliberately poisoned himself and two women Tuesday night was dissipated today, County authorities say. Evidence in his prescription room left no possibility that there had been a "mistake," they say.

Detective John Bordanaro, opening the drug store, found a one-pound can of the poison Kerr had used.

The well-kept prescription room has a shelf, high and out of the way, for such dangerous materials. On it the can was kept.

The can had a tightly fitted lid of the type usually found on paint cans. The center of the lid is sunken and its edge projects to the edge of the can. The two edges fit together tightly and an edged instrument would have been necessary to pry up the lid.

WARNING ON LABEL

In opening the can Kerr must have handled it for some time, long enough, at any rate, to read the label printed plainly on its surface and the warning legend:

"Poison."

When Kerr drove off to death with Mrs. Della Gradler he apparently knew the "sleeping powders" he had given Mrs. Dorothy Yunker had made her sleep eternal. Loungers in front of his drug store saw him drive past the Yunker home twice—a few minutes before, and a few minutes after

Arson Plot Periling Children Charged

An ingenious arson plot which failed to click, but might have taken the lives of three children, was revealed today by Fire Marshal Thomas L. Pfarr.

Fire was discovered August 11 in the home of Mrs. Anna Powsutki, Natrona Heights. Flames ate through the ceiling of a room in which three Powsuitki children were sleeping.

Firemen found a tank of engine oil in a loft above the room. Marshal Pfarr, investigating, discovered that an electric soldering iron had been plugged in, matches strewn around it, and a train of paper laid to the tank.

The owner, he said, had told Mrs. Powsuitki to be certain she turned on the lights that evening. Turning on the lights also turned on the soldering iron, Pfarr said.

Pfarr left today for Chicago to arrest the owner, whose name he would not reveal.

Boy Hero Again 'Saves' Train, But Waits in Vain for Plaudits

Engineer Finds Him Holding Lantern —And Bag

International News Service.

BELLEVILLE, N. J., Aug. 25.—Allen Butler, 15-year-old Boy Scout, today had lost his faith in the durability of heroes' reputations and acquired a cynical view of newsreel cameramen.

Butler stopped an Erie commuters train near here in time to prevent it running into wreckage which the storm had hurled onto the tracks.

Then came the cameramen.

They wanted him to re-enact the scene, and obtained a red lantern.

As the next train approached, the youth stepped out on the tracks, waving the lantern vigorously. The train stopped suddenly and the engineer, breathless and excited, came pounding up the track. He roared:

"What the h—!"

Allen smiled ingratiatingly. He explained:

"I'm the fellow who saved the train last night. This is just for the photographers—"

He looked around, but the cameramen, having gotten their pictures, had taken to their heels.

The engineer warned:

"Listen, I don't care who you are. If I ever catch you fooling around this track again I'll have the cops on you."

The train pulled out, leaving Allen standing dejectedly beside the tracks, holding the red lantern—and the bag.

POISON DEATH CLUES POINT TO MURDER

Dead Druggist Knew Capsules Were Fatal, Sleuths Report

'HE'LL HANG FOR THIS!'

On his second passing he might—if he had been listening—have heard Mrs. Elva Coudreit cry out:

"He'll hang for this!"

Mrs. Coudreit had just seen her sister, Mrs. Yunker, fall dead from Kerr's "sleeping powders."

To pass the Yunker home at 1220 Taylor avenue, Kerr drove a block out of his way to the Gradler home at 526 Ridge avenue. The Gradler home is directly west of Kerr's at 500 Locust street, the Yunker home a block south.

Coroner M. A. McMurray, of Westmoreland County, announced today that Mrs. Yunker's death had been caused by a dose of the same chemical found in Kerr's store. He said an inquest would be held later as a matter of record.

Proof that Mrs. Gradler had been tricked into taking the poison was seen by detectives in the discovery today that stains on her clothing had been made by a solution of the same chemical which killed her. She had, the detectives said, apparently tried to spit out the deadly stuff.

'WATCHED HER DIE!'

The thermos bottle which was found in the car contained only water, Dr. James M. McMeans, of Pittsburgh, who tested it, reported. Apparently, Kerr emptied a capsule of poison into the cap of the bottle, which was found lying on the car seat between him and Mrs. Gradler.

Then he filled the cap with water and handed it to her. He must have watched her die before he prepared another draught of poison and with it killed himself.

Thursday was a day full of agony for Kerr's grandmother and mother. They had no word from the wife bound from Syracuse until after 5 p. m. The mother, Mrs. E. J. Bennett, repeated time and again:

"It must have been an accident. Edward couldn't have done this. Maybe they were stopped on the road."

WIFE COLLAPSES

George Jewel, mild-mannered, unexcited but puzzled father of Mrs. Kerr, reached New Kensington after 5 p. m. Thursday. He said:

"Mrs. Kerr passed out on the trip when she read the papers. She just collapsed.

"She can't understand this any more than her mother and I can. She can't believe Edward wasn't true to her. I can't believe it either. Why, they were like two peas in a pod. After work he'd go home and the two would go for a drive or they'd sit there together. Always doing things together."

Jewel said his daughter had been left somewhere in Pennsylvania for recovery, then she'd go on to Johnstown. Her mother is with her.

DENIES ESTRANGEMENT

Jewel denied the couple was estranged:

"My daughter had been with us in Syracuse for four weeks but that was by pre-arrangement. It was arranged that she would take care of the store while Edward was at the World's Fair and when he returned she would spend her vacation with us. Why, last year she was with us for two months in the summer."

Jewel told Detective Bordanaro that, while his son-in-law had suffered in the depression, he had no critical financial problems.

Of Bordanaro, Jewel demanded:

"Don't you think this might have been an accident?"

Smiling, Bordanaro answered:

"Accidents don't happen like this."

An inspection of the drug store records showed that Kerr's current bills were paid. Bordanaro asserted, however, that when Kerr purchased the store on the eve of the depression in 1929 he took on a greater debt than the store's income sufficed to meet.

WOMAN 'ON TAB'

The records showed there were some tidy sums owed Kerr by numerous costomers. A "tab" for something less than $2 was there for "Mrs. Yunker." It listed four items, including yeast foam, blood medicine and cigarets.

Whether it had been paid, the record did not show.

Kerr's clerk, Fred Sprowll, said:

"When Mrs. Yunker got the medicine from Kerr on Tuesday, she asked him how much it would cost, and he said:

" 'We'll wait and see if it does you some good; then we'll talk payment!' "

Funeral services for Mrs. Yunker will be held in the New Kensington Methodist Episcopal Church at 2 p. m. tomorrow. She will be buried in New Kensington Cemetery.

Coroner W. J. McGregor announced today that chemical tests had shown Kerr and Mrs. Gradler had died from the same poison as was found in the prescription room of Kerr's drugstore.

The capsules which were found in Kerr's car when the bodies were discovered in it Tuesday, contained the same substance, the Coroner said.

The body of Mrs. Gradler was taken to the home of her father, Elmer Hough, at Scottdale, Pa., for interment there Sunday.

Kerr's body still was at the Perrysville avenue mortuary of Frank W. Simons. No funeral arrangements had been made pending the wishes of Mrs. Kerr.

DEPORTATIONS HELD KIDNAPING

eral said his inquiry shows the group were ordered out of the truck on a rainy night and were left without food.

The investigation, Schnader said in his written report to the Governor, disclosed these "facts:"

Robert Branyan, chief of Beaver County detectives, obtained from Justice of the Peace William A. Wehr, of Rochester Borough, the warrant to search the Heath home for liquor. Three state policemen and several constables assisted in the raid and found 56 Negroes, all but five or six of them men, at the home.

The occupants were "having a party." Officers reported there was a gallon jug, broken, from which they obtained "three pints of moonshine." The officers also charged several persons were intoxicated and two were acting improperly, although the majority "were merely laughing and talking."

SQUIRE MUM

Continuing, the Schnader report states:

The testimony "is not clear" whether Justice of the Peace Wehr was present and "Wehr declined to state to Special Deputy Attorney General Meyer whether or not he was there."

"One of the raiding party established himself at the kitchen table, inquired of the names and addresses and demanded of each one whether he or she had $2.50. If so, the person was released. Otherwise he or she was taken back to another room.

"Nothing resembling a hearing was held even if Justice of the Peace Wehr had been present.

"Those who could not pay were taken to the Beaver County Jail and locked up.

"It has been impossible to learn what happened to the money collected at Virginia Heath's house.

"On Saturday, January 21, 1933, Howard A. Hunter, county commissioner of Beaver County, became interested in the case and assumed direction of the deportation which subsequently took place. He states that his interest in the matter was inspired by a desire to save the county the expense of housing those persons in its jail."

CHAIR REUNITES FATHER, SON

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., Aug. 25.—(AP.)—A father and son who had not met in 21 years were united in the shadow of the electric chair at the state prison farm here.

Andrew McCullough, grizzled Fayette County farmer, was in the death cell facing electrocution today as the murderer of W. B. Baker, Atlanta capitalist, when his son, Roy, serving a short sentence for misdemeanor, was brought in to see him.

Their eyes were dimmed with emotion as they met. Then as the son was taken from the death chamber, McCullough sighed.

He said:

Interesting, and it is a fact that Shakespeare began the real period of art and philosophy, based on interest in human beings rather than on religion.

But the naval chaplain's eighteen-year-old daughter will learn, when she is eighty, that you do not turn to "art and philosophy" to satisfy this question:

BANKING POLICY OF DEMOCRATS CENSURED

Senator Vandenberg Assails Demand For 'Liquidity'

DETROIT, Aug. 25.—(AP.)—United States Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg (Rep.), Michigan, declared before the one-man bank grand jury today that "the one great mistake of the federal government" in its bank-opening policy following the national bank holiday was its "insistence on liquidity instead of solvency."

Testifying as to his knowledge of Washington events preceding the famous Michigan banking holiday before the jury investigating the closing of two local national banks, the junior Michigan Senator declared the government had "forced appraisals to be made on the wrecked values of an utterly depressed market.

BANKS 'DOOMED'

He asserted:

"The whole emphasis of the government's policy was on liquidity. That spelled doom for thousands of banks. And, in the end, a 100 per cent liquid bank is only a warehouse for money—it is not a bank. It cannot function as a bank."

The Michigan Senator declared it was his opinion that it was impossible for an appraiser to come into a "strange city" and make "anything like a fair or intelligent appraisal" of a bank's assets.

The witness gave a calm recital of events that contrasted sharply to the fiery denunciations hurled yesterday before the jury by the Rev. Father Charles E. Coughlin, crusading priest.

PRIEST'S CHARGES

Echoes of Father Coughlin's attack on the First National Bank-Detroit and the Guardian National Bank of Commerce, the two closed banks, still reverberated today.

During his testimony yesterday, Father Coughlin reiterated many of the charges he made in public utterances last winter, including an attack on the Detroit Free Press, whose publisher, E. D. Stair, is a former president of the Detroit Bankers Company, the holding company of which the First National was an affiliate.

Mr. Stair is to appear before the bank jury as a witness at a later date.

Informed of statements before the bank jury by Father Coughlin that "there will be federal indictments" of local bank officials, John S. Pratt, Special Assistant United States Attorney General, said today that "Father Coughlin must know more about it than I do."

Pratt, with a staff of five men from the Department of Justice for several weeks have been investigating records of the two closed banks.

DETROIT, Aug. 25.—(INS.)—No further word was forthcoming today from Prosecutor Harry S. Toy as to whether new efforts would be made to obtain testimany from ex-President Herbert Hoover in the Detroit bank investigation.

Mr. Hoover refused to accept an invitation to come here and testify.

U. S. FILES NEW INSULL CHARGE

CHICAGO, Aug. 25.—(AP.)—A suppressed indictment charging Samuel Insull, Sr., and 10 others with violation of the bankruptcy law was released today by United States District Attorney Dwight H. Green.

The specific offense charged was cause for extradition under most existing treaties. It was upon the new indictment that the United States will seek to return the former utilities king from his refuge in Athens, Greece.

THOMAS WARNS U. S. TO SPEED INFLATION

Disaster Sure Unless Reserve Bank Acts, Senator Asserts

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—(AP.)—The Federal Reserve System last week tried to make $35,000,000 in new credit available to American business but was warned today by Senator Thomas (Dem., Okla.) that without additional action "there is inevitable disaster ahead."

For months the 12 Federal Reserve banks have limited their operations to purchasing from commercial banks, government securities. The theory is that Federal Reserve currency or credit thus will replace the government securities in bank vaults, and since the currency and credit bring in no interest while idle, they will be loaned.

Last week, the 12 central banks purchased $35,000,000 worth of securities, $21,565,000 in treasury notes, $13,464,000 in certificates and bills and $132,000 in bonds. The week before, the purchase totaled only $11,000,000.

POLICY AWAITED

Before the statement was issued on last week's operations, Thomas wrote Gov. Eugene R. Black of the Federal Reserve Board that there must be "courageous" action "along lines which the Federal Reserve has heretofore opposed." Thomas wrote:

"I have sponsored since 1931 bills for issuance of treasury notes to bring the urgently needed relief to our people. However, I was defeated in these efforts by the Federal Reserve, who were directed by large Wall street deflationists.

"Under normal conditions, I would not propose direct issuance of non-interest-bearing treasury notes. However, when it is necessary * * * repudiated standards must give way to national necessity and solvency."

There was no direct statement as to what the Federal Reserve would do in the new week, today entering its second day. Board officials said, however, that the intensity of government security purchasing—"open market" operations—would be determined from time to time to fit business needs.

ROOSEVELT PARLEY

Some pointed out that the 12 central reserve banks already held $2,094,000,000 worth of government securities, $243,000,000 more than on August 24 last year. It was added that although this method of expanding currency had been tried previously without full success, general conditions now might be more conducive to benefits from sizeable open market purchases.

Numerous influential members of Congress have been urging President Roosevelt to use new laws to issue more currency. When that idea was advocated to him again recently, he smiled. He might have had open market purchases in mind.

Today, at his summer home in Hyde Park, N. Y., Mr. Roosevelt was to talk with Lewis Douglas, budget director, to continue a fiscal policy discussion the Chief Executive began last night with Secretary Woodin of the Treasury.

Volstead Returns To Law Practice

GRANITE FALLS, Minn., Aug. 25.—(AP.)—Andrew J. Volstead, 73, who once helped write a country's laws—particularly the act named for him—is going to practice law once more. He has returned to this city of 1,800 persons, where he started his public career.

Volstead recently was furloughed as legal adviser to the prohibition administrator at St. Paul.

BOY SHOT, PEAR GROWER HELD

Ernest Miller is under $1,000 bond today pending the outcome of the injuries of his 8-year-old neighbor, James Ayers, of Hickman road, Versailles Township, whom he is alleged to have shot while the boy was stealing pears from a tree in the Miller yard.

Members of the Ayers family said the boy was shot in the neck with bird shot, discharged from a shotgun, shortly after Miller had given James and his brothers permission to gather pears in his yard. The two brothers, Billy, 12, and Jackie, 4, in the yard at the time of the shooting, were not struck.

A charge of felonious shooting was placed against Miller before Justice Bernard Volk, McKeesport.

CASH SHORTAGE LAID TO BISHOP

XENIA, O., Aug. 25.—(AP.)—Charges that Bishop William H. Heard, of Philadelphia, African M. E. Church, had "misapplied or misappropriated" $18,000 allegedly collected for Wilberforce University, near here, have been placed in the hands of the board of trustees by an investigating committee, it became known today.

Bishop Heard, 83 years old, head of the church for the third district embracing Ohio and Pennsylvania, denied the allegations when first presented last June.

The Rev. J. F. Williams, of Columbus, O., who dissented from the opinion of the majority of the investigating committee on the grounds the allegations were not substantiated, said the Bishop had "an enviable record," and he could find no reason for action.

Woodin, Jr., Rallies In Tucson Hospital

TUCSON, Ariz., Aug. 25.—(Universal.)—William H. Woodin, Jr., son of the Secretary of the Treasury, who is suffering from heart disease, was today reported as much improved. Young Woodin has been here more than a year, a hospital patient for a month. Several days ago he was placed in an oxygen chamber.

JIM FERGUSON LEADS REPEAL FORCES

Garner Writes Letter, Ignores Campaign To Go Fishing

International News Service.

DALLAS, Tex., Aug. 25.—Wets and drys neared the close of their campaign today as Texans by the thousands prepared to go to the polls tomorrow to register their convictions on repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment and legalization of beer.

While the prohibition campaign has been marked by less fireworks than past dry campaigns in Texas, this week saw frenzied activity in both wet and dry camps.

SENATE AS GOAL

Former Gov. James E. Ferguson closed his week's speaking tour last night at Temple with a vigorous plea for repeal and beer.

Senator Morris Sheppard, hoarse from three weeks on the stump, will close his crusade against repeal here tonight. Ferguson and Sheppard emerged as the leading orators of their respective sides and their vigorous campaign utterances led observers to believe that both are laying groundwork for senatorial campaigns.

C. C. McDonald, right-hand man of Ferguson, and chairman of the repeal forces, closed the wet argument in Dallas here last night. McDonald predicted victory for the wet forces, declaring there were enough women who had changed their views on prohibition to insure victory for the wet banner.

DRYS' APPEAL

The drys issued a joint appeal yesterday, urging Texas to vote against repeal and beer and predicting victory for their cause "if the dry voters will go to the polls." The statement was signed by former Gov. Dan Moody and other leading dry advocates.

Wets were aided by a direct radio appeal for Texas to join the wet parade by James A. Farley, chairman of the Democratic National Committee. Speaking Tuesday night from New York, Farley termed repeal and legalization of beer an "integral part of the national recovery program," and urged Texas Democrats to cast their votes accordingly.

Vice President Garner continued to fish throughout the campaign, and aside from a letter asking Texans to vote for beer and repeal, took no part in the campaign.

Drys File Petition In Penna. Battle

HARRISBURG, Aug. 25.—(AP.)—With the requisite 20,000 names already filed to place their candidates on the ballots, the prohibition repeal forces of Pennsylvania are out to get thousands of additional signatures on petitions for delegates to the repeal convention.

Wilbur Morse, executive secretary of the Pennsylvania Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, said every county in the state is represented on petitions now in hand. The McClure Convention Act requires 2,000 names from each of 10 congressional districts.

The united dry forces also are collecting signatures for their ticket of 15 delegates. No independent candidates have appeared in the field.

Oppose State Control When Rum Returns

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 25.—(AP.)—Under the banner of the Philadelphia Retail Liquor Dealers' Association, about 600 tap room owners yesterday opened a fight against what spokesmen asserted was a plan by Gov. Pinchot to put the sale of liquor under state control if it becomes legal.

The tap room proprietors shouted approval of a resolution demanding re-enactment of the Brooks license law. The resolution condemned the Canadian liquor control system.

New Rum Control Fight Faced by Pinchot

HARRISBURG, Aug. 25.—(AP.)—Wet forces who lost their fight to have courts license beer wholesalers and retailers are mobilizing to renew that clash with Gov. Pinchot.

The resumption of hostilities appears as inevitable at the special legislative session, probably in December or January.

Philadelphia wets, who led the losing battle at the recent session, will be back in the front lines of the new conflict, campaigning for re-enactment of the Brooks high license law under which liquor dealers were licensed by county judges.

Gov. Pinchot, opposed to putting the courts in the beer or liquor business—as he phrases it—has not indicated definitely what plan he will advocate. His opponents contend he is committed to the Ontario system through which the state would hold a monopoly over liquor sales.

Neil Bonner, president of the Philadelphia Retail Liquor Dealers' Association, told 600 tap room owners last night that Pinchot has "been active for weeks" in this direction. He asserted the Governor had sent to all legislators pamphlets outlining the Ontario plan.

Whatever liquor control plan Pinchot will indorse, the Governor will make a strong effort to have it include provisions that liquor revenues shall be set aside for unemployment relief.

SCIENCE FIGHTS SLEEP MALADY AS 26 DIE

Experts Fail to Make Headway in War on Mystery Disease

International News Service.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 25.—Every resource of the scientific world was being marshaled here today to combat further spread of the sleeping sickness epidemic which has already claimed [illegible] lives.

As men of medicine and famous scientists, physically exhausted from lack of sleep and long hours of squinting at germ-infested slides through their high-powered microscopes, sought desperately to isolate the deadly germ and to determine the carrying agency, three more fatalities were reported and it was announced that the number of cases in this area had increased to 214.

WORLD'S WORST

The outbreak of the disease in St. Louis was said by scientists today to be the worst concentration of sleeping sickness in the world.

A trio of government experts, Dr. J. P. Leake, senior surgeon of the United States Public Health Service; Dr. Charles Armstrong, health service pathologist, and Dr. L. L. Williams, entomologist, is assisting local experts in the warfare against the death-dealing microbes. In addition the scientific staffs and medical staffs of St. Louis University and Washington University, both located here, have been enlisted.

One expert denied today that there is a sleeping sickness germ. He said:

"If there is such a thing I have never seen one."

He added that medical men were more inclined to believe the agency of transmission is a "virus."

SMALLEST ORGANISM

Dr. Paul Zentay, assistant St. Louis health commissioner, described the agency of transmission as the "smallest ultra-microscopic organism that can pass through the smallest filter we have." He said:

"The most likely mode of transmission seems to be one that we call by the name of direct contact, that is either directly by a patient or through the medium of a carrier.

"As to the cause of the disease, we are entirely in the dark."

In addition to the cases reported in this area, an outbreak of the disease has been reported in Kansas, Oklahoma, and in other Missouri localities.

RIECK COMPANY OFFICER DIES

Henry M. Goldberg, vice president of Rieck-McJunkin Dairy Company, died last night from a heart attack, in his home, 244 South Winebiddle avenue. He is survived by his widow, his father Max Goldberg; three brothers and three sisters.

Mr. Goldberg had been associated with the Rieck concern from the time he was graduated from the Forbes School. For several years he was manager of the New Castle branch of the company.

Girl Seeks $100,000 Freckle Insurance

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 25.—(AP.)—Dorothy Coonan has many freckles—182, in fact. Now in her teens, Dorothy earns a living by facing the cameras and exposing her good-looking but freckled countenance on movie screens. Her contract provides that she's out of a job if she loses the freckles.

CALL ACCUSER OF POLO STAR

CHICAGO, Aug. 25.—(AP.)—Miss Eugenia Rose must appear before Magistrate Willis R. Brightmire today and tell him personally if she does not wish to press criminal attack charges she brought against Cecil Smith, ace Texas poloist.

Brightmire issued a subpena for the 23-year-old nurse to be present when the case is called. Miss Rose has been in virtual seclusion since she obtained the warrant for Smith's arrest last Saturday.

Her father, Dr. R. T. Rose, of Cooperstown, N. D., gave Brightmire a statement from her in which she said she could not prosecute the case. The attendant notoriety caused her to change her mind she said.

Upon hearing of Miss Rose's decision to drop the case, Smith entrained for New York to prepare for the national polo matches there next month.

The Tygart Valley River rose to 8.1, a rise of 6.3 feet this morning. The Ohio will continue to rise slowly. Between 12 and 12.5 foot stage is indicated at Pittsburgh early Saturday morning.

3 More Boys Doomed By Slaughter Gang, Mother Screams

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 25.—(AP.)—Shudders went through the courtroom as the woman, arms raised over head, screamed:

"One—two—three—they killed killed my sons Joseph and John, then my brother. Those gangsters plan to wipe out all the men in my family."

That was at the hearing held recently of another son of Mrs. Rachael Marazzo, her Raphael, and his brother-in-law, John Larro, found carrying concealed weapons which they said were for self-defense.

Last night 20-year-old Larro was sitting on the step of the Marazzo home. A machine gun poured lead from a passing automobile. Seven slugs drilled Larro's body.

The neighbors were terrified, but Mrs. Marazzo dashed out, thinking partly of the dead youth, partly of her three sons still living. She screamed:

"They'll get them, too."

Police have no clues to the killers. The neighborhood is silenced by fear.

Even the motive is uncertain. Some investigators believe it is a "numbers racket" war; others deny it.

And of Joseph and John Marazzo, Anthony Schiavo and John Larro, none lived long enough after a fusillade of bullets to answer any questions.

10,000 Chickens Die In Fire at Mercer

PET DOG BURIED WITH MASTER

ATLANTA, Aug. 25.—(AP.)—In death, as in life, Herman Benjamin and his beloved dog, Jip, remain side by side. They were buried in adjoining graves in Oakland Cemetery yesterday in keeping with 14 years of companionship.

Two years ago Jip died of the infirmities of age. Benjamin had his body embalmed, placed it in a copper casket and held it in a mortuary. The other night the 70-year-old druggist was stricken with a heart attack and died.

Joint services for man and dog were held and then the big black casket and the little one of copper were carried to the cemetery in the same hearse.

On the dog's casket was this inscription:

"Jip—My companion, friend. True, unfalteringly loyal, pathetically loving. I will continue to show the sincerity of my love and care for you even in death till my end, and then ever after, too, sharing with you the eternal sleep beneath the same sod.

BEAUTIES ROW, ROUT JUDGE

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Aug. 25.—(AP.)—With two bathing beauty contest "winners" ruled out because it developed they had been married, a magistrate was called upon to determine eligibility of the remaining aspirants.

There was a prosecutor, cross-examinations and all, but when the attorney proved Mary Drummond had appeared in a vaudeville act—also taboo—police had to break up the hair-pulling match. "Too hot for me," murmured Magistrate Coward, as he scurried for cover.

ALL 'SENSIBLE, SOLID' MEN AND WOMEN

No Students of Freud To Rule in Tub Murder Case

By ERNESTINE BALL

International News Service.

SAN JOSE, CAL., Aug. 25.—"Wholesome" is a one word description of the jury of five women and seven men that will come into court today charged with the responsibility of determining whether David Lamson killed his wife, Allene, on the morning of May 30, in their Stanford campus home.

No brittle young beauties among the women—not a single movie-gangster type of man. Five women, seven men (and two women juror alternates) took their permanent place today in the jury. Sensible, solid, middle age predominating, this jury is a cross section of the citizenry of the country.

LOVE GROWN COLD

An intelligent jury—no doubt about that. A jury that may have some difficulty when the prosecution calls as its witness, abnormal psychology, and attempts to prove, as it has indicated, that frigidity and frustration were factors that put their wintry breath upon the love idyll of David and Allene Lamson. Sadism is another theory of the prosecution experts.

If there is a woman on that jury with a morbid interest she does not show it. If the male jurors have a morbid interest in common it is in the prune and pear crops, now in harvest in this favored valley, and that is not the kind of morbidity that will help them to follow the tangled underbrush of human emotion and behavior.

David Lamson, brilliant Stanford graduate, who distinguished himself in the Stanford Publishing House! The defense will proclaim that it is unthinkable and unprovable that he did his beloved, beautiful young wife to this hideous death.

'DIZZY BLONDE'

A prowler, an accident, the defense will claim, resting its case on its pretrial statement:

"David Lamson did not do it . . . if it was not a prowler, not an accident, how did it happen . . . God in his Heaven alone knows."

The prosecution will present "the other woman" to this jury. Perhaps Sara Kelley, former Stanford co-ed, who sarcastically referred to herself as the "dizzy blonde" in the plot.

There is the motherly woman in the jury—the elderly orchardist over there—you wonder if they would be sitting there if Allene and David could have had a good talk with someone who could see both sides of a domestic problem and the years beyond. There must have been times, even if they did quarrel, when they both agreed that the big thing after all in both their lives was their child, 3-year-old Baby Allene.

GOOD HOUSEWIVES

The woman in back there—the one with the generous smile—in fact all five women and the seven men, look like the kind that any young couple might have gone to with their troubles.

Instead they sit in judgment. They have sworn to inflict the death penalty on circumstantial evidence provided they are convinced beyond a reasonable doubt.

The jurors will ask themselves how young love could have quarreled so bitterly in the end that there came a morning when soft-eyed Allene was struck brutally on the head in a very fury of rage, and was found dead in a bathtub, the water stained with her life blood.

NEW ELECTIONS CALLED IN CUBA

HAVANA, Aug. 25.—(AP.)—Taking a firm grip on power, Provisional President De Cespedes today issued a decree wiping out all vestiges of the ousted Machado regime, dissolving Congress, and calling new elections for February 24, 1934.

The measure, signed with the cabinet's approval and effective immediately, declared unconstitutional the Machado administration and its acts since May 20, 1929, when Gerardo Machado was inaugurated President for a second term.

OBLIGATIONS OBSERVED

All international obligations are to be observed, however, even though contracted since that date.

The action followed a widespread clamor for a thorough housecleaning of the regime that fell two weeks ago.

It was taken over the opposition of United States Ambassador Sumner Welles who, in his capacity as mediator, has maintained that it is necessary to continue constitutional forms.

The decree contained eight points, including a return to the Constitution of 1901, adopted during the "military" rule of the United States, which included the Platt amendment giving the United States the right to intervene in island affairs if necessary, and which advanced several administrative, educational and civil service reforms.

REFORMS WITHDRAWN

The 1928 reforms are derogated. These modified the 1901 Constitution by extending the presidential term from four to six years. Machado was elected in 1925 for a four-year term and later ran again after the 1928 changes.

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 25.—(AP.)—A dispatch from Nassau stated an airplane had cleared the customs office there with Gerardo Machado, deposed President of Cuba, and three associates and that it probably would take off for Miami today.

HITLER DECREE BANS ENEMY WRITERS

International News Service.

BERLIN, Aug. 25.—The Hitler government issued a decree of virtual banishment today against a number of well-known writers and politicians accused of "hostility" to the Nazi regime.

All those affected by the decree are now living abroad. The order deprived them of their German citizenship and provided for confiscation of their property.

The authors are headed by Lion Feuchtwanger, whose printed works and utterances abroad aroused the ire of the government, and Heinrich Mann. Also on the list are Georg Bernhard, Ruth Fischer, Albert Grzesinski, Max Holitz, Alfred Kerr and Rudolph Breitscheid, for many years chairman of the Socialist party.

William Muenzenberg, Heinz Neumann and Wilhelm Pieck, former Communist members of the Reichstag, were named in the list. Philipp Scheidemann and Ernst Toller, Socialist leaders, and Otto Wells, formerly president of the Socialist Executive Council, were included.

Bernhard Weiss, a Jew and formerly vice president of the Berlin police, also was on the list.

Catholic Reverence Of Luther Demanded

EISLEBEN, Germany, Aug. 25.—(AP.)—Bernard Rust, Prussian minister for culture and education, demanded today that "even the Catholic German shall learn to bow his head in reverence before Luther, the German, and Luther, the fighter and victor."

He spoke during exercises commemorating Martin Luther.

Nazis Lift Bathing Ban Against Jews

Zionists Vote Down World Hitler Drive

PRAHA, Czechoslovakia, Aug. 25.—(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)—A resolution pledging the Zionist movement not to "remain silent until the deprival of rights and the indignity to German Jews comes to an end" crystallized sentiment at the eighteenth World Zionist Congress today against anti-Jewish acts in Germany.

A resolution calling for a world-wide fight against Hitlerism and indorsing an anti-Nazi boycott was rejected by a vote of 240 to 48. The German situation was cited as proof of the claims of Zionism as a solution for the Jewish problem.

COUNTY GETS RELIEF FUNDS

HARRISBURG, Aug. 25.—Allegheny County has been allocated $9,802 from $600,000 federal funds to be used on highway relief projects, the State Emergency Relief Board announced today.

Other Western Pennsylvania counties shared in this manner: Armstrong, $15,912; Bedford, $15,219; Blair, $5,964; Butler, $14,659; Clarion, $10,223; Fayette, $14,164; Greene, $12,767; Indiana, $17,743; Jefferson, $8,281; Lawrence, $2,700; Mercer, $14,954; Washington, $16,627 and Westmoreland, $20,939.

After Gov. Pinchot had refused to accept David Williams, of Allentown, as executive director of Lehigh County, the board allotted $226,000 additional funds for food this month and $2,000 for fuel. It provided $10,000 for miscellaneous projects and $29,000 for state-federal re-employment service.

VISITS TO CHILD WARDS URGED

The judge of the new Juvenile Court should step down from the bench periodically for unannounced visits to the foster homes of children under the court's care, Attorney Gustav L. Schramm, candidate for the Juvenile judgeship, said in an address before the Kiwanis Club in the Fort Pitt Hotel yesterday. Schramm declared:

"Where it is necessary for the court to place children under its care in foster homes because they have none of their own, the judge should consider it his duty, as a trained man capable of judging home environment, to drop in to those homes from time to time and see that the children are being treated as members of the families."

Schramm was introduced by Dr. J. B. (Jock) Sutherland, Pitt football coach and intimate friend, who lauded him for his "wisdom and sympathetic understanding" in dealing with children.

Schramm will address the Women's Club of Carnegie in the Carnegie Y. W. C. A. tonight. Mrs. Thomas Lenfestey, women's chairman for his campaign, will preside.

Squirrel Declared Not Crazy After Biting Officer

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—(AP.)—It isn't necessarily a sign of madness to bite a policeman.

About two weeks ago a Central Park squirrel bit a Central Park policeman on the thumb.

The squirrel was captured and sent to the Health Department for tests to determine whether it was mad and therefore poisonous.

Today the squirrel was given a clean bill of health, transported back to the park, and freed.

3 TRAIN RIDERS HURT BY BRIDGE

Three men were injured seriously when struck by a bridge at Bessemer while riding a Baltimore and Ohio freight train, according to reports at the hospitals where they were taken.

Two men, Adam Kulikowski, of Thirty-sixth street, and Stanley Jawkawski, of Pittsburgh, are in the Connellsville Hospital.

Alex Dokowski, of 36 Millvale avenue, Pittsburgh, is in McKeesport Hospital, where he was taken last night after being found along the tracks at Versailles.

Penthouse Grape Harvest Celebrated

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—(AP.)—The penthouse grape crop is ripe. It consists of 23 bunches of Muscat grapes in the roof garden of Mrs. Mabel Brevoort Steven's apartment. To celebrate the occasion, Mrs. Steven had a harvest festival yesterday.

Think about Health these hot days

DURING these hot and muggy days, it's hard to hold on to your freshness and enthusiasm. But right now is the time to store up new reserves of energy—for fall and for winter.

Let a delicious cereal help you. For sunny health is based, first of all, upon regular habits. Common constipation frequently brings dull headaches, loss of appetite and energy, and a general "dopey" feeling.

This condition can be corrected so easily. Laboratory tests show that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to assist elimination. ALL-BRAN is also a rich source of blood-building iron.

The "bulk" in Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is much like that of leafy vegetables. Two tablespoonfuls of ALL-BRAN daily will correct most types of constipation. With each meal in severe cases. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Serve Kellogg's ALL-BRAN with milk or cream, fruits or honey added; or cook into muffins, breads, omelets, etc. Isn't it nicer to enjoy this laxative food instead of taking unpleasant patent medicines?

Be sure you get the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

NRA TO PERMIT SPECIAL EAGLE IN PROTESTS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—(AP.)—A provisional use of the Blue Eagle insignia, by stores and factories claiming special hardships would be wrought them by full compliance with the President's agreement, was decreed today by the Recovery Administration.

Thomas S. Hammond, executive director of the NRA Campaign Division, ruled that a white stripe with the word "Provisional" printed upon it should be pasted across the Blue Eagle in such establishments pending decision on whether the exemptions asked would be accepted. After decision, either the bar may be removed or the eagle will have to be taken down.

This order went forth as the NRA today reported "ready" all over the country for next week's push in the Blue Eagle re-employment campaign.

The division set up to run the Blue Eagle drive announced that organization for the door-to-door push to get businessmen 100 per cent under the Blue Eagle had to sign up consumers by the millions as pledged supporters, had been spread to every county in the United States. It estimated that 1,500,000 men and women will take part next week.

Behind the big jobs, the NRA was digesting codes for all manner of small industries and trades. Today nearly 30 agreements were set for hearing, the bulk between now and September 1. The number of codes received ran around 1,000, and the NRA was busy producing these to acceptable proportions, seeking to put all possible small groups into combinations so hearings could be held on all before the end of the year.

The mechanics of handling codes already had reached the point that some have been disposed of in less than two hours of hearing.

To do this, however, NRA, which a month ago had less than 200 on its payroll, now has an employment roster doubled and trebled, and its appointment division is still taking on people daily.

WOODIN READY FOR LOAN JOB

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Aug. 25.—(AP.)—Secretary Woodin assured President Roosevelt today of a healthy treasury well able to handle the $3,300,000,000 public works program and as he left his conference at the summer White House he announced that neither inflation nor his resignation had come up.

Woodin gave particular attention to the financing of the public works drive and said it was simply a matter of knowing when the money would be needed by the Public Works Administration.

The two considered the proposed executive order defining gold for the purpose of enforcing the anti-hoarding decree. It was indicated Mr. Roosevelt would sign this as soon as Woodin has opportunity to set up the machinery in the Treasury for enforcement. This will require about four days.

AUTO MAKERS REVISING CODE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—(AP.)—The automobile industry code committee of NRA today was making over a revision of its agreement designed to preserve in some form the declaration that the motor makers intended to continue hiring, promoting and discharging employes regardless of union affiliation.

The automobile men proposed to remove all prohibitive reference to "open shop policies" and attempt to phrase it acceptably. They refused outright to remove the paragraph altogether.

Oil Code Changes Denied at Capital

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—(INS.)—Reports that modifications of the oil code have already been approved despite the fact that it is not effective until September 2 were denied today by Deputy Recovery Administrator K. M. Simpson.

Modifications cannot be made until President Roosevelt appoints the co-ordination and planning committee provided in the code, he said. The committee was expected to be named today.

Man Ordered to Sell Neglected Pigeons

Because he neglected his pigeons for two weeks, Simon Pruschowski, of 3029 Wayne street, was ordered to sell them by Alderman Edward W. Haas, of 1809 West Liberty avenue.

Pruschowski was arraigned before Alderman Haas following his arrest on complaint of the Humane Society. He was fined $10.

Waits Patiently On Polecat Parade

WILMINGTON, Del., Aug. 25.—(AP.)—Harvey Jordan is not superstitious but—he waited patientlty several minutes for seven cats to cross the road in single file, slow march. Then he drove on. Each of the seven was black with a pretty white stripe down its back, which in any language means polecat.

Roosevelt Threat Charged to Couple

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—(INS.)—Accused of sending threatening letters to President Roosevelt, Senator Robert F. Wagner, Gov. Herbert H. Lehman, Alfred E. Smith and others, Mark Levy and his wife, Marie, were arraigned in Magistrate's Court today and held on charges of disorderly conduct.

Mrs. Levy was described in court as a spiritualist and a crystal-gazer.

U.S. Loath to Test NRA, Keeps 'Stick' Poised

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—The "big stick" which the administration has kept poised and threatening over the heads of those reluctant to embrace the terms of the new deal is still suspended in mid-air.

It has not descended upon any recalcitrant heads, either in or out of industry, although there have been recalcitrants aplenty since the blue eagle began to stretch its wings.

The reason therefor is simple. The administration is loath to see the National Recovery Act taken into the courts—not so much for fear of adverse decision, although that is a possibility, but because any litigation would inevitably slow up the whole business of getting industry under codes.

The goal of NRA officals now is to get all the major industries operating under the codes, either temporary or permanent, by Labor Day.

The government doesn't want to push the industrialists to the point where they will take their case into court for a test of the National Recovery Act.

On their part, the industrialists don't want to push the government so far that it will brand a particular industry as "unpatriotic."

Thus while the talk behind closed doors is exceedingly frank, and is some cases, like coal and steel, for example, downright acrimonious, nobody wants to take a hard-and-fast position from which there is no graceful retreat.

You'd like the ROBINSONS

They're the kind of people it's nice to have as neighbors. They always seem to have such a good time together. Their home isn't large, but it's furnished in excellent taste; everything fits perfectly, as though it had been made especially for the very space it occupies.

And their dinners are charming. Not expensive, but different . . . new and interesting dishes that other people haven't heard of yet. Mrs. Robinson dresses beautifully, too. Her clothes have that air of coming straight from Paris, yet she doesn't spend much on them.

If you should ask her how she manages things so well, Mrs. Robinson would smile and say, "It's really very simple. We budget our income. That tells us how much money we have to spend. And we read the advertisements. That tells us how to spend our money wisely."

NRA REVISION OF RETAILER CODE LOOMS

International News Service.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—Drastic revision of portions of the retail merchants' code was expected as assistants and advisers of Deputy Recovery Administrator Arthur D. Whiteside today began a study of the evidence, presented at the public hearing during the past three days.

Among the expected changes is the re-writing of the section on "unfair trade practices." It is expected the provisons dealing with price wars, misleading advertising and other widely practiced trade tactics will be amplified and clarified, if not made even more stringent.

A majority of the witnesses testifying on the unfair trade practice provisions either supported the proposed strict regulation of these matters or urged further restrictions.

Clarification of the provisions to prevent the stifling of any legitimate competition, will require considerable time and study on the part of those re-drafting the code.

In addition, the re-drafters of the code must sift the data and weigh the argumens of many labor and retail representatives who recommend changes in the wage and hour provisions of the code.

Merchants Set 48-Hour Limit in Revised Code

Universal Service.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—Major features of the code of fair competition for the retail trade, as submitted by six national retailers' associations to the National Recovery Administration, follow:

Employes shall have the right to organize and bargain collectively; no one seeking employment shall be required as a condition of employment to join any company union or to refrain from joining or assisting in organization of a labor organization of his choosing.

A 40-hour work week shall apply in all stores, excepting those open for business not less than 56 hours nor more than 60 hours, in which 44 hours shall apply; 63 hours or over, 48 hours.

Executives receiving pay of $30 or more a week, registered pharmacists, professional persons, outside salesmen, delivery and maintenance employes may be employed 48 hours, if paid time and one-third for all hours over 48 weekly.

48-HOUR LIMIT

All employes may be permitted to work not more than 48 hours per week for a period not to exceed three weeks in any six months.

Within cities of over 500,000 population, the minimum wage shall be $14 for a 40-hour work week, $14.50 for 44 hours and $15 for 48 hours' work.

Cities of 100,000 to 500,000 population: Minimum pay $13 per week of 40 hours, $13.50 for 44 hours and $14 for 48 hours' work.

Cities 25,000 to 100,000: $12 for 40 hours, $12.50 for 44 hours, $13 for 48 hours.

Within communities of from 2,500 to 24,000 wages shall be increased 20 per cent, provided that this shall not require wages in excess of $11 per week, but in no case shall the minimum be less than $10 per week.

PRICE REGULATION

Junior employes between the ages of 16 and 18 years inclusive, may be paid at the rate of $2 less than the minimum provided for others for the first 12 months of their employment; apprentice employes over 18 years with less than one year's experience may be paid at the rate of $1 a week less than the minimum for older employes, but in no case shall less than $10 a week be paid, except in towns of less than 2,500 population.

No retailer may sell or offer for sale any merchandise at less than the net invoice delivered cost or current market delivered costs, whichever is lower, plus 10 per cent to insure that labor costs shall be at least partially covered.

DRUGGISTS ASK 56-HOUR WEEK

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—(AP.)—A 56-hour work week, the longest that has been sought in any important code so far presented to the Recovery Administration, was advocated by retail druggists today in formal hearings.

The code, designed to cover 60,000 druggists with about 150,000 employes, called for a 90-hour store week at wages of from $14 to $15 for regular employes in large towns.

Regular employes would earn $15 a week in towns over 500,000; $14.50 in towns between 250,000 and 500,000; $14 a week in towns between 2,500 and 250,000, and a 20 per cent increase in towns under 2,500, this wage not necessarily to exceed more than $12.

Registered pharmacists, executives earning more than $35 a week, outside salesmen and employes in towns under 2,500, would be excluded from the minimum hour provision, and pharmacists from the wage provision.

Water Works Meeting Under Recovery Plan

A first meeting of the local section, recovery committee of the American Water Works Association, is set for the Keystone Athletic Club tonight at 6:30. FISHER NAMES CLUBWOMAN NRA HEAD

Mrs. Oliver J. Haller, president of Congress of Women's Clubs, today was named chairman of the women's auxiliary of the county NRA committee.

Her work will be to co-ordinate the house-to-house efforts of women canvassing for the NRA consumer pledge, which will start in two weeks.

The appointment was announced by John S. Fisher, president of the Chamber of Commerce, at a meeting attended by representatives of 250 women's organizations. Fisher, former governor, said:

> "This is not a political movement. I would condemn anyone attempting to take advantage for some political purpose of this most powerful program."

BOYCOTT SCATCHED

Samuel Harden Church told the women it would be their duty not to boycott non-signers of the code but to urge their enlistment under NRA.

The battlements of the Blue Eagle's campaign for recovery in Pittsburgh were strengthened by the announcement that approximately 900 churches in the metropolitan area will be enrolled in the approaching consumers' pledge drive. This was made known simultaneously with the statement by the strategy board of the general recovery campaign committee that NRA in Washington has been informed there are more than 500 complaints of violations on file here.

Definite action has been delayed pending the setting up of a complaint board in the Blue Eagle's headquarters at Washington, just completed.

FIRM FINED

Action in behalf of the labor phase of the recovery move came yesterday from another source. The S. Viviano Macaroni Manufacturing Company, of Fort Pitt, near Carneige, was fined $200 by Alderman Frank T. Halloran, charged with violating the state labor laws in permitting girl employes to work 59 hours week on a seven-day basis. Inspector D. E. Ehland, of the State Department of Labor, brought the charges.

The following meetings will be held today in the interest of the recovery move. Butter and Egg Exchange, Produce Terminal, 12:30 p. m., with A. H. Blase; Braddock, Carnegie Hall, at 8 p. m., public meeting with W. G. Negley; Pittsburgh Retail Hardware Association, Fort Pitt Hotel, 8 p. m., with Thomas A. Dunn. James Rae will speak over station WCAE at 6:40 p. m.

ADOPT CODE

A hairdressers' code for beauty shop owners in Allegheny County was agreed to last night at the Chamber of Commerce, after a stormy meeting that lasted past midnight.

The minimum code of prices agreed to follows: Permanent wave, $5; single curl, 50 cents; shampoo, 50 cents; special shampoo, 75 cents; hot oil shampoo, $1.50; medicated oil, $2.50; dyeing and bleaching, $7; retouch, $5; henna pack, $2.50; hair cutting, 50 cents; marcel, 50 cents; finger wave, 50 cents; arch, 50 cents; manicure, 50 cents; facial, $1, and eyebrow and lash dye, $1.

NEW PRICE RISE SEEN FOR MILK

International News Service.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 25.—Another milk price boost in addition to the one-cent-a-bottle increase that became effective in the Philadelphia district today loomed as a possibility as federal investigators began a probe of the profits of large dairy companies.

Dr. Clyde L. King, federal marketing administrator, who returned to his home at Westtown last night, said another increase might be necessary because of failure of attempts to force distributors to pay farmers a greater basic return.

Meanwhile, Maj. Gen. Smedley D. Butler, retired Marine commandant, at a meeting of 300 farmers in Concordville, Delaware County, urged them to organize and battle the "milk trust," which he termed a "racket."

Jobless Miners Ask NRA to Spread Work

LANSFORD, Pa., Aug. 25.—(AP.)—Four representatives of unemployed miners are in Washington today to confer with National Recovery Administration and union officials on the possibility of spreading work in the anthracite field.

The men—James H. Gildea, Dr. John Pounder, Fred Fudge and the Rev. Daniel Daley—are to meet Leo Wolman, acting chairman of the National Labor Board; John L. Lewis, international president of the United Mine Workers of America, and Thomas Kennedy, international secretary-treasurer of the union.

Pitt Graduate Home After Years in China

Home after five years of teaching in Canton, China, Henry S. Frank, graduate of the University of Pittsburgh today said civil strife and threats of international war have failed to interfere with the Cantonese educational and public works program.

He is one of 30 American instructors at Ingnan University, Canton.

'Nira' Dahlia Sent To White House

BURBANK, Cal., Aug. 25.—(AP.)—The Dahlia Society of Southern California has shipped to the White House two new varieties of blossoms, named the "Nira" and the "New Deal."

HOSIERY STRIKE CALLS 30,000

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 25.—(AP.)—More than 30,000 workers in the full-fashioned hosiery and knit goods industries are under orders to strike, with the first of them walking out today.

A general strike call was issued yesterday to 25,000 workers in 38 hosiery mills throughout the country and shortly afterward a similar order was sent to the 8,000 employers of 80 clothing factories in Philadelphia.

Emil Rieve, international president of the American Federation of Full-Fashioned Hosiery Workers, told that organization certain employers had broken off negotiations for a new working agreement.

Samuel Bakely, labor organizer, said the knit goods strike will become effective today in the sports wear division, where 1,500 workers are enrolled. He asserted manufacturers had violated provisions of the industry's code.

Vang to Accompany Strikers to Capital

George Vang, president of the Vang Construction Company, is expected to accompany a committee of striking employes to Washington next week for an attempt to adjust difficulties between the company and its men.

A strike began five days ago at the Cheswick Lock, where work is being done by the company. Later it spread to the Aspinwall Locks, another job. Most of the men have returned to work pending further negotiations, officials of the company said.

Hold 3-Day Recovery Fete at Harrisburg

HARRISBURG, Aug. 25.—(AP.)—With the Blue Eagle of the National Recovery Administration as its emblem, Harrisburg is holding a three-day celebration to speed the depression into oblivion.

Gay floats, cheering employes and martial music inaugurated the program last night. Thousands lined the streets to watch the parade.

The program is intended to convert into action the NRA appeal for a "buy now" campaign and will end with a "recovery" ball tomorrow night.

SCHOOLS PROBE NEW BURDEN

HARRISBURG, Aug. 25.—(AP.)—To help school districts adjust programs to absorb children forced from factories and mills under the National Recovery Act, state representatives will make a four-day tour of eastern industrial cities next week.

Dr. James N. Rule, superintendent of public instruction, said the trip has been arranged in response to numerous requests for information on the effect of the new codes on employment certificates and continuation schools which boys and girls from 14 to 16 years old previously attended.

The codes bar all children under 16 from manufacturing and mechanical industries and, under the state's compulsory school law, make it necessary for districts to accommodate the group in full-time schools.

SMEAR NRA ON STORE WINDOW

On arriving this morning at his grocery store at 77 Logan street, Morris Shapiro found all the windows smeared with a black tar-paint composition, making everything within invisible, including his NRA sign.

Shapiro had been warned at various times by persons he said operated other stores in the neighborhood to close at 6:30 in the evening. Last night he remained open until 8:30.

Shapiro said:

> "I only run a small store, hiring one clerk. He works eight hours a day and receives $15 a week, according to the NRA. I have been warned by people in the neighborhood to close at 6:30. I stayed open last night until 8:30, and now look what they done!"

It required about two hours' work to remove the paint from the windows.

HECKSCHER, 85, PRAISES NRA

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—(AP.)—August Heckscher, who will be 85 tomorrow, said today that when a man has lost his youth he might as well be dead; but the aged philanthropist's definition of youth has nothing to do with the number of years lived.

To him, he said, youth is synonymous with courage, and when courage to face the future with confident hope is gone, youth goes with it. He said today:

"That truism applies not only to an individual man, but equally as much to a family, a race of people, or a nation.

"In March of this year the citizens of the United States, wealthy and poor alike, were dead. They had lost their courage; they had lost hope; they were afraid to take chances.

"Then President Roosevelt, with indomitable courage in his own convictions, stepped in and shook us out of the doldums. Even though it is an experimental measure, nothing has given us the will to live as forcefully as the NRA program the President has devolved.

"Perhaps the capitalists are not so well pleased with this sudden turn in economic events, because they will be deprived of some of their formerly enormous profits.

"But this great sociological plan is going to give a break at last to the man in the street, to the laborer, and he is the man who truly deserves a break. He has never had one."

VETS FOR NRA, HIT ECONOMY

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 25.—(AP.)—President Roosevelt's NRA program has the indorsement of the men who fought in the Spanish-American War, but the veterans disapprove of his national economy act.

In the closing hours of the annual national encampment yesterday, the United Spanish War Veterans resolved the economy act should be repealed and veterans' benefits restored.

They were told by the new commander-in-chief, W. H. Armstrong, of Racine, Wis., that it was up to them to convince the people of the justice of their cause in asking for increased government compensation. The new senior vice commander-in-chief, Judge Leon McCord, Montgomery, Ala., followed up with the statement the veterans were not "pension-grabbers."

San Antonio, Tex., was awarded the 1935 convention. Next year's encampment will be in Pittsburgh.

LEGION VOTES POLL WATCH

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 25.—(AP.)—Campaigning for a $50,000,000 bond issue which would provide bonuses for war veterans and their dependents, the American Legion plans to place watchers at the polls on November 7.

This step was unanimously approved by the organization's legislative committee, in Philadelphia for the state convention of the legion.

The proposal on the ballots is in the form of an amendment to the state consitution. It would apply to veterans of the Spanish-American and World wars.

Otto F. Messner, of Lancaster, was unanimously elected commander of the Pennsylvania Department, American Legion.

Meeting at the same time, the committee on resolutions approved the National Recovery program, giving it whole-hearted indorsement; elimination of tax-exempt securities, and living wages for all employes.

AUTO INJURES 2 CHILDREN

Two children were in St. Margaret's Hospital today with injuries suffered when struck by an automobile near their homes last night.

The victims, Regis Murphy, 9, of 5307 Butler street, and Patricia Strovolkowski, 4, of 5309 Butler street, were struck by an automobile driven, police said, by Dominic Simbari, 19, of 221 Thirteenth street, Sharpsburg.

Simbari took the children to the hospital and was arrested on a reckless driving charge.

Homer Gamble, 26, of 216 Second avenue, Freeport, was in serious condition in St. Margaret's Hospital, suffering from a fractured right leg and brain concussion received last night when he was struck by an automobile driven, police said, by Harry A. Weaver, 24, of 815 Butler street, Tarentum. The accident occurred as Gamble was crossing East Ohio street at Walker's Bridge.

BAKER CONFERS ON COAL CODE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—Dr. Thomas S. Baker, president of Carnegie Institute of Technology, international authority on coal, is in Washington in conference with officials of the United States Bureau of Mines in consideration of technical details with the coal code.

Dr. Baker is hopeful of reaching an amicable conclusion in the coal situation. He said:

"We are praying that the NRA will be successful and I believe that the plan for national recovery will work out, bringing a revival of business and the reemployment of our people. We are hopeful, too, of wider uses for coal and this will once again bring prosperity to one of our great basic industries."

DEATH TOLL MOUNTS, FLOODS RAGE IN WAKE OF GALE

tia and the Gulf of St. Lawrence, causing a violent electrical disturbance but little damage.

The death toll by states stood as follows: New York, 2; New Jersey, 10; Pennsylvania, 14; Maryland, 10, and Virginia, 11.

Death Toll in State 14; 23 Highway Spans Gone

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 25.—(AP.)—With 14 persons dead and uncounted millions in property damage, Pennsylvania apparently is safe today from further floods resulting from the terrific northeaster which swept the eastern half of the state.

Communications—rail, highway and wire—are slowly being restored. Rivers and creeks which became raging torrents are subsiding.

Twenty-three highway bridges have been swept away, district engineers reported to the State Highway Department. They are trying to reach the locations of five other spans which they think were destroyed.

Reports from Reading estimate the number of homeless in Berks County at 2,500. The swollen waters of the Schuylkill River created a scene of desolation there and caused damage along its entire course to the Delaware River at Philadelphia.

The Delaware and Schuylkill both were withdrawing to their banks today and ferry service was restored almost to normal between Philadelphia and Camden, N. J., terminus for railroads feeding Southern New Jersey.

In southwest Philadelphia 250 families were driven from their homes as dikes disappeared beneath the flood and in York Codorus Creek routed scores more.

York alone estimated its damage at $3,000,000, and Mauch Chunk, pleading that the borough is virtually penniless, asked the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to help it repair damage done to its streets and the homes of its jobless.

All anthracite mining in the vicinity of Hazleton was suspended, some of the miners being forced to hasten from the shafts to escape rising water.

Flooded tracks and washouts hampered service on the Pennsylvania, Reading and New Jersey Central railroads in various parts of the state.

The State Highway Department reported traffic was being maintained on the William Penn Highway, and with detours on the Lincoln Highway, Roosevelt Highway and Lackawanna Trail.

The Susquehanna Trail has three detours.

Child Campers Safe, Priest Dies Hero

GODEFFROY, N. Y., Aug. 25.—(AP.)—Nearly 200 little girls who sang and danced at an amateur show last night while the swirling waters of Neversink River cut them off from anxious relatives on shore, were safe today when the river began to recede. Godeffroy is five miles north of Port Jervis, near the Pennsylvania line.

The girls remained at the Camp Achvah mess hall on a newly formed island after 150 boys had waded and swam to the mainland through a backwash of the Neversink.

The camp became surrounded by water when it was found necessary at 4 p. m. to open Beaver Dam, and an hour later, Cuddebackville Dam. The water thus released caused the river to cut a new channel behind the camp, operated by the Bureau of Jewish Education of New York City.

Farther north, in the Catskill Mountains, today, repairs were rushed for broken dams, highways and railroads after a cloudburst which sent many streams over their banks yesterday, causing the death of a priest and endangering many lives.

Father James Healey, of Holy Trinity parish, New York City, was the hero of the storm. He lost his life trying to reach five marooned women and children in a boat, after two men had been upset and imperiled in a similar attempt earlier in the day.

The tourists were rescued later on ladders rigged by the Kingston Fire Department to form a 300-foot bridge. They were Mrs. Frederick Behrenet and her son, Frederick, 8, and Mrs. James Jordan and her daughters, Jean, 10, and Josephine, 9, all of Ozone Park, Queens.

The village of Fleischmanns, whose residents worried for several hours over the possibility of the collapse of Switzerland Lake Dam, was safe today, the waters having receded. Collapse of the dam would have ruined the business section of the village.

Coast Guard Seeking Ship Carrying 12

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—(AP.)—Coast Guard cutters sought the motorship Solarina, a 225-ton craft missing somewhere off the Carolinas with 12 persons aboard.

Communication and transportation lines still were cut in several sections, making the task of checking the total casualties difficult. Virginia, which saw its famous resorts at Ocean View and Virginia Beach battered to wreckage, counted 11 dead and several missing. Property damage was set at $3,000,000, at least.

The nation's capital kept a close watch on the swollen Potomac.

Passengers told how travelers aboard the Eastern Steamship liner Madison knelt in prayer while the damaged ship fought the hurricane. Two lives were lost before the Madison, badly battered, made port at Norfolk yesterday.

Coast Guard Station Abandoned, One Lost

SALISBURY, Md., Aug. 25.—(AP.)—A report was received here today that the Coast Guard station on Wallops Island, Va., had to be abandoned during the storm Wednesday and one of the guardsmen was lost.

From Public Landing, Md., came the report that a boat from the life saving station was washed ashore there and that a large object was seen floating off shore, which persons familiar with the Coast Guard station said was one of the buildings.

Shenandoah Apple, Peach Crops Badly Damaged

WINCHESTER, Va., Aug. 25.—(AP.)—Commercial apple growers today estimated that approximately a third of the crop in the Shenandoah-Cumberland-Potomac belt would be lost or damaged as result of this week's storm which struck practically all orchards in exposed places.

Peach orchards also suffered in the storm and, although much of the commercial crop had been picked, thousands of baskets which remained on the trees were swept away.

Bethlehem Axman Dies In Flooded Camp

LAPORTE, Pa., Aug. 25.—(INS.)—Flood waters receded slowly at the Jakerville forest camp near here today after taking one life and destroying considerable property.

New equipment was rushed here from Philadelphia to replace shattered tents. The supplies also contained blankets and bunks for C. C. C. members.

George Kester, of Bethlehem, was carried to his death by raging waters of the Loyalsock Creek, which overran its banks.

Water Impure From Storms, Appel Warns

HARRISBURG, Aug. 25.—(AP.)—Dr. Theodore . Appel, secretary of health, today warned that unless "unusual precautions" are taken with water supplies, disease is likely to follow this week's storms..

He said the intensive rain has "scoured the ground and washed filth and polluting matter into the streams." He urged that water be boiled if there was any uncertainty regarding the supply, and admonished water works officials to operate their plants with "increased vigilance."

Farmhands Chant In Gale, Anglers Don Lifebelts

Two McKeesport men came home today from storm-torn Chesapeake Bay with a wierd tale of a night passed on flooded St. George's island, while 47 Negro farmhands, in the same house, prayed and chanted spirituals. The seven white members of the party donned life preservers.

Frank Johnson, police mechanic, of 2609 Kansas avenue, and Harvey Sharpe, police driver, of 1910 Federal street, McKeesport, were in a fishing party on the island.

Wind and tide piled water up eight feet deep and drove everyone to the second story of the cabin.

HERRON BACKS 2-JOB MAN

Mayor Herron said today there was no doubt in his mind that George C. Metzier could legally serve as a police magistrate. The point had been raised that Metzier, because he is a member of the Legislature, could not hold two such jobes.

The Mayor said he would appoint Metzier to succeed William R. McNamara in Oakland Police Court.

McNamara's ruffled political feelings will no doubt be soothed with his transfer to the Mayor's payroll as a statistician.

Tired From Storm, Beery Lands Plane

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 25.—(AP.)—Wallace Beery, Hollywood motion picture star, brought his plane down at Port Columbus last night and streaked for a bed.

Beery, who said he had fought rough weather all the way from Amarillo, Tex., was visibly fagged. He planned to go on to New York today by air if the weather eases up, he said. If not, he'll take a train and then board the Berengaria for a rest voyage to Europe.

40 PASSENGERS TAKEN OFF SHIP

International News Service

BALTIMORE, Aug. 25.—The 40 passengers stormbound on the steamer City of Norfolk in Pokomoke Sound for the past 72 hours were removed from the vessel early today and started for Norfolk on the tug Peerless.

The Peerless and the tug Restless raced to the aid of the vessel which was run aground by her skipper in escaping the storm which swept the Virginia capes. The vessel was discovered by Navy aviators as they flew over the storm-strewn section of the eastern shore.

None of the passengers sustained injury.

Gales Free Deadly Gas at Baltimore

BALTIMORE, Aug. 25.—(AP.)—A warning was issued yesterday that a number of cans containing a deadly poisonous gas were floating in Baltimore Harbor.

The cans were stored at the quarantine station in Curtis Bay and were washed away when the store room was flooded.

The gas was for use in fumigating ships.

POWER POLICY GUARDS PUBLIC RIGHTS

Universal Service.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—A new bill of rights for the protection of the American power consumer was promulgated today by David E. Lilienthal, director of the Tennessee Valley Authority, in a statement on future policy by the federal government regarding public and private power development.

The declaration, made coincidently with the driving of the first survey stake of the Muscle Shoals-Norris Dam transmission line in Tennessee, stated:

1—Public interest in the widest possible use of power is superior to any private interest.

2—Where public and private interest conflict, public interest must prevail. But the interests should be reconciled if possible.

3—The right of any community to own and operate its own electric plant for protection against unreasonable rates is undeniable. This may take the form of purchase of existing facilities or construction of a competitive system.

Lilienthal said the Tennessee Valley Authority will take into consideration possible injury by its program to privately owned utilities, but this is not a determining factor. He said:

"The most important considerations are the furthering of the public interest by making power available at the lowest rate consistent with sound financial policy, and accomplishment of the social objectives which low cost power make possible. We cannot decline to take action solely because it would injure a privately-owned concern."

Poison Victim Found Lying in Road, Dies

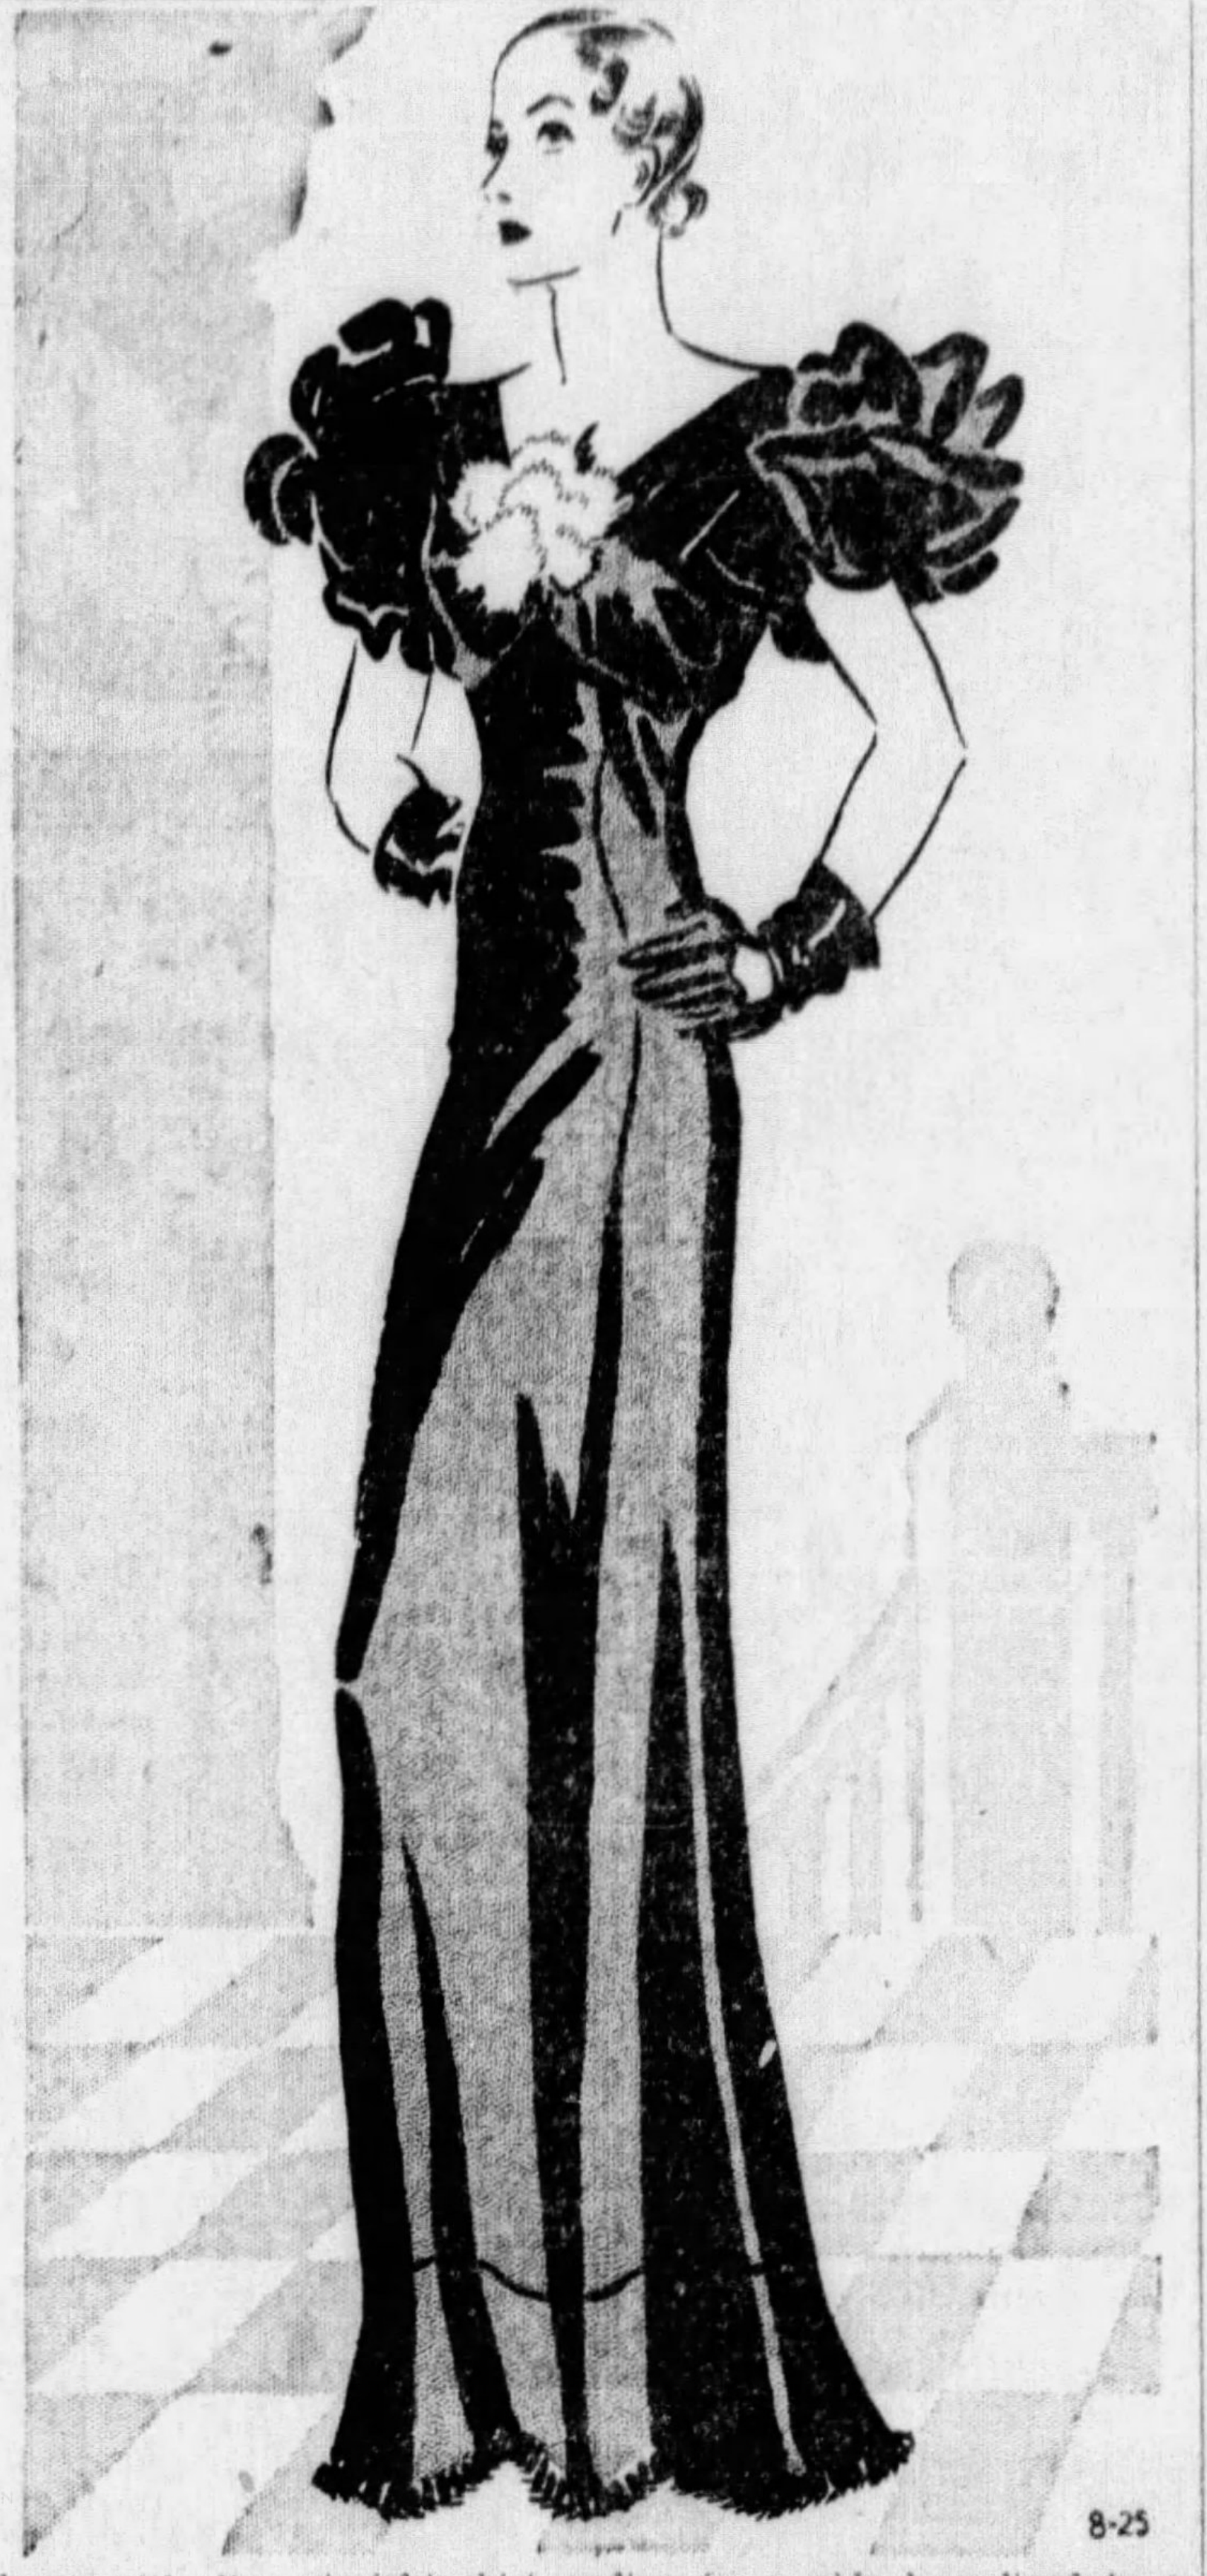
Stanley Mejelski, 45, of R. D. No. 2, Sharpsburg, died last night in St. Margaret's Hospital from the effects of poison swallowed near his home, according to a coroner's report.

Mejelski was found unconscious in Sharps Hill road by John Farbacher, of Sharpsburg.

Boy Injured in Fall From Wall at Play

Pushed off a retaining wall in the rear of 2918 Harcums way by a 3-year-old girl last night, George Elias, 6, of 2925 Harcums way, was in South Side Hospital today with a fractured arm. The children were at play. George fell four feet into the brick yard.

PRE-WAR ELEGANCE REPLACES RECENT SIMPLICITY IN DRESS



8-25

TOO MUCH cannot be said in favor of the revival of a pre-war elegance in dress. This attempt has been made before, to be sure, but more or less half-heartedly and nothing ever came of it. Usually this has been explained by the inference that modern life is too simple to lend itself to elaborate clothes.

* * *

NEVERTHELESS, women have tired of barren simplicity. There is every indication that real elegance is with us to stay, because everyone seems ready to abide by the new edict. What woman doesn't love the distinction that comes from wearing exquisite, finely-made clothes?

* * *

THE TRANSITION from simplicity to elegance has already made long strides. Evening fashions lend themselves best to this transformation. A careful study of the silhouette, fabric trends and color charts makes a very clear picture of what to expect for the fall. Unquestionably, there is some elaboration, unquestionably fashions are more elegant and proud.

* * *

MORE AND more the silhouette of the 1860-1890-1910 fashions exert themselves. As you read in our story a few days ago, Mae Westian fashions are an enormous influence. Some designers deny this, admitting only that the recent "She Done Him Wrong" movie was simply an added impetus to a silhouette which was working itself up anyway. A newer Deitrich picture also adds to the signficance placed on mid-Victorian fashions. Whatever inspiration, you may expect to see this type of modified Victorian costume in the evening.

* * *

OF COURSE the figure is extremely modernized. Nothing whatsoever, I'm sure, could persuade us to give even a slight nod of approval to the wasp-waist of those days. Instead we girdle ourselves to look slim and straight. Or like a mermaid.

* * *

EVEN YOUNG girls will be slipped into the tubular, elegant fashions. However, these are made to look youthful in spite of the contrary impression, as a glimpse at the illustration will prove. Quite the quaintest idea in a long time came along with this popular dress—with slim, straight skirt ending in a wide hem lined in a pleated frill, commonly called the dust-ruffle. In movement, the heavily pleated ruffle comes out from hiding under the hem. A familiar type is of black taffeta, with a rose-quartz tulle pleated under-frill. A much more unusual example which we've seen has a pale faded blue flounce under a deep plum satin dress. Simply delightful. In profile, the double pouffed sleeves jut out at the back, giving the newest "Winged Victory" silhouette.

* * *

IF YOU were drawing a complete picture with the rest of the costume to complement this dress, the gloves may match the dress fabric. The evening wrap would be so long it would probably completely hide the gown underneath. The coiffure would be sleek, to look carefully dressed. Either a jeweled ornament, or two little black velvet bows would be tucked behind the ears. In general, you should be impressed with the fact that the costume is carefully put together, although heaven knows it need not be expensive so far as dollars and cents are concerned.

ACCUSE DOCTOR OF KIDNAPING

ST. PAUL, Aug. 25.—(AP.)—Dr. W. H. Hedberg, St. Paul chiropractor and center of two mysterious events in which he said he had been attacked, was in the city jail today to await a hearing on charges of kidnaping and assault with intent to kill Dr. E. J. Engberg, St. Paul physician.

Hedberg had been held in a hospital since Sunday, when he was found in a stupor along a railroad track, apparently under the influence of a drug, according to the police physician. Hedberg told authorities he had been attacked Saturday night while on his way home.

Filing of the kidnaping and assault charges against Hedberg by police followed their investigation of an att[illegible] a month ago on Dr. Engberg, [illegible]o was lured from his home [illegible] then beaten and drugged when he refused to perform a mutilating operation as demanded by his assailant. Hedberg also was found near the scene of the Engberg attack and said he had been beaten.

AUSTRIA TO GET FREE TRADE

ROME, Aug. 25.—(AP.)—Diplomatic circles predicted today that the creation of free zones at Trieste for both Austria and Hungary will result from the meeting last week-end between Premier Mussolini and Chancellor Dollfuss of Austria.

Such free zones would permit a lower overhead on the imports and exports of the two nations. Trieste was a free zone for Czechoslovakia after the war, but that nation did not use that Italian port, which is at the head of the Adriatic.

It was reported that Austria and Hungary will have the right to form mercantile headquarters at Trieste, but the general belief is that neither country is in position to acquire a fleet.

Premier Mussolini is reported to have agreed on preferential treatment for Austrian goods entering Italy and on the purchase of increased amount of such goods.

Pennsy Employes Honor Retiring Man

A purse of $100 will be presented John C. Holley, veteran boilermaker, by 300 fellow-employes at the Twenty-eighth street shops of the Pennsylvania Railroad today. Holley, who lives at 12 Leslie street, Ingram, retired from active duty August 1, after 43 years of service.

AGELESS BEAUTY

Priceless is the glamour of a flawless skin. And Palmolive's secret blend of olive and palm oils helps to bring out that skin glamour

THERE'S something breath-taking about a lovely skin. It makes a woman seem young, whatever her years may be. And if such a skin is your desire, let Palmolive—the soap of youth—do all it can to help you.

Palmolive is blended of olive and palm oils—just these pure, cleansing, vegetable oils—and nothing else. The secret of Palmolive's beauty results lies not only in its beauty ingredients—but also in its exclusive blend—a blend unlike any other . . . a blend which has made Palmolive the biggest selling beauty soap in all the world.

Olive oil—nothing else—gives it that soft, rich green color, a color that assures you of natural purity and safety. Olive oil, too, gives Palmolive a velvety lather, which penetrates the tiny pores, freeing them of accumulations easily . . . leaving skin soft, smooth, gloriously clear and fresh. Palmolive truly casts a veil of loveliness over your skin.

Buy three cakes today. Then start this 2-minute treatment recommended by over twenty thousand beauty specialists: every morning and evening, massage a rich lather of Palmolive Soap gently into the skin with your hands; rinse it off with warm water, then with cold. Do that twice every day for a month. Soon you'll discover what Palmolive can do to help you create a more glamourous skin and a more enchanting you.

LIQUOR TO FLOW AS 36TH STATE VOTES WET

After repeal — what? Will there be an adequate supply of liquor? What will it cost? These questions are answered in a series of four articles, of which this is the last.

By ARTHUR HACHTEN
Universal Service.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—Hard liquor will begin to flow legally the instant the 36th state ratifies the Twenty-first Amendment and not several days later when Secretary of State Hull formally proclaims what everybody will have known.

Assistant Secretary of State Harry Payer, in charge of law interpretation in the State Department, gave this as his opinion. It is the ratification and not the proclamation that consummates the repeal, he said.

State laws which the eighteenth amendment supercedes automatically will govern. And if you happen to be in wet territory the moment the thirty-sixth state has ratified repeal, and if you do things forbidden by the amendment, no one is likely to say to you nay.

19 CAN SELL LIQUOR

Distilled spirits can be sold legally in only 19 states as the state laws stand today. Several states are moving to repeal constitutional inhibitions and establish systems of control. Local option is general in wet states.

The 19 states are: Arizona, California, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Illinois, Indiana, Louisiana, Maryland, Massachusetts, Missouri, Montana, Nevada, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Washington and Wisconsin.

Should the amendment be repealed before Congress convenes in January—and that appears certain—the dry states are going to have to do battle alone. The twenty-first or repealing amendment empowers Congress to aid them.

PRICE TO RECEDE

For a while after repeal you will have to pay around $3 a pint for straight, uncut whisky, officials estimated, in view of the scant supply. Swiftly the market will be flooded with "cut" or rectified whisky and that will bring down the price. Genuine whisky well aged, will be used as a base for "cut" whisky, adding alcohol, distilled water, coloring and flavoring to fill the bottle.

Congressional leaders are figuring to jack up the tax on distilled spirits. There is talk of making the levy on whisky about $3 a proof gallon in place of the present $1.10. The import tax of $5 a gallon also probably will be hoisted, with a view to protecting the market for domestic goods. But by the time Congress gets around to levying the new taxes, the deluge from abroad will have been tremendous.

About $500,000,000 annual revenue from distilled spirits and beer is estimated.

FLORIDAN KILLS GIRL, SELF

HAVANA, Aug. 25.—(AP.)—The bodies of a man and a girl, identified by their companion as Worth H. Seldman, 45, of Sarasota, Fla., and Mary Ann Shefferd, 13, were found in a hotel room early today by authorities who said the man committed suicide after shooting the girl.

Claudie Jones, of Largo, Fla., who accompanied the pair here, said they arrived from Miami by plane two weeks ago, that the man registered under the name of Edwards, and that she did not know the girl's address.

The United State consulate informed the man yesterday that charges, the nature of which she did not learn, had been filed against him in the United States, Miss Jones asserted.

TRADERS HOME FROM OHIO

Thirty Pittsburgh business men returned to Pittsburgh last night after a two-day goodwill trip through Ohio. The trip was made by bus, and was the third of its kind this summer.

The last place visited yesterday was Alliance, where the tourists were guests of the Kiwanis Club. They were welcomed by Municipal Judge J. J. Brown. Walter Rosenbaum was chairman of the tour.

Official Derides Stoker at Prison

DENVER, Aug. 25.—Hearty laughter from the state executive council today greeted a request for an automatic stoker at the state prison.

"It seems to me with 900 men capable of lifting a shovel, an automatic stoker would be out of place in the prison," B. F. Stapleton, council secretary, commented.

All in a Day

By Mark Hellinger

A Very Simple Story.

I HOPE I can do justice to this story, but I doubt it. The tale is so simple and so very beautiful. It should be written beside a babbling brook, among the flowers and the trees, instead of in a hospital room, where the walls seem to grow closer and closer with each linger day. Oh, well—

Into a small town in New Jersey not so very long ago there moved a family of three: father, mother and son. The boy was about 16 years of age, and he immediately registered in the local high school. He was an extremely quiet youth, and he never spoke unless he was spoken to.

When spring rolled around, talk of baseball filled the air and almost a quarter of the students in the small high school turned out for the team. Among them was the quiet youth who was known to so very few.

The coach, a well-liked individual who was also one of the English instructors in the school, took a number of names directly after the opening practice. Before long, he was talking to the quiet youth.

"What's your name, son?" he inquired.

"Frank Smith, sir," was the reply.

"What position?" asked the coach.

"Trying out for pitcher, sir," replied the youth. "Don't know if I'll quite make the grade, but I'm willing to try."

"That's the spirit, son," remarked the coach idly. "We haven't got a really good pitcher this year and if you show anything at all, you'll be one of us."

"Thank you very much," said Frank Smith . . .

It didn't take the coach—and the other players—very long to find out that the boy had been too modest. By the end of the week they were all aware of the fact that this newcomer was a whale of a pitcher.

The coach was highly enthused. He received no extra pay for this work, of course, but he was a great lover of baseball—and youth. And he saw great possibilities in this Frank Smith.

He took an interest in the lad, and he tried various means of overcoming the boy's very evident shyness and diffidence. The word had spread—[illegible] the other kids were already l[illegible]ng upon Frank as something [illegible] hero. But it seemed to make absolutely no difference to the boy

Shortly before the first game of the season, he approached the coach.

"Mr. Williams," he said hesitantly "I—I wonder if I might ask a favor?"

The coach placed an arm around the boy's shoulders.

"Certainly, Frank. What can we do for you?"

The youth shifted from one foot to the other.

"I know," he asserted, "that you don't like to have visitors around during daily practice. But I wonder if you would make an exception in my case?

"My father loves baseball and he's—well, he's not very well. Would you mind very much if I brought him here a few afternoons to watch the practice games? He'll sit in a corner of the grandstand. And, honestly, Mr. Williams, he won't annoy anybody."

The coach had difficulty in restraining a grin.

"That's perfectly all right, Frank. You bring your father down here just as many times as you wish. I don't mind at all."

The youth thanked the coach, and the following day found him escorting his father to the field on which the high school team held its practice. He seated his father at the far end of the tiny grandstand, and on several occasions, he went over to speak to him.

After the ice had been broken, that became a daily ritual. Frank Smith and his father always entered the grounds together, and his dad always sat in the same spot. The coach would have been more than willing to meet Frank's father, but the boy never suggested it. And, knowing Frank as he did, the coach said nothing about it . . .

Frank Smith surpassed his early promise. He had performed well in practice, but in actual games, he was little short of sensational.

The high school team played five games and, with Frank Smith in the box, it won them all. The kid was a grand player, and you can well understand that—in the school—he was the sensation of sensations.

But it seemingly made little difference to him. He didn't change one iota. He still brought his father to the practice games—and he was still as reticent as he had ever been.

The sixth game of the schedule was the biggest game of them all. Frank's school was playing the high school in the next town—and Frank's school hadn't won that game in five years. This year, with Frank in the box, everybody was highly optimistic.

And then, just three days before the game, Frank's father died . . .

At one o'clock on the Saturday afternoon of the big game, the coach was in a quandary. Frank Smith's father had been buried that morning and the boy, of course, hadn't been to practice in three days. It was a tough break after a season of great success.

At two o'clock, just before the game was scheduled to commence, Frank Smith strolled on the field in his uniform. He walked over to the coach.

"If you want to play me, sir," he murmured in his same quiet voice, "I'm ready."

The coach stifled that gulp in his throat. The kid's father, whom he had obviously loved, had been buried but a short time before. And now the boy was on the field, ready to pitch for his high school team. Mr. Williams slapped the boy on the back.

"Go to it, kid," he muttered hoarsely.

The kid did it. He pitched a game that—had the story been known to the editors—would have been placed on the front pages throughout America. He allowed but two hits, and shut out the opposing team without a man getting past first base. It was a remarkable feat under the toughest of circumstances.

After the game, with the cheers still ringing in his ears, Frank Smith slowly walked in the direction of the school gym. The coach walked with him. And as he walked, he gripped the boy's arm.

"God bless you, kid," he breathed. "I'll never forget what I saw you do today. You were wonderful. Your father buried in the morning, and you pitching as you did this afternoon for your team."

"But you don't understand, sir," said the youth. "I did it for my father."

The coach's eyes opened wide.

"I—I don't get you," he stated. "What do you mean—you did it for your father?"

The boy's voice seemed far away.

"You see, sir," he replied, "my father was blind. And the game this afternoon was the first one he ever really saw" . . .

STORE TO OPEN CHILD SECTION

A new and separate department devoted entirely to little children's and girls' apparel will be officially opened Saturday by Boyds, it was announced today.

It will be located on the fifth floor of their building at Smithfield street and Fourth avenue, and will cover nearly 3,200 square feet of floor space. Until now the floor has been empty, except for several business offices.

Additional clerks already have been hired to take care of the new department which has been stocked with the latest wear for children. The store officials said the stock was all bught before the rise in prices and that the apparel will be sold at the lower price.

ELK MARCHERS WIN PRIZES

ALTOONA, Pa., Aug. 25.—(AP.)—Elks' lodges from Connellsville and Philadelphia are prize winners in the big parade that climaxed the order's state convention.

With most men in line of march, Connellsville won $50; Philadelphia, with the best-appearing delegation, won a like sum. Kittanning won second place for best appearance.

The Tyrone American Legion was awarded $75 for the best appearing drum and bugle corps, with Huntingdon second. Apollo took a $50 prize for the best band.

The Voice from the White House

President Roosevelt, in his radio talks, has urged the people to keep their heads and maintain their confidence in America's sound banking institutions.

The Dollar Savings Bank, founded in 1855, is one of the oldest mutual savings banks in the country and the only one in Pittsburgh. It has grown up with the nation.

18 Presidents have been inaugurated since this famous old bank was founded, and during its 78 years of service the nation has passed through several crises, but we have never failed to keep faith with our depositors and pay regular dividends.

Suspect in Erie Murders Freed

ST. PAUL, Minn., Aug. 25.—(INS.)—Lloyd M. Geisel, 43, held here as a suspect in the murder of an aged couple on their farm near Erie, Pa., was released today.

Geisel, who gave his home as Massilon, O., was released after questioning by Otto Bader, a Pennsylvania detective.

Geisel, according to police, presented a satisfactory alibi.

Bomb Protection Asked by Organist

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 25.—(AP.)—Rocco Stanco, a theater organist, today asked police to protect his wife and two small children from persons who, he said, have threatened to bomb his home. Stanco gave detectives several letters he receoved from extortionists.

Police said the threats apparently came from the group which bombed the home of John M. Di Silvestro last January, killing Silvestro's wife.

Military Court To Try Corporal

PANAMA, Aug. 25.—(AP.)—Corp. Ralph Osmn, of Brooklyn, N. Y., will be tried before a military court Monday on a charge of possessing military secrets.

Maj. Charles R. Finley said an investigation showed Corp. Osman had Communistic connections and that no foreign power was involved in the case.

Earthquake Shock Traced to Pacific

LONDON, Aug. 25.—(AP.)—Seismographs in several parts of England registered an earth shock of considerable force at 9:02 a. m. today (5:02 a. m. Pittsburgh time). The waves continued for 25 minutes.

Experts estimated that the epicenter was between 5,100 to 5,300 miles away. One observer said it probably was in the Pacific just south of Alaska.

Oregon Forest Fire Rages On

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 25.—(AP.)—Worn nearly to the point of exhaustion by their days of ceaseless but so far futile effort, nearly 2,000 men kept up today their fight against the worst forest fire in this state's history.

At one place 110 men were forced to fling their tools into Lee Creek and hurry to safety as the flames jumped the fireline ahead of them.

Forest Army Told Men Can Re-Enlist

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—(AP.)—A message from President Roosevelt to members of the civilian conservation corps offering them the opportunity to re-enlist for a second six-month period, if they have no jobs, was transmitted today to the various forestation camps.

The message was sent to the camps through the War Department by Robert Fechner, director of emergency conservation work.

1,600 ATTEND STORE DANCE

Almost 1,600 employes, officials and friends of the McCreery & Co. store danced at Islam Grotto, East Montgomery avenue, last night.

It was the first dance of its kind ever held by the entire store force. It was under the auspices of the store's Mutal Aid Association, of which G. C. Murphy is president.

Just before the dance started a telegram was received by Murphy from Arthur C. Kaufmann, vice president and general manager of McCreery & Co. It was from New York and read:

"Terribly sorry I cannot be with you tonight. Have fun galore."

Other perosns in charge of the dance were S. Baker, Miss Eva Moser and H. Engel.

JAPANESE DENY NAVY DEFI

International News Service.

TOKIO, Aug. 25.—Reports published abroad that Japan has served a virtual ultimatum on the United States protesting against the American "prosperity" naval building program were branded ridiculous in official quarters today.

The reports stated Japan had threatened to build up her own navy and raise import tariffs against American goods unless the United States abandoned her naval construction plans.

It was said that while the American naval program is viewed with disfavor, high officials realize the United States is acting within her treaty rights and is unlikely to scrap her plans should Japan manifest opposition and threaten reprisals.

Oil City Woman, 102, Honored at Picnic

OIL CITY, Pa., Aug. 25.—(AP.)—Mrs. Amanda C. Dickey, Oil City's oldest resident, today celebrated her 102nd birthday with a picnic dinner at Hasson Park. The Mackenzie Bible class of the First Presbyterian Church, of which she is a member, is in charge.

Height, 5 ft. 2 in. Weight, 112 lbs. Waist, 24½ in. Hips, 35 in. Bust, 34½ in.

Millions of you Carole Lombard "fans" will see her new Paramount picture, "Supernatural." And you, like every woman who sees her, will marvel at Miss Lombard's glorious, supple figure.

And remember you, too, can regain or retain the slender figure of youth by faithfully following the safe, sane Hellmann Slenderizing Plan. Just eat two salads a day, covered with Hellmann's Mayonnaise, in place of heavy, fattening foods. You'll be delighted with the results!

Slenderize with Salads!

NO WATER IS ADDED TO REAL MAYONNAISE. Hellmann's Mayonnaise, you know, is made from eggs, fine salad oils, imported spices and selected vinegar—no water is added, no "fillers," no cooking. While even the finest salad dressing, as you see, contains inexpensive "fillers" and water (as much as 30% to 40%) to give added bulk so it can be sold for slightly less than real mayonnaise.

SPEAKING OF "SALAD DRESSINGS"

Carole Lombard

You Don't Pay For Water

.. when you buy Hellmann's Mayonnaise

It's a fact—so-called "salad dressings" contain 30% to 40% water. So naturally they sell for ⅓ less than a fine mayonnaise like Hellmann's

Water is cheap, Miss Lombard—and that's why you pay less for these new "salad dressings."

For even the finest "salad dressing," you know, is nothing more than a cooked-up mixture of water, vinegar and inexpensive cereal "fillers" (as much as 30% to 40%) stirred into a little mayonnaise.

Now do you wonder that "salad dressings" can be sold for less than real mayonnaise? Perhaps, knowing the facts, you wonder why they sell for as much as they do (⅓ less than a true mayonnaise like Hellmann's).

There's no substitute for it

If you can possibly afford it, buy Hellmann's Mayonnaise always. There is no substitute for its fine ingredients—the same ingredients you use in your own kitchen.

Naturally, no "salad dressing" can give you the same delicious flavor, velvet smoothness, and valuable health benefits.

But . . . if you feel that you cannot possibly afford this supremely fine mayonnaise . . . then you be sure to serve the finest salad dressing, which of course is Hellmann's.

A far finer Salad Dressing

We have introduced this fine new Salad Dressing for all those women who feel they cannot afford Hellmann's Mayonnaise . . . and yet want the protection and assurance of highest quality that go with the Hellmann name.

The new Hellmann's Salad Dressing is the finest and purest that can be made. Women who have tried it say it is marvelously smooth in texture and that it tastes good in many types of salads.

Here, you can be sure, is one salad dressing that is offered to you honestly, that you can buy safely . . . the one salad dressing that is backed by the Hellmann name and reputation.

At all grocers. Never more than 10¢ for the half pint. Never more than 19¢ for the full pint.

Patricia Pitt's Sprightly Comment on Pittsburgh Society Happenings

In Mayfair —With— Patricia Pitt

Christmas week, with its ever-festive air and its holly and tinsel, is a happy choice for the coming out parties of this winter's debs, but only one has chosen Christmas day to bow, so far.

She is Ann Howard Brown, daughter of the Neill S. Browns III, of Maple lane, Shields. And the occasion for her debut is to be a tea dance, in the Edgeworth Club.

Ann has but recently returned from Island Heights, N. J., where she was a guest of the James Leipers and their daughter, Carol, of Philadelphia.

* * *

Dr. and Mrs. George M. Flint, of Puritan road, Rosslyn Farms, have as their houseguests, the Carl Louis Foxes, and their son, Carl Louis, Jr., of Atlanta, Ga., who arrived this week. While they are here, they will also be guests of Dr. and Mrs. H. L. Lake, of Coverdale, Pa., and of Mrs. James E. Miller, Jr., of Trenton avenue, Wilkinsburg.

* * *

Leave For Tourney

Add travel notes—Betty Abernathy and Barbara Warmcastle left yesterday for the international golf tournament in Chicago. Gretchen Warmcastle also accompanied her sister.

Mrs. William Terrell Johnson sailed last night on the Europa for the continent. While in New York before she sailed, she was registered at the St. Regis Hotel.

Mrs. George Wittmer, Jr., Mrs. Mae Ladley and Mrs. George Kobar are to be hostesses for the regular bi-monthly bridge party at the Wildwood Country Club on Tuesday. Today the women are playing an 18-hole blind bogey tournament.

* * *

Visiting At Fair

The junior Charles A. Painters, of Bennington avenue, have succumbed to the lure of the Century of Progress Exposition, where they have been for several days. They are returning tomorrow.

And tomorrow night J. W. Arrott, of Sewickley, and his daughter, Mrs. Robert McKnight with her three children, Anne, Mary and Charles, are leaving for the fair, and expect to be there a week. The Ralph Gibbses, of Edgeworth, with their son, George, left early this week for Chicago, too.

Marie Wingert To Be Married September 7

A bride of Thursday, September 7, will be Miss Marie Barbara Wingert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wingert, of Frankstown road, who has chosen that day for her marriage to Leo E. Reinsel, of Pittsburgh. The wedding is to be at 10 o'clock that morning in SS. Peter and Paul Church, East Liberty, with the Rev. C. A. Schuler as officiant.

Miss Wingert has asked Miss Helen Hannabach, of Gary, Ind., to be her maid of honor, and Miss Cecelia Heupler, of Braddock, is to be the bridesmaid. Lourene Furrer, small cousin of the bride-elect, will be the flower girl. Clifford Reinsel, of New Bethlehem, is to be his brother's best man, and ushers will include Ross Reinsel, of Erie, and Frederick Heupler, of Braddock.

The bridegroom-elect attended Duquesne University.

Miss Geraldine Engle Marries Jay N. Rigney

A bride of Monday was Miss Geraldine Engle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Engle, of Jeannette, who married Jay Naly Rigney, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Rigney, of Manor, at a quiet ceremony in the parsonage of St. Mark's Lutheran Church, Jeannette. Officiating was the pastor, the Rev. Charles F. Wisler.

The bride wore black and white chiffon velvet made with a jacket and a hat to match. Her shoulder corsage was of sweetheart roses.

After the wedding breakfast in the Engle home for the families, Mr. and Mrs. Rigney left on a Southern motor trip. After September 10 they plan to be at home in Manor.

Pittsburgher Married To Connecticut Girl

Last night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. William W. Gordon, of Hazardville, Conn., their daughter, Miss Lois Covil Gordon, and Lieut. Commander William John Kossler, of Pittsburgh, were married by the Rev. Marian J. Creeger, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Middletown, Conn.

The bride is a member of the staff of the Boston Museum of Fine Arts, and the bridegroom is stationed on the United States cutter Modoc, of the United States Coast Guard, Wilmington.

Mary Anne DeDominic Marries C. J. Marquis

Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas DeDominic announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Mary Anne DeDominic, to Chester James Marquis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ward Marquis, of Homewood.

The ceremony took place yesterday morning at 9 o'clock in Holy Rosary Church with the Rev. D. J. Malady officiating. Miss Olympia Migliare was the maid of honor and Grant Marquis served as best man.

Miss Esther Curran To Wed Harry Levine

Mrs. Morris Curran, of Jackson street, East End, announces the engagement of her daughter, Miss Esther Curran, to Harry Levine, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hyman Levine, of Mellon street. No time is set for the wedding.

Palsaide Club to Give Corn Roast Tomorrow

A corn roast will be held at Raccoon Lakes tomorrow evening by the Palsaide Club. The club's new officers are Miss Hilda Greenberg, president; vice president, Miss Gladys Greenberg; secretary-treasurer, Miss Sadie Huston. Miss Molly Paris is social chairman.

Corn Roast to Be Given By Queen's Daughters

Both club members and guests are invited to the corn roast and dance which the Queen's Daughters of Pittsburgh Council of Catholic Women, will have on Monday evening in South Park. Miss Mary Agnes Noe is chairman.

Constance Hoyt to Wed R. S. Childs

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—(Special)—Mr. and Mrs. Harold Shurtleff, of Williamsburg, Va., announce the engagement of Mrs. Shurtleff's daughter, Miss Constance Hoyt, to Richard Storrs Childs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Starling W. Childs, of 640 Park avenue Norwalk, Conn. The wedding will take place in September.

Miss Hoyt is a daughter of the late Henry M. Hoyt, Jr., of Washington, and a granddaughter of the late Henry M. Hoyt, who was solicitor general in President Theodore Roosevelt's and president William Taft's administrations, and on the maternal side, of the late Richard Wayne Parker, member of Congress from New Jersey for 23 years.

Miss Hoyt attended the Ethel Walker School and made her debut in this city two seasons ago.

Mr. Childs was graduated from Groton in 1928 and from Yale in 1932. He is a grandson of the late Albert H. Childs, of Pitts- and the late Charles A. Coffin, one of the founders of the General Electric Company.

Mrs. Waechter Hostess For Scholarship Bridge

Mrs. Ernest R. Waechter is to be hostess on Wednesday at a bridge-luncheon in her Bradford Woods home. The affair is a benefit for the scholarship loan fund of the Bradford Woods Civic Club, of which she is chairman.

Miss Irma Fleischer Marries S. B. Bruder

Mr. and Mrs. William Fleischer, of Squirrel Hill, announce the marriage Wednesday evening, of their daughter, Miss Irma Fleischer, to Sam B. Bruder, of Beechview. Officiating was Rabbi Charles Weiss. After September 1, Mr. and Mrs. Bruder will be at home in Sherbrook street, Squirrel Hill.

Women Voters to Give Mayoralty Luncheon

A mayoralty luncheon, with all the candidates present, is the opening event scheduled by the Allegheny County League of Women Voterrs. It is set for Friday, September 8, at 12:15 in the Fort Pitt Hotel.

Mrs. Drexel Asked Bride of Son to Wear Her Veil

By CHOLLY KNICKERBOCKER
Universal Service.

NEW YORK.—If, as reports would have you believe, Mrs. Anthony J. Drexel, Jr., is still upset at the sudden marriage of her son, "Tony" Drexel III, and Helen Avis Howard, last Saturday in Walhalla, S. C., just what, in the past few days, happened to make her adopt an unfriendly attitude?

The senior Mrs. Drexel knew the former Helen Avis Howard long before her son met her, and I happen to know that some weeks ago, when Helen was visiting in Nassau, Mrs. Drexel discussed Helen's marriage to her son and insisted that Helen wear her wedding veil.

Mrs. Drexel, Sr., did believe that "Tony" III was a little young to wed—he and his bride are about 21, with but a month's difference in their ages—and the couple, fearing their wedding might be delayed because of this, decided, last Saturday, to take matters into their own hands and get married without too much ado.

An elopement should be no surprise to Marjorie Gould Drexel, for there were two internationally famous elopements in her family. Her sister, the former Edith Gould, eloped with her first husband, Carroll Livingston Wainwright, and a brother, Kingdon Gould, surprised society many years ago when he secretly married Annunziata Lucci, his mother's Italian governess.

Franklin Girl, Pittsburgher To Marry

Tomorrow is the day named by Miss Paige Campbell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Thompson Campbell, of Franklin, Pa., for her marriage to Thomas Algeo Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis G. Brown, of Pittsburgh. The ceremony will be at 11:30 o'clock in St. John's Episcopal Church, with the Rev. Dr. Martin Aigner, rector, officiating.

Miss Jean Graham, of South Bend, Ind., schoolmate of the bride-elect's at National Cathedral School, will be maid of honor, and Edward Bodine, of Greenwich, is to be best man.

Mr. Brown and his bride are to make their home here.

Library Club Juniors Plan Four Meetings For Next Month

MRS. CHARLES M. BREGG

One of the few clubs that has no summer recess is the Junior Auxiliary to the Woman's Library Club of Knoxville. Not only has it functioned in various ways during July and August, but it has four dates on the September calendar, a meeting on the fifth at which Miss Karen Fladoes is to speak, a corn roast on the ninth, a progressive dinner on the twentieth and the president's reception (for Mrs. Bernard J. Barth) on the twenty-sixth.

October's events, as listed in the good-looking year books, are a "kid party," a bridge party (this in Utility Hall,) a bake sale and a Hallowe'en party and for November there are the regular meeting with Mrs. E. R. Davis, district chairman of Juniors, as the speaker, a bridge luncheon, a dinner-dance and the distribution of Thanksgiving baskets.

Baskets will be distributed again at Christmas, scrap books will be presented to the Children's Hospital and toys to the children's ward at St. Joseph's Hospital. The members will also have a gift exchange at their meeting. C. H. Lehmann, of McCann's, is to give a food talk in January and the month will also include a covered dish dinner and a visit to the Gulf better homes exhibit. February promises to be a busy month socially for it is to bring a valentine party, a salmagundi party and a bridge luncheon.

Mrs. James G. Chalfant has been asked to address the members on the occasion of their tenth anniversary in March. There's a bridge party and a "talent night" that month, too, and in April a fashion show and a shower for the needy. An antique exhibit, a mother and daughter banquet, a bridge party, the annual election, annual luncheon and a land party are the year's concluding events.

D. V. Murdochs Entertain Metropolitan Singer

Arthur Anderson, Metropolitan Opera Company basso and former Pittsburgher, who has been the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. David V. Murdoch, of Wellesley avenue, is leaving Saturday. Mrs. Murdoch, president of the Tuesday Musical Club, entertained with an informal dinner last night in Mr. Anderson's honor and a number of other informal affairs have been given for him since his arrival.

Scholarship Heads Renamed, Grant 26 Awards

Officers and directors of the Allegheny County Scholarship Association were unanimously reelected at a meeting held yesterday morning in the Board of Education Building. They are: Chairman, Mrs. D. Edwin Miller; vice chairman, Charles F. Lewis and Sidney A. Teller; secretary, Mrs. Grace Martin Cornelius; treasurer, Miss Martha G. Hoyt; directors, Dr. C. E. Dickey, Dr. Ben G. Graham and Dr. Anthony M. Goldberger.

Out of the 45 applications for scholarship, 26 were granted, funds being available for this number only. Guy Baskerville, head master of the University School, offered two scholarships of $750 each for boys, one to be from the city and one from the county.

Although this is a county organization applications for scholarships were received from several places outside the county and one from the state of Louisiana.

Miss Margaret Reilly Honor Guest in Chicago

Miss Margaret Reilly, Marlborough street, has been spending a month at the Edgewater Beach Hotel, Chicago, as the guest of her cousins, Dr. and Mrs. Sergius P. Grace. Dr. and Mrs. Grace have entertained for her with a dinner dance at the Edgewater Beach Hotel during the last week and also with a dinner party at the Edgewater Golf and Country Club.

"A FREAK REDUCING FAD ALMOST RUINED MY HEALTH"

I looked perfectly ghastly..

I was dieting following one of those freak reducing fads. True, I was losing weight, but at what a price! My color was sallow: my skin drawn and lifeless. I was on the verge of a complete breakdown. With dizzy spells, heart palpitation, energy gone, I was headed for a serious collapse..

Until I met Mary..

My husband's sister, a graduate nurse, told me I was crazy. "Dieting," she said, "doesn't mean starving yourself to death. Calories make weight. Be sensible and substitute Welch's Pasteurized Grape Juice for high calory foods. Then you'll lose weight, but keep healthy."

I couldn't believe her..

"But Welch's Grape Juice is sweet and sweets are fattening," I said. "Not always," she replied. "Welch's simple grape sugars are quickly absorbed and used, and hence not stored as fat. Besides, its potassium tends to remove unnecessary water from the body's tissue."

Just look at me now..

I bought Welch's, drank it freely. Following the Welch Way to Weight Control was simple and easy. I lost pound after pound and never felt better in my life. Today my weight is normal, my figure girlishly slender. Why don't you try the "Welch Way to Weight Control" too?

the Welch way to weight control

The Welch Way is quite the most pleasant reducing method known. Physicians endorse it because Welch's satisfies that craving for sweets and rich, fattening foods. Taken in connection with proper diet, fat disappears, energy increases. People everywhere report that the Welch Way to Weight Control has made them more vigorous and alert than they had felt in years.

Start right in today. Get a bottle of Welch's from your dealer: drink a glass before breakfast, once or twice during the day, and before retiring. Because of its purity, Welch's may be diluted with one-third water, and many prefer it so. Continue—and in a few days you will experience the wonderful difference.

IMPORTANT: Be sure to insist on Welch's, because it is the Welch Process that retains in the bottled juice the healthful properties of ripe grapes so essential to the system. Only Welch's is Certified-Pure and Pasteurized. It contains no adulterants, no synthetic flavors, no artificial coloring, no preservatives, no water, and no tartaric acid crystals. Lowest price in 35 years.

FREE! Mail coupon for booklet "Keeping Your Weight Down." It gives full particulars of the Welch Way to Weight Control, tells you how to reduce healthfully delightfully.

Parents: Mail coupon for booklet "Red-Blooded Children." It tells how Welch's helps amazingly to restore rosy cheeks and buoyant energy to run down anemic children.

THRONGS HELP POPEYE MARK BIRTHDAY

All roads today lead to Kennywood—at least for the boys and girls of Pittsburgh. This is Popeye's Birthday and this popular old character of the Sun-Telegraph comic pages is celebrating by giving a party at this big amusement park. It is expected that no less than 7,000 kiddies will be at Kennywood. They have been supplied with strips of free tickets for the popular rides and attractions, and the street car company has issued a 15-cent pass good for today only.

In honor of his birthday Popeye is cutting the biggest cake ever made in Pittsburgh. It weighs 250 pounds and was made by Rhea's.

Old Popeye is going to drift around among the kiddies all afternoon and evening and will be the judge in the contest for the best juvenile Popeyes and Olive Oyls.

It is really going to be a gala day in the life of this pugnacious, two-fisted old comic, and Manager Brady McSwigan, of Kennywood, has completed plans that will make it a greater day for the kiddies.

HEADS CRACKED IN IRISH RIOT

International News Service.

WATERFORD, Irish Free State, Aug. 25.—Residents of this city nursed cracked heads and bruises today in the wake of wild scenes during which police broke up a "blue shirt" meeting.

Gen. O'Duffy arrived to address members of his "blue shirt" organization, which has been outlawed by the government, only to find police in possession of the hall in which he was scheduled to speak.

He attempted to address his supporters from a hotel window, but between the cheers of his adherents and the boos of his opponents he gave it up after several tries.

Police swung their clubs with vigor to keep the rival factions apart.

Stamp Cut May Lower Worth Of Autographs

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—(AP.)—If Postmaster General Farley brings the letter rate down to two cents, autographs of five women in the United States will be worth one cent less each.

They are the widows of presidents. The name of each, written by herself on the front of an envelope, is the equivalent of a three cent stamp—good to carry a letter in this country, Canada, Mexico, Cuba, Panama, or New Foundland.

By special act of Congress, the franking privilege was accorded Frances F. Cleveland Preston, Mary Lord Harrison, Edith Carow Roosevelt, Edith Bolling Wilson, and Helen H. Taft.

AMUNDSEN FIND SPURS HUNT

International News Service.

MOSCOW, Aug. 25.—Firm belief the mystery surrounding the disappearance of Raold Amundsen, noted arctic explorer, will soon be solved was expressed today by Gen. Umberto Nobile, Italian dirigible expert.

Amundsen and three companions dropped from sight several years ago while searching in the Arctic wates for Nobile and members of the crew of the ill-starred dirigible, Italia.

Nobile, who is in Russia supervising airship construction, based his belief on reports from Tromsoe, Norway, that fishermen had found an aluminum sheet believed to have been part of Amundsen's plane near Bear Island, off Spitzbergen.

Nobile said:

"The last news from Amundsen was a radio from the Barentz Sea, not far from the place the aluminum sheet was found.

"No other plane has ever been lost in that vicinity. I consider it highly necessary for search to be continued in that region."

140 Mexicans Bound For Prison Island

MEXICO, D. F., Aug. 25.—(AP.)—One hundred and forty prisoners, about half of them convicted of murder, boarded a special train today to go to the Tres Marias Prison Island on Mexico's west coast.

Three women were in the group, the government has set aside one of the islands for female prisoners.

Delay in Appointing Registrars Explained

—By MARK SHIELDS—

The Board of Registration Commissioners, which should have completed the work of naming registrars August 15, still has the job unfinished. There are, however, mitigating circumstances, for the board has been working indefatigably since some of its members received admonitions from Gov. Pinchot over the telephone a short time ago that he did not want any funny business.

Mr. Shields

In theory and the letter of the law the board should be non-partisan and non-factional, but this is another instance when theory and practice do not always dovetail toward the path of idealism. When Mr. Pinchot said he wanted no funny business he meant that he didn't want to see registrars appointed who would try to blockade the path of any friends he might have running for nominations—on any ticket.

Back in 1931 when Mr. Pinchot interposed in registration affairs it was to see that Senator James J. Coyne and P. J. O'Malley, Republican Second Ward chairman, received what they wanted in the way of appointments. There has been a great change since then, and Senator Coyne and Mr. O'Malley this year will get no more than the law compels—which Senator Coyne already has found out.

Three things have held up the work of the board, two easily acceptable and the third a normal condition so long as there is an absence of permanent registration.

First of all, the board is finding that some of the registrars of the past are changing their political affiliations. This is especially the case—almost wholly the situation—where the registrars have heretofore been appointed as representative of the Republican party. A number are changing to the Democratic party, a shift undiscovered in time to have everything in order August 15.

* * *

Transferring Allegiance Touches Registrars

One of the best registrars in the past in the Third Ward was reappointed this year as a Republican. The board was flabbergasted when she opened headquarters in her district Monday morning for William N. McNair, one of the Democratic mayoralty candidates. This furnished another example of the way Robert L. Vann is taking Negro voters from the Republican to the Democratic ranks.

There have been similar occurrences of transferred party allegiance in other wards touching registrars.

Another barrier to final appointments was the number of potential registrars who became candidates, thus eliminating themselves. No final view of this situation could be obtained until Tuesday.

But a third and by no means inconsiderable factor has been the battles which have occurred over would-be registrars between clashing sponsors. It would seem that any one with average intelligence and a normal devotion to duty could serve as registrar, but the political leaders set great store by having their own people chosen. This conflict of sponsorship has been responsible in no small measure for the board's difficulties.

It is apparent that this election is to be as honest as any this community has seen for a long, long time. The Board for the Revision and Assessment of Taxes seems to be trying to keep the assessment lists clean. Watchful employes of the office have detected political representatives within the tax room paying off men and women as soon as they had their names placed on the assessment list. Such political agents have been run out.

Voting Machines Valuable Aid

The use of voting machines should be another valuable aid to a clean election, and there is little chance that there will be shenannigans in the Elections Bureau before or after the election—especially after.

Director William T. Rees, director of the bureau, has made arrangements to keep a close check on the machines, during the hours of voting and when the polls close. He is to have representatives who will hasten to the polling places at the closing hour to see that the printed returns are promptly made, and that there is no tampering with the machines by enthusiastic partisan and single-minded boards. In addition, there will be at least one machine inspector in every district, appointed by the County Commissioners, who are at odds with the Republican organization.

Maj. Rees is of the very highest type public official. He takes his responsibilities at face value, and brooks improper interference from no source, friend or foe.

His energy in checking the machines and the printing by the machines themselves will preclude the probability of belated counts and altered figures. The machines themselves will go far toward preventing the old dodge of putting crosses by the names of candidates for whom the voter had no intention of voting.

Greatest danger to the machines comes through the possible improper prevalence of "assistance to voters" in showing them how to run the machines. Diagrams will be in every polling place to show the voter how the contraption votes, and the only proper assistance is for those who are physically incapacitated.

BISHOP HAYES TAKES POST OCTOBER 5

Priests of Pittsburgh To Accompany New Helena Prelate

Bishop Elect Ralph L. Hayes will be installed as head of the Helena (Mont.), diocese October 5, it was announced today by the Rev. James M. Delaney, press chairman.

Consecration of the Beechview priest in St. Paul's Cathedral here will be Sept. 21 by Bishop Hugh C. Boyle. Following the ceremonies, and dinner to visiting priests and prelates, a group of Pittsburgh priests will accompany the new bishop to his Montana diocese.

ARCHBISHOP PRESIDES

Archbishop Edward D. Howard, of Portland, Ore., will preside at the Helena installation services. Bishop Hayes will celebrate the mass, with the Rt. Rev. Victor Day, administrator of the Helena diocese, the assistant priest; the Revs. Stephen J. Sullivan and John B. Pirnat, of Montana, the deacons of honor; the Rev. Denis P. Meade, deacon and the Rev. Emmet J. Riley, president of Carroll College, sub-deacon.

Two days after the consecration here, it was announced, Bishop Hayes will celebrate a pontifical mass in St. Paul's Cathedral for the children of the Pittsburgh diocese. Sisters from the various schools will be notified as to the quota of children they may bring. Father Hayes has also asked that the children of the diocese hear mass and receive communion for his intention on the Sunday preceding his consecration. Father Hayes was formerly superintendent of parish schools.

MEETING SUNDAY

A meeting of men of the diocese, called by Bishop Boyle to make arrangements for reception of the visiting clergy, will be held in the Synod hall, Craig street, Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

The diocese to which the new Bishop Hayes will go is rich in church history. Plans are being made to observe its fiftieth anniversary next March. It is five years older than the state of Montana. The first priest to visit the region was Father Claude de Godfrey Coquart, member of an expedition that left Montreal in 1741. A century later, Father Peter DeSmet pioneered among the Indians. And 20 years before gold seekers came to Montana, Jesuits were there converting the Indians.

'MOON' CLARK IMPROVING

John (Moon) Clark, 25, former Duquesne University football star, injured in the truck accident which claimed the life of the driver and injured three others yesterday at Clairton, is reported improving at McKeesport Hospital.

The others, Vincent Consoli, 49, of 520 Wadell avenue, and Mike Tomaselli, 22, of 531 Wilson avenue, Clairton, remain in a serious condition, according to the hospital report.

Boy Scout Troops Guests at Camp

WILL ROGERS SAYS

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Aug. 25.
To the Editor, Sun-Telegraph:

As usual, Al Smith made the best speech made on the NRA, the most sensible and clear reasoning in support of it. I hope in all this readjustment that some real important place could be found where we could utilize that fellow's good common sense.

And talking about what people sa.d, this McCormick, of Chicago, who has just returned from Germany, editor of the great Chicago Tribune (no, I don't write for it), says very astonishingly, but no doubt truthfully:

"Along with youth of Germany in this war spirit is the women. When bigger wars are made, women will make 'em, as always."

Yours, WILL.

Pitt's 'Most Beautiful', Secret Bride

MR. AND MRS. DONALD SMITH . . . SHE'S DOROTHY DOVEY, PITT'S 'MOST BEAUTIFUL' CO-ED

Don Smith, Pitt's basketball captain, and his bride of a year, Dorothy Dovey, Bellevue, the girl whom Artist McClelland Barclay selected as the most beautiful on the Pitt campus. The marriage was a secret until this week. This is a Sun-Telegraph picture.

Pitt Star, Coed Beauty Reveal Secret Marriage

Romance of Campus Led to Altar Year Ago

For a year Dorothy Dovey, selected by McClelland Barclay as the most beautiful girl at Pitt, rooted for Don Smith, all-American guard and captain of the Pitt basketball team without letting out the secret that he was her husband, it was revealed today.

Although married since August 11, 1932, they did not announce their marriage until last night for, according to Don:

"We thought it best to keep it a secret since I was still in school and was to captain the basketball team. I was afraid it might affect my chances to play."

Mrs. Smith in speaking of their marriage, said:

"I first met Don when he was a senior at Bellevue High School and I was a freshman. We didn't go together, though, until he was a junior in college. Then one day last summer while we were riding, we decided to get married, so chose Warren, Pa., because it isn't well-known."

Mr. and Mrs. Smith have made no definite plans for the fall, but they both agree Pitt's basketball star must return to school to finish his course in dentistry. As for herself, she is undecided as to whether she will return to classes.

Parental blessings have been given by Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Dovey, 520 Teece avenue, Bellevue, and Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Smith, 122 Oakwood avenue, West View, and now the couple agrees:

"Marriage is a fine thing, but we can't realize we're husband and wife, despite the fact we celebrated our first anniversary two weeks ago. Married a whole year. Imagine!"

ROAD PLANS GO TO PINCHOT

The National Highway Traffic Study Association, acting for boroughs west of the Point Bridge, today announced it has submitted to Gov. Pinchot its plan for a four-lane road and tunnels to carry U. S. Routes 22 and 30 from Saw Mill Run boulevard to the Thornburg bridge.

The association proposes a road from McGann's corners along the Carnegie-Crafton-Ingram car line to Obey avenue and tunnel 4,000 feet from there to Valley street. From there a boulevard along the border of Crafton and Ingram would lead to the Thornburg bridge. It is contended the route would permit traffic into Pittsburgh to avoid West End congestion and provide a high-speed road into the city for residents of the southwestern boroughs. The estimated cost is $3,500,000.

ANDERSON NOW POSTAL CASHIER

James B. Anderson, succeeded by Burgess William M. Turner, of Wilkinsburg, as postmaster of Pittsburgh, will remain in the postal service as cashier of the money order division of the local office.

By accepting the invitation of the new postmaster, Mr. Anderson will continue an uninterrupted period of 35 years as a postal employe, during which he advanced from a substitute clerkship to postmaster.

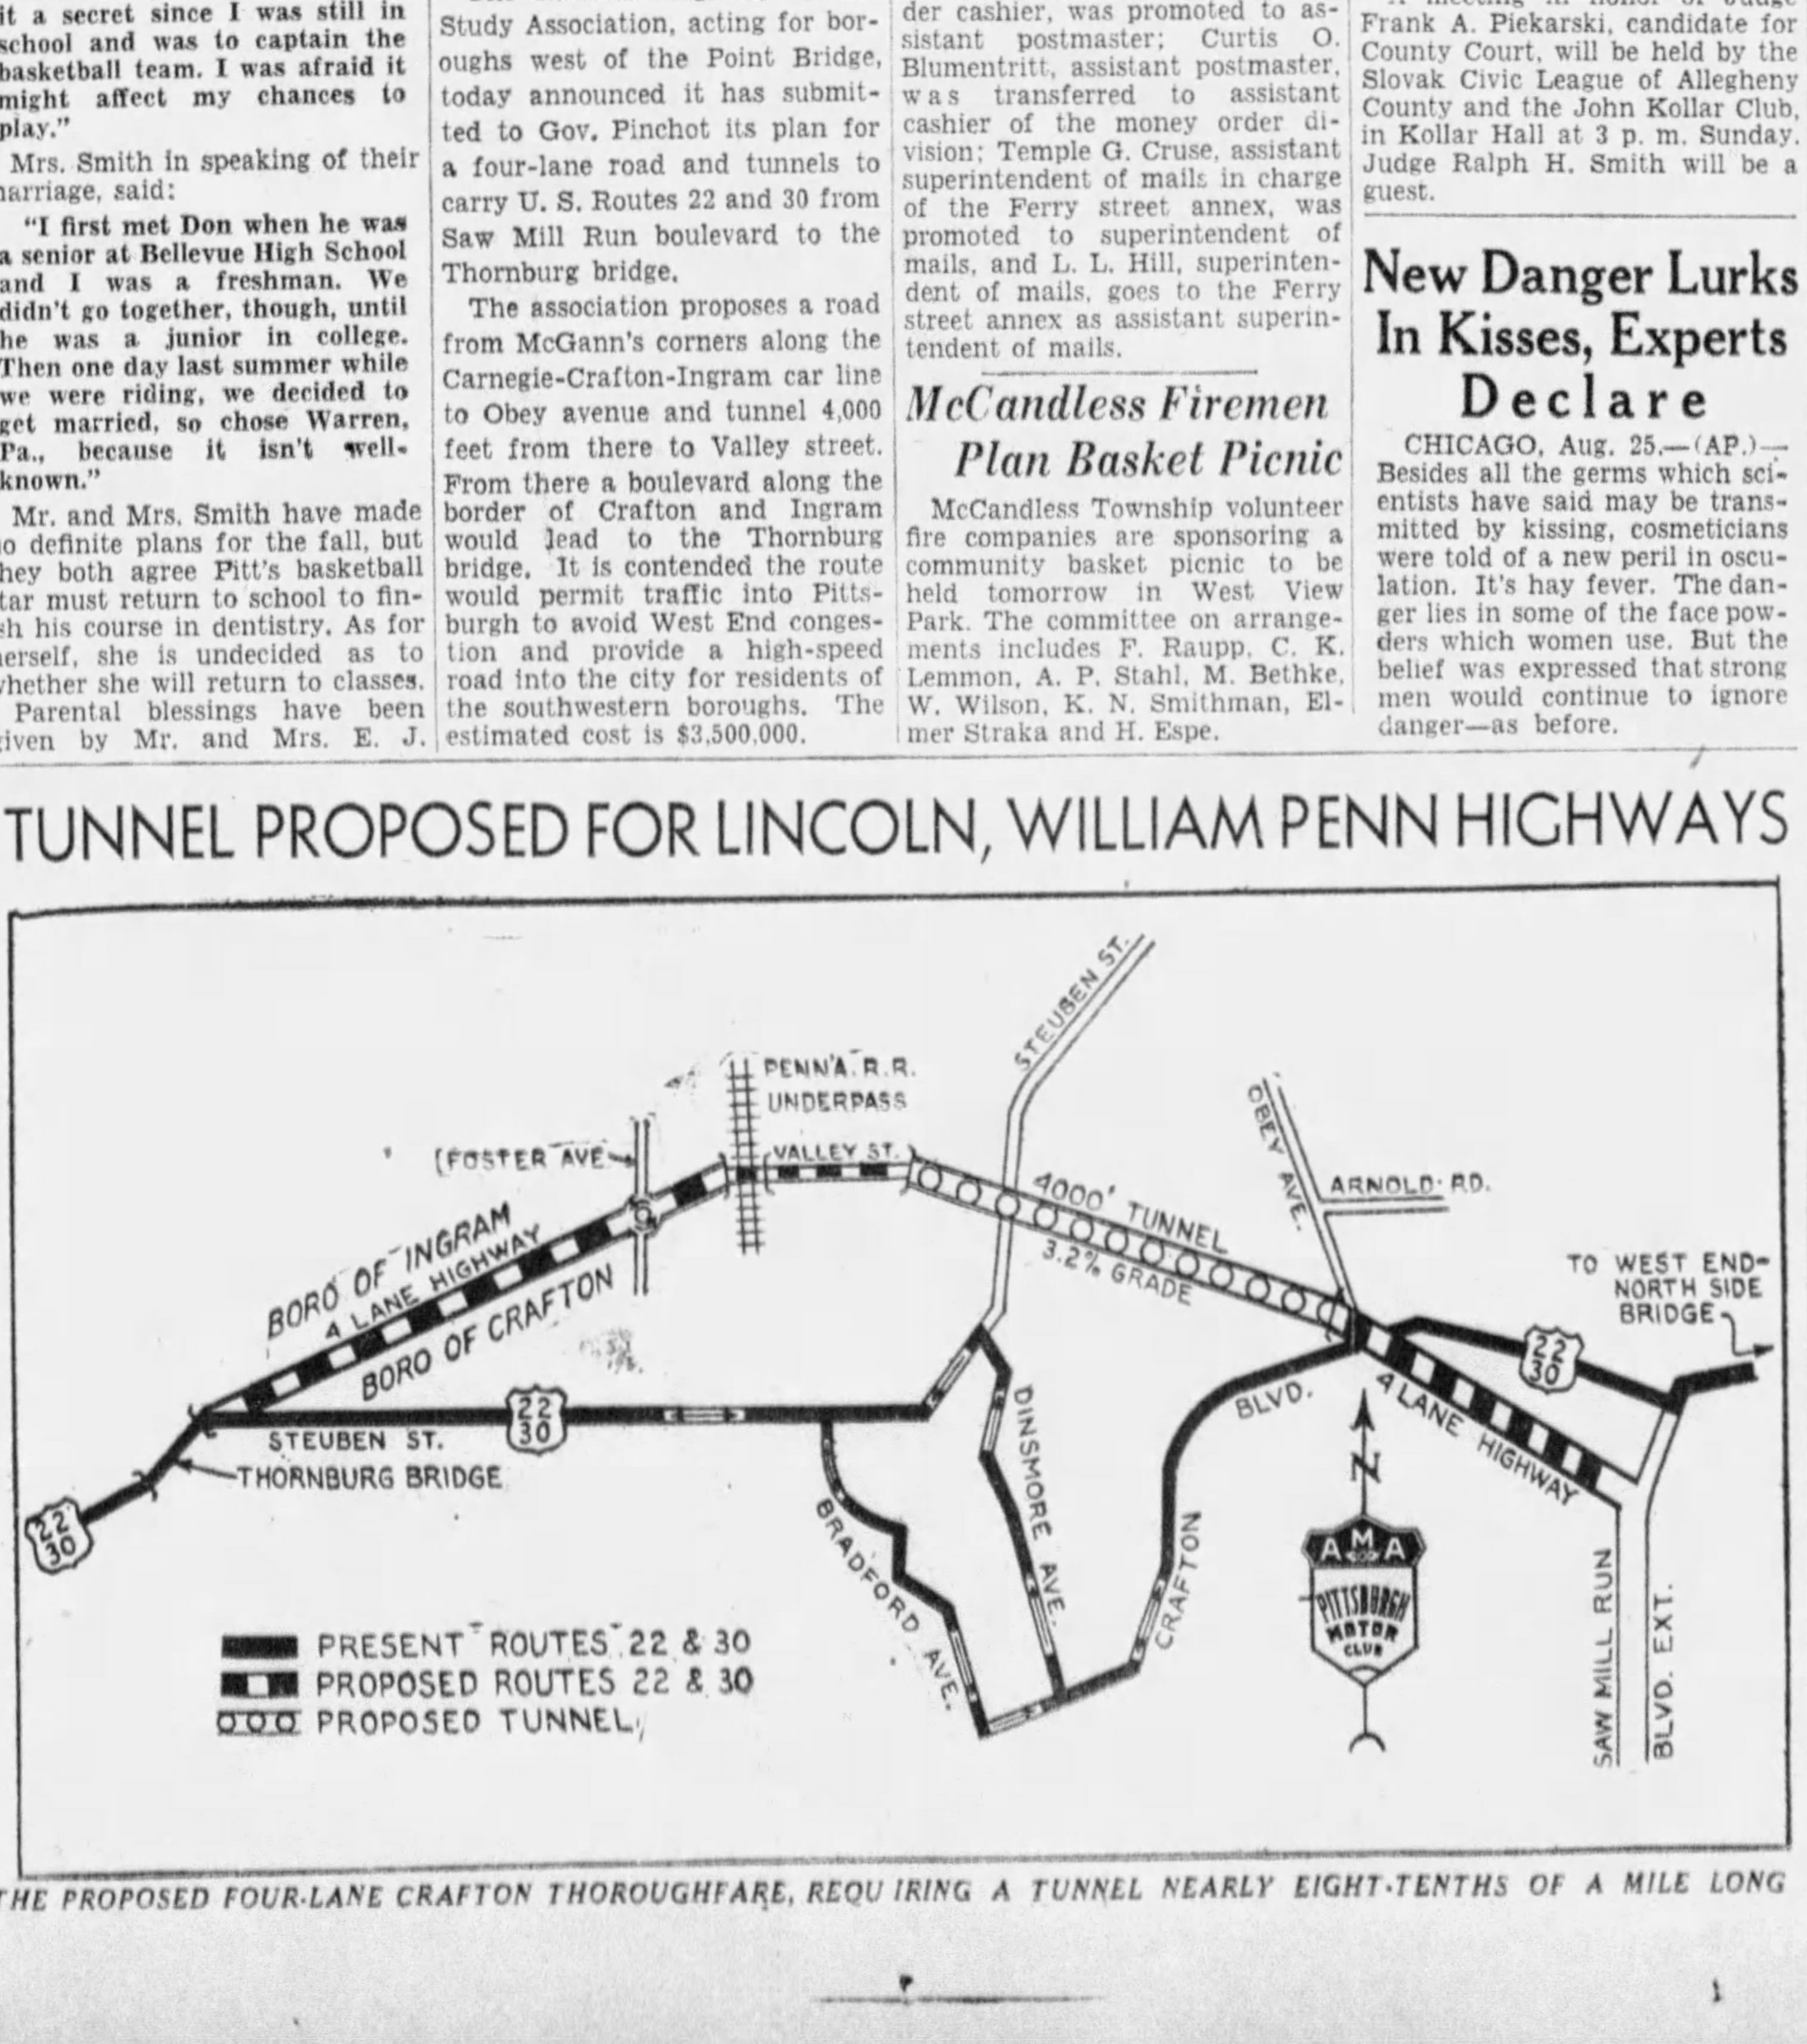
Mr. Turner assumed his new position yesterday. Late in the afternoon he announced the continuance of Mr. Anderson and also other changes in the personnel of the postal service.

Stephen A. Bodkin, money order cashier, was promoted to assistant postmaster; Curtis O. Blumentritt, assistant postmaster, was transferred to assistant cashier of the money order division; Temple G. Cruse, assistant superintendent of mails in charge of the Ferry street annex, was promoted to superintendent of mails, and L. L. Hill, superintendent of mails, goes to the Ferry street annex as assistant superintendent of mails.

McCandless Firemen Plan Basket Picnic

McCandless Township volunteer fire companies are sponsoring a community basket picnic to be held tomorrow in West View Park. The committee on arrangements includes F. Raupp, C. K. Lemmon, A. P. Stahl, M. Bethke, W. Wilson, K. N. Smithman, Elmer Straka and H. Espe.

TUNNEL PROPOSED FOR LINCOLN, WILLIAM PENN HIGHWAYS



THE PROPOSED FOUR-LANE CRAFTON THOROUGHFARE, REQUIRING A TUNNEL NEARLY EIGHT-TENTHS OF A MILE LONG

U. S. ATTORNEY HERE WINS PRAISE

Graham Set Record as Federal Prosecutor, Attaches Say

During the term of Louis E. Graham, of Beaver, as United States Attorney for Western Pennsylvania, which terminates August 31 when H. S. Dumbauld, of Uniontown, Democratic appointee, takes office, there have been convictions in 4,278 criminal cases in the Federal District Court, involving more than 12,000 defendants.

In addition to the large volume of criminal prosecutions Attorney Graham instituted 3,137 civil cases, of which 3,106 have been terminated. In 2,625 the government obtained judgments totaling $165,840.05, of which $43,210 have been realized. In addition to jail, penitentiary and probation terms in criminal cases, there were fines imposed aggregating $586,943.65, of which $337,474.71 were collected. In lieu of payment of fines defendants served in penal institutions.

LONG PUBLIC SERVICE

Mr. Graham, according to court attaches, will leave a record as federal prosecutor never surpassed in this district. He assumed office November 7, 1929.

Mr. Graham has served 22 years in public office. From 1912 to 1924 he served three terms as District Attorney of Beaver County. He was a deputy attorney general of Pennsylvania from 1924 to 1926, and the following three years served as legal administrator for the United States Bureau of Prohibition for Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Maryland.

A resume of his three year and 10 month term as federal prosecutor shows that between November 7, 1929, and August 16, 1933, he instituted 4,744 criminal cases and 4,727 have terminated. There were pleas of guilty in 4,007 cases and 370 jury trials.

DROPS WEAK CASES

Defendants in 99 cases were acquitted and 345 cases were dropped, with approval of the Attorney General, because of insufficient evidence. Five other cases were quashed. When Attorney Graham assumed office 247 criminal cases were pending and August 16 there were 264 cases on the court dockets.

Of the civil cases there were 110 judgments against the government. In 21 of these cases the District Attorney appealed to the Circuit Court of Appeals and two appeals were carried to the United States Supreme Court.

The resume records 10 civil cases dismissed after payment or compromise and 361 other cases dropped for other reasons. Fifty-one of the civil cases were decided by jury trials. When Attorney Graham took office 314 civil cases were on the dockets and 345 were pending on August 16.

Slovaks to Honor Piekarski Sunday

A meeting in honor of Judge Frank A. Piekarski, candidate for County Court, will be held by the Slovak Civic League of Allegheny County and the John Kollar Club, in Kollar Hall at 3 p. m. Sunday. Judge Ralph H. Smith will be a guest.

New Danger Lurks In Kisses, Experts Declare

CHICAGO, Aug. 25.—(AP.)—Besides all the germs which scientists have said may be transmitted by kissing, cosmeticians were told of a new peril in osculation. It's hay fever. The danger lies in some of the face powders which women use. But the belief was expressed that strong men would continue to ignore danger—as before.

Plunged to Death

HAROLD MILLER, 25

Mr. Miller, veteran parachute jumper who plunged to his death near his Pitcairn home when his 'chute failed to open on his 161st leap! His brother and father watched his long fall. This is a Sun-Telegraph picture.

QUIZ 2 DOCTORS IN DEATH

Homicide detectives today will question two physicians who attended Mrs. Marcella McCarthy, 42, of 5560 Avondale place, before she died last Tuesday in Homeopathic Hospital.

They also will confer with Coroner W. J. McGregor concerning Richard Callahan, 34, a boarder at the McCarthy home, whom Mrs. McCarthy accused of beating her, according to Sergt. Samuel Wheeler.

Callahan denies he struck the woman last August 13, but admits that he "gave her a gentle shove" when she attacked him with a chair.

Codes O.K. When They Provide 2 Sundays a Week

By ARTHUR (BUGS) BAER

Nobody can object to a code that gives you two Sundays a week.

The coal code: Papa carries it up in the summer time. It's the wife's job in the winter.

The farm code: All the eggs must be the same shape.

The steel code: That's for the family. We only use the silver knives when we have company.

The wage code: Every Saturday night the happy workers take up a collection to pay the boss' rent.

The Pullman code: The porter makes the dangerous climb into the upper berth and you sleep on the step ladder.

The grain code: Corn and rye remain the same until we hear from 15 more states.

The clothing code: The administration is not responsizle for hats and overcoats.

THOUSANDS SEE DEATH LEAP AT CARNIVAL

Father, Brother Among Horrified Spectators; Lands in Alley

While several thousand spectators, among them his father and brother, watched helplessly, Harold (Red) Miller, 25, East Pittsburgh aerial stunter, plunged to his death last night when his parachute failed to open after he leaped from a plane at a Pitcairn fireman's carnival.

Miller, an experienced parachute jumper with more than 160 jumps to his credit, was featured as an attraction at the carnival of Hose Company No. 1.

Several thousand persons, including his father, C. J. Miller, of 534 Maple avenue, East Pittsburgh, and brother, Carl, 19, watched the plane, piloted by Attorney Cyrus Davis, circle the field as Harold climbed out onto a wing preparatory to the jump.

As he spiraled earthward, his parachute failed to open.

Spectators at first thought it was a stunt, but as he neared the earth, the startled spectators saw him frantically tugging at the rip cord of the first chute. Then abandoning efforts to open the first parachute, Miller pulled the cord of the second. The pilot chute opened, but Miller was less than 200 feet from the ground and the second chute was of no avail.

He crashed in an alley near the home of Burgess M. M. Thompson, of 626 Third street. H. E. McClain, of 715 Fifth street, who witnessed the fall from his back porch, and C. D. Johns, of 615 Fifth street, together with Police Chief W. E. McDowell, of Pitcairn, cut the injured youth from the parachute and summoned Dr. Wayne Backus, who pronounced him dead.

MINISTER FINED AS INTRUDER

The Rev. Calvin McCarol, Negro minister, of 814 Fourth street, McKeesport, and two others were fined on trespass charges and held over on charges of stealing peaches by Justice J. D. Watson, Versailles Township, last night.

The others are Julia Hill, 920½ Jerome street, and Richard Henry, 403 Twenty-seventh street, McKeesport. Both are Negroes. All three and another man, who is sought, were accused of stealing peaches from a Versailles Township farm formerly owned by Henry.

Marines Called Out In French Strike

CONFLANS-STE.-HONORINE, France, Aug. 25.—(AP.)—Marines and armed police, with the help of firemen from Paris, today began breaking up a barricade of more than 200 barges on the Oise River above its junction with the Seine. Owners of horse-towed barges are on strike for shorter hours. Four youths were arrested for insulting police.

Admiral Prefers Ship To Train in Storm

Rear Admiral Robert E. Coontz, retired, of Washington, prefers a ship to a night in a Pullman car during a storm.

He was a passenger on the Pennsylvania Railroad's crack Liberty Limited, 17 hours overdue on account of a storm at York, Pa.

He dismissed his experience with a shrug:

"The next time I think I will take a ship."

"Tell me about this hot political battle that you are having in Pittsburgh for Mayor. Who is going to win—the Republicans or the Democrats? I have many friends in Pittsburgh and I wish I had the time to stop and see them."

Admiral Coontz is en route to Milwaukee to preside at the national convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Miss Helen Hanback, the Admiral's attractive secretary, also told about the storm:

"The train ran into a six-foot wall of water caused by the overflowing of a creek near York."

At York yesterday morning, she said she saw dozens of persons perched on house tops. Streets were covered with water and boats were being used for transportation.

Other passengers on the train took their night's experience in the flood as a "lark." Although it looked to them "like the whole train was floating," they played cards, chatted and read.

VANN CHARGES FRAMEUP IN 'SLUSH' TALE

Henchmen of Mayor John S. Herron worked hand in hand with John Henry, Democratic candidate for Mayor, in obtaining "evidence" of a "slush fund" among Pittsburgh Negroes, Robert L. Vann, Pittsburgh Negro editor and special assistant to the Attorney General, charged today.

Henry recently exhibited a check, signed by a Negro butler of M. L. Benedum, Democratic leader, payable to a second Negro, and marked "for special assessment purposes." The check proved Benedum was financing a "huge slush fund" among Hill district Negroes, Henry said.

CHARGES RUSE

The check was for three days' work in distributing handbills, Vann asserted, and was obtained by Herron followers misrepresenting themselves as Democrats. He said:

"If Mr. Henry can link a $6 check with a "slush fund" and accuse the McNair forces of 'distributing money with a lavish hand,' then his conception of the Negro is indeed cheap."

The check was obtained from a shoe store by two men sent by a Herron Fifth Ward political leader, Vann said. They turned it over to Henry, because, Vann charged:

"They thought it would help Mr. Henry defeat the Democratic ticket."

SEES VOTES LOST

Vann added:

"But Mr. Henry forgot that he lost 25,000 Negro votes by taking the check and then accusing Negroes of selling their votes in the Hill district.

"Negroes of Allegheny County know where the Democratic ticket is. They know that the Roosevelt Democrat is William N. McNair. Negroes know that Henry did not support Roosevelt."

The handbills, for whose distribution the check was given, urged Negroes to become assessed lest they lose their votes in primary and general election, Vann explained.

JUDGE SCORES BENCH LAXITY

The attitude of judges caring only to terminate a controversy is utterly subversive of good government, Judge M. A. Musmanno, candidate for Common Pleas Court, declared at a meeting at Conroy School, North Side, last night. He said:

"The object of a court should be not merely to terminate a controversy, but to terminate it rightly. I have actually heard judges say, with some show of irritation, when an appeal was being argued, 'Well, the controversy has to be ended,' and not care to hear anything further.

"This attitude on the part of a judge breeds disrespect for the courts. Nothing can be more dangerous to our government than that."

Sherrer to Seek Alderman's Post

Harry Sherrer, real estate man of 719 Sheridan avenue, is a candidate for alderman in the Eleventh Ward, seeking the post held for a long time by Harvey Lowry. Sherrer is chairman of the Eleventh Ward Progressive Republicans and supported the independent movement in the last municipal election in 1931. A group of professional and businessmen is backing his candidacy.

Mr. Sherrer

13th Ward Women Hear City Officials

Women workers of the Thirteenth Ward met yesterday in the Regular Republican headquarters in the Hotel Henry. Addresses were delivered by Charles P. Lang, assistant city solicitor, and Councilmen Harry A. Little, George S. Oliver and Frank L. Duggan.

THE JUDGE SAW THIS :: THE COURTROOM THIS

GENE WALNEY, 19 GLORIA MEROLA, 17

Miss Gloria and her fiance facing Magistrate Jones in Morals Court: "We love each other and always will." They were arrested on Gloria's mother's complaint. These are Sun-Telegraph pictures.

ANOTHER POINT OF VIEW: A REASSURING HANDCLASP

But this is what spectators in the courtroom saw as Magistrate Jones turned the two over to social workers, remarking: "When you get a job, Gene, it will be soon enough to get married."

GLORIA LOVES BOY-COOKIES

With a box of cookies under one arm and the other clasping her sweetheart's waist, pretty 17-year-old Gloria Merola told Magistrate Thomas D. Jones in Morals Court today she was in love.

By her side stood Gene Walney, 19, former lodger in the Merola home at 1728 Wabash avenue. Just as frankly he declared his love for small, olive-skinned Gloria, and added:

"Just as soon as I get a job, we're going to be married."

Both were turned over to social workers. They were arrested last night on complaint of the girl's mother, Mrs. Pauline Merola, at the home of Mrs. Mary Dell, 80 Dilworth street, a friend of Gloria.

Gloria said she left home Wednesday because she had quarreled with a sister.

While the pair held hands, Magistrate Jones told them:

"When you get a job, it will be soon enough to be married."

20 VOTE BOARD PLACES FILLED

Appointments to fill vacancies on 20 election boards were made by Judges Elder W. Marshall and John P. Egan today. They are:

Harry D. Lintz, judge, Second District, Fifteenth Ward; Mary F. Flower, minority inspector, Thirteenth District, Eighteenth Ward; Alfred L. Collins, majority inspector, Eleventh District, Twentieth Ward; Joseph M. Kelly, majority inspector, Eleventh District, Fifth Ward; Frank Silverman, majority inspector, Seventh District, Fifth Ward; William G. Coates, minority inspector, Sixth District, Fourth Ward; Hobart Watson, judge, Eighth District, Twenty-first Ward; Francis P. McShane, judge, Third District First Ward; Robert Leo, majority inspector, First District, Twenty-fifth Ward; Andrew Finney, majority inspector, Second District, Fifteenth Ward; Samuel G. Ferguson, judge, First District, Fourth Ward; Charles Murphy, judge, Third District, Ninth Ward.

Ignatius Gorse, judge, Braddock Township; John Bisaha, majority inspector, Chalfant; Joseph Cushings, minority inspector, First District, First Ward, Tarentum; Rudolph Navari, judge, First District, Verona; Carl P. Hoffman, majority inspector, Fifth District, Swissvale; John Barlanski, minority inspector, First District, Second Ward, Braddock; S. Ella Neal, minority inspector, Sixth District, Scott Township; Mary Kristek, minority inspector, Leetsdale.

Waddell and Evans To Address Vets

Robert N. Waddell, Republican candidate for Council, will speak tonight in South Side High School, Seventeenth Ward; Carrick High, Twenty-ninth Ward; Rochelle School, Thirtieth Ward; Overbrook Junior High, Thirty-second Ward, and the Morse School, Sixteenth Ward.

Assistant United States Attorney Raymond D. Evans, candidate for Common Pleas Court, will also speak at the meetings sponsored by the United American Veterans' Association.

LITTLE PRAISES HERRON FOR ECONOMIES

Praising Mayor John S. Herron and City Council for their reduction of city expenditures, President of Council Harry A. Little urged the election of regular Republican candidates in an address last night.

Under the leadership of Herron as president of Council and Mayor, expenses were reduced from $27,781,752 in 1921 to $21,140,343 in 1933, a cut of 24 per cent, Little said.

He cited the flood control conference and improvements of recent years as examples of Mayor Herron's efforts to improve conditions here.

Pointing out that when he ran for office four years ago, Mayor Herron's two opponents were his active backers, Little said:

"I defy them to give any legitimate reason, other than their desire to hold the office of Mayor, why I am not as fitted now as I was then."

M'ARDLE AIDED BY MRS. MILLER

Hope of an efficient city government lies in the election of P. J. McArdle as mayor and of the councilmanic candidate on his ticket, Mrs. J. O. Miller, of the Citizens' League, yesterday told Independent Republican workers of the Twentieth District of the Fourteenth Ward.

Detailing McArdle's platform, Mrs. Miller spoke at the home of Mrs. William M. Stevenson, 1530 Denniston avenue. All indorsed by the Citizens' League, his councilmanic candidates have always placed civic welfare before other considerations, she said. They are Edward O. Tabor, former Mayor William A. Magee, Charles Wolff, Howard B. McNutt and Robert Waddell.

Lyons Bound to Win Torrington Election

TORRINGTON, Aug. 25.—Whether Democrats or Republicans win the coming city election, to the Lyons will go the lion's share of the credit.

The Democratic campaign is in charge of Town Chairman Timothy J. Lyons. Frank H. Lyon is chairman of the Republican committee and Daldo B. Lyon is secretary.

WOODMEN BACK LENCHER

Judge Benjamin Lencher, candidate for County Court, has been unanimously indorsed by several thousand members of the Allegheny Society of Modern Woodmen of America. Their resolution commended his "ability, honesty and integrity as an attorney and judge."

Judge Lencher will address South Side ex-service men tonight in meetings at Morse School, South Twenty-fifth and Sarah streets; South High School, South Tenth and Carson streets; Carrick High, Parkfield street; Rochelle School, Rochelle street and Knox avenue, and Overbrook Junior High, Library road.

5 DEMOCRATIC RALLIES SET TONIGHT

Democratic candidates, among them William N. McNair, will address five meetings in the city and county tonight at 8 o'clock.

McNair, mayoralty candidate, with John J. Kennedy, candidate for Common Pleas Court, and Vincent L. Marion, candidate for Coroner, will speak at the Oakwood Community Clubhouse, Tarner street and Craftmont avenue. Perry Smith, president of the Twenty-eighth Ward Democratic Club, will preside.

Representative John J. Kane and John M. Huston, candidates for Council, and Austin L. Staley, candidate for County Court, will speak at Bakey's Garage, Sawmill Run boulevard.

George E. Evans, for Council; A. Marshall Thompson, for Common Pleas Court, and James L. O'Toole, Jr., for County Court, are scheduled at Sterrett School, Fourteenth Ward. John Goettman will preside.

Walter R. Demmler, for Council, and John Heinz, for Sheriff, will speak at Liberty School, Seventh Ward, under the chairmanship of James P. Barr.

Kennedy, and Thomas A. Dougherty, for Jury Commissioner, will appear at Croatian Hall, Rankin.

The McNair Democrats will hold a benefit card party to help finance operation of an East Liberty headquarters, in the Adams room, McCann's East Liberty store, at 8:30 p. m. Wednesday.

Bridge and "500" will be played at 50 tables. William J. Friday, candidate for alderman in the Eleventh Ward, will be in charge.

The headquarters are scheduled to open at 6312 Frankstown avepreside.

Miracle Whip Salad Dressing
A NEW KIND OF DRESSING CREATED BY KRAFT
KRAFT-PHENIX CHEESE CORP., GEN. OFFICES—CHICAGO

FULL PINT 18c
HALF PINT 10c
FULL QUART 30c

Made by the makers of Kraft Cheese and "Philadelphia" Brand Cream Cheese

Pittsburgh's most critical judges of food enthusiastic about this new creation . .

WE OURSELVES wanted to be convinced. So we submitted this new dressing to the most critical judges in Pittsburgh—those women who are famous for the fine food they serve.

And they were enthusiastic! They found in Kraft's Miracle Whip Salad Dressing a tantalizing flavor which pleases them better than that of true mayonnaise.

Not too bland, not too oily, not too sharp—the special taste of Miracle Whip Salad Dressing represents a real triumph in creating fine food. This new dressing is not a mayonnaise, not an old-fashioned boiled dressing—but a wonderful new combination of the two. Fine salad oil, choice eggs, mellow vinegar and other time-honored ingredients are combined in a new way to make it. They are whipped to a new creamy fluffiness in Kraft's exclusive Miracle Whip.

We wager that you'll like Miracle Whip Salad Dressing better than the finest mayonnaise you ever tasted. Try it on any kind of salad—fruit, meat or vegetable. Ask your dealer today for a jar of Kraft's Miracle Whip Salad Dressing.

JEWELERS SEE SHARP RISE IN PRICES

A sharp price rise is expected soon in jewelry, according to heads of four well-known Pittsburgh stores.

With NRA codes shortening hours and raising wages and with a shortage of jewelry in the wholesale market, they say in two months the public will have to pay as much as 40 per cent more for their merchandise.

They urged buying now in order to save money. Their basic stock, they explained, is being sold at the old prices.

DEMAND GROWING

S. H. DeRoy, president of S. H. DeRoy & Company, said:

"In two months everything is going to be from 15 to 40 per cent higher. It costs us more to do business under the NRA, but our stock now on hand will sell at the price we paid for it.

"We feel that NRA is a good thing because we can see a substantial increase right through and ahead of last year. Ivory goods for instance, has just increased 15 per cent, while diamonds have gone up almost 40 per cent. There is a great scarcity in merchandise. One leading watch factory has 80,000 back orders and another factory has increased its price 25 per cent on a watch order I placed six weeks ago."

DIAMONDS UP

Floyd J. Cross, advertising manager of Wm. J. Kappell Company, said:

"Diamonds have increased from 20 to 30 per cent and they are bound to go even higher, while watches and clocks are costing us 10 per cent more. We are selling all of our stock on hand at the lower price. The people should buy now if they want to save, for new merchandise will cost us more under NRA."

Theodore Abrams, manager of Henry Wilkens & Company:

"We have conformed to every regulation of the President's code and we are heartily in favor of it. Of course, jewelry, like other merchandise, is going to cost more in two months than at the present time. Basing our opinions on improvement in the last three weeks we feel that this fall business will be much better than it has been in the last three years."

J. O. Whitney, manager of Loftis Jewelry Company:

"The distress merchandise is almost all off the market today. Like the trend in other merchandise jewelry will increase in the next two months from 25 to 40 per cent. Diamonds have already gone up from 10 to 30 per cent."

West Deer Voters Hear Jury Candidate

Vincent C. Neeson, candidate for jury commissioner, who will speak tonight in McKees Rocks, last night told West Deer Township voters jury commissioners should hold hearings in various centers of the county to consider excuses made by persons seeking to escape jury duty.

At the same meeting, Bernard L. Flynn, candidate for poor director, said the Poor Board millage could be reduced through economical administration.

SUBDUED 'TOOTS' AFTER HIS BEARISH ESCAPADE

MRS. ETHEL PERKINS FEEDING THE PENITENT "TOOTS"

Mrs. Perkins at her Babcock boulevard place with "Toots," pet brown bear that amuses tourists, after his few minutes of freedom. He escaped his bonds, scratched a girl, killed two lambs, finally became docile under the promise of a bottle of milk. Mrs. Perkins until help arrived guarded him with guns to prevent serious trouble.

MISS MARJORIE HAGER . . . "TOOTS" SCRATCHED HER ARM

Railroaders Support Carmichael Campaign

Thomas B. Carmichael, candidate for jury commissioner, has been indorsed by Fort Pitt Lodge No. 235, Brotherhood of Locomotive Fire and Enginemen, he was advised today.

BEER CAUSES POLL CHANGES

The County Commissioners have authorized the changing of six polling places. Three of the changes were made because of beer sales in the building formerly used as a polling place and a North Side change was made after it was reported that a city detective had interfered with voters.

The Second District of the Tenth Ward was changed from 5134 Carnegie avenue to 5128 Carnegie avenue and the First District of the Fourth Ward was moved from 27-B Singer avenue to 1242 Chartiers avenue because of beer sales. This same reason was responsible for changing the First District of the Fourth Ward, Harrison Township, from 14 Linden street to the Rusiewicz garage.

The Seventh District of the Twenty-third Ward was moved from 403 Chestnut street to 408 Chestnut street when it was reported a city detective had interfered with voters. The First District of Scott Township was moved from a justice of the peace's office to the public school and the Eleventh District of the Fifteenth Ward was changed from the fire station to Hazelwood School, Second avenue.

Mine Workers' Local Gives Nixon Backing

Attorney Clarence B. Nixon, candidate for County Court, was indorsed by Local No. 2363, United Mine Workers of America, at Mollenauer No. 3 mine, at a meeting last night. Nixon will address miners of South Fayette and North Fayette townships in Arlington Hall, Sturgeon, tonight.

MAGEE SCORES BUDGET DELAY

Former Mayor William A. Magee, campaigning for City Council, in a speech last night criticized the manner in which budgets are made for the allocation of city finances. Council did not begin sufficiently early to study the demands of department heads, he said, one reason being because these estimates of operating costs were not furnished as soon as they might be.

Confusion reigns, he said, because Council and the civic and business associations which denounce requested expenditures for new activities have themselves been responsible for their growth. Bureau and department heads are berated, and all new items except those politically expedient are deleted, he declared.

Magee suggested that Council be furnished with budget estimates some time in October, when it could begin consideration of the next year's expenditures, instead of waiting until late November and December to begin the work.

Negley to Speak On Recovery Act

Attorney William G. Negley, candidate for Juvenile Court, will speak on the National Recovery Act at an NRA mass meeting in Carnegie Hall, Braddock, tonight. Negley is one of the Chamber of Commerce speakers. Thomas Nugent will preside.

Tomorrow Negley will speak at a reunion of Chartiers Township residents at Windgap School; at the Welsh Society meeting, Schenley Park, and the outing of the Duquesne Club, of Duquesne.

GALLAGHER HITS MELLON GROUP

Representative Thomas J. Gallagher, candidate for a Democratic councilmanic nomination, today told an audience at the Downtown Y. M. C. A. that "the Mellons and Grundys by fair means or foul" will strike at the recovery machinery set in operation by President Roosevelt. Gallagher, who bolted the Republican party a few weeks ago, said:

"Every vote cast in the Republican primary is a vote against Roosevelt, a vote against the new deal and a vote for the return to power of such reactionary political industrialists as Andrew Mellon, whose Pittsburgh Coal Company just now is one of the few great corporations standing out against accepting the NRA code of fair competition in the coal industry."

Wife Cites Record Of Judicial Candidate

Dr. Rena Heilman Lindsay, wife of Attorney Alexander P. Lindsay, candidate for Common Pleas Court, spoke in behalf of her husband at an anniversary dinner of the Ladies of the G. A. R. Home, Hawkins Station, last night.

Dr. Lindsay cited her husband's efforts for election reforms and justice for civil service employes as attesting an independence necessary for the office.

Smith Gives Talks In Three Boroughs

Continuing his educational triweekly talks on the functions of the courts, Judge Ralph H. Smith, candidate to succeed himself in Common Pleas Court, spoke today to voters of Tarentum, Brackenridge and Natrona. Judge Smith has completed a week's campaigning in the northeastern boroughs and townships.

HOUGH APPEALS FOR MACKRELL

Edward M. Hough, Twenty-sixth Ward, a candidate for City Council who for a time was on the slate of Register of Wills Joseph N. Mackrell, seeking the Republican mayoralty nomination, but who apparently is to be supplanted by James F. Malone, asked support of Twenty-sixth Warders for Mackrell at an organization meeting in Progressive Republican headquarters last night.

Hough said Mackrell was the type of candidate the Twenty-sixth Ward desired, and urged his hearers to organize for work in the ward.

Mackrell again pledged a seperation of the police and fire departments from politics. Other speakers were Louis Weschler, Council candidate; Theodore Motheral, chairman of the Mackrell businessmen's committee; Charles W. Gerwig, Mrs. Walter McFarland, Mrs. E. Jette Maier and Theodore N. Doehla.

PRUDENCE PENNY'S RECIPES

SQUASH CROQUETTES — 4 tablespoons fat, 4 tablespoons flour, 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 1 cup milk, 2 cups dry squash, riced or mashed, 1 tablespoon chopped parsley, ¼ cup peanuts.

Heat fat, add flour, salt and pepper and mix until smooth. Add milk gradually, stirring constantly. Cook over hot water until very thick. Add squash, parsley and peanuts. Turn into a shallow dish and chill. Shape. Dip in beaten egg (add 1 tablespoon water to each egg) and roll in fine bread or cracker crumbs. Place in frying basket, lower into deep fat and fry until golden brown.

Squash Sausage Croquettes — If desired omit the peanuts and mold the squash mixture around slices or balls of cooked sausage. Egg, crumb and fry as above.

* * *

CORN AND CHICKEN PUDDING—2 tablespoons butter, 4 tablespoons flour, 1 cup chicken stock, ½ cup milk or thin cream, salt, pepper, ¼ teaspoon sugar, ¼ teaspoon celery salt, 3 cups corn, 1 cooked chicken.

Melt butter add flour and mix well. Add chicken stock and milk gradually, stirring constantly. Add salt, pepper, sugar and celery salt. Cook over hot water about eight minutes. Add small amount of cream and butter to the corn and cook until tender, then combine with the sauce. Remove the meat from the chicken carcass in large pieces. Cover the bottom of a greased baking dish with the corn mixture and add a layer of chicken. Continue until all of the corn and chicken are used. Cover with fluffy mashed potatoes or buttered crumbs and brown in a hot oven.

* * *

GINGERBREAD — Gingerbread is especially delicious when sour milk goes into its making. It can be baked in two shallow dripping pans and put together layer-cake fashion with sour-cream icing. Place in a saucepan over a low flame ¾ cup of shortening, 1 cup of brown sugar, 1 cup of molasses, 1 teaspoon each of cinnamon and ginger, and ½ teaspoon of nutmeg. When the ingredients become warm, beat them to a creamy consistency. Add 1 cup of sour milk and 4 cups of flour, sifted with ½ teaspoon of baking soda and 1 teaspoon of baking powder. Beat well, dropping in 2 eggs, one at a time. Bake in a rather slow oven—325 to 350 degrees F.

Prepare sour-cream icing to use for filling and frosting. Boil gently 1¼ cups of light brown sugar with ¾ cup of sour cream to the soft-ball stage (230 degrees F.); cool, then beat until thick and spread on the cake.

* * *

CORN CHOWDER—3 slices bacon, 1½ cups ripe tomatoes, skinned and cut in pieces, 2 cups corn, ¾ cup chopped okra, 2 teaspoons salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 1 quart boiling water.

Cut bacon in small pieces and fry. Add the remaining ingredients and simmer for 20 minutes. If desired, a little butter or cream may be added. Serve very hot.

* * *

VEGETABLES IN SOUR CREAM—First cut cucumbers, green onions, radishes and peeled tomatoes into cubes. Set the vegetables away to chill. Lightly beat the thick, ice-cold, well-clabbered sour cream—taking care that the cream is not too acid, so that it may be of the finest flavor. As soon as the cream is fluffy, add a faint touch of paprika and lemon juice, arrange the vegetables in a salad bowl or in individual bowls, cover them well with the sour cream, and stick a bit of water cress or a section of scarlet tomato in the snowy surface. Serve with a slice of genuine rye bread.

* * *

UNUSUAL ICE CREAM — Beat 1 whole egg well and add ⅓ cupful of grape juice, then beat again till well mixed. Add the juice of 1 lemon to a quart of thick but not strong sour milk and stir in 1½ cupfuls of sugar. Mix thoroughly, and when the sugar is well dissolved, add the egg and grape juice. Beat a few minutes, then freeze as usual.

* * *

SQUASH AND TOMATO SCALLOP—2 cups squash cut in thin slices, 1 cup white sauce, 2 cups tomatoes cut in small pieces, buttered bread crumbs, grated cheese.

Panfry squash in a little fat. Remove and fry tomatoes. Arrange alternate layers of squash and tomatoes seasoned to taste in in a greased baking dish. Pour the white sauce over this. Cover and bake in a moderate oven about 20 minutes. Remove cover and add a layer of buttered crumbs and grated cheese. Brown in the oven.

* * *

CANTALOUPE CUPS — Scoop out ripe cantaloupes with a ball cutter. Make watermelon balls with the same cutter, using a well-ripened watermelon. Chill thoroughly. Scallop the halves of cantaloupes or cut the edges in points. Fill with the cantaloupe and melon balls and cover with cold French dressing. Serve on plates lined with green leaves.

* * *

JELLIED BOUILLON—2 tablespoons gelatine, 4 tablespoons cold water, salt and pepper, 2 tablespoons parsley, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 2 tablespoons tarragon vinegar, 4 cubes beef bouillon dissolved in 4 cups hot water, 2 small pieces bay leaf.

Soak the gelatine in cold water 5 minutes. Cook the remaining ingredients together for 10 minutes. Strain and add the gelatine to the hot mixture. Stir until dissolved. Chill until firm. Serve on lettuce leaves, garnished with stuffed olives, or cut in small cubes and serve in bouillon cups with slices of lemon.

* * *

CASSEROLE OF TONGUE—3 pounds beef tongue, 1 cup diced turnips, 1 cup diced carrots, 1 cup diced celery, 1 cup canned peas, 2 cloves, 2 tablespoons shortening, 2 tablespoons flour, 1 teaspoon minced onion, 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 1 bay leaf, 1 cup broth from tongue.

Wash tongue well. Cover with hot water, add salt, cloves and bay leaf. Heat to boiling point, lower heat and simmer until tongue is tender. Remove skin and all unsightly portions from tongue. Place in casserole, add a gravy made of the flour, shortening and broth. Arrange the vegetables around the tongue, cover and cook in moderate oven until vegetables are tender.

* * *

STUFFED EGG PLANT—1 egg plant, ½ green pepper, 1 small onion, 1 tablespoon butter, 1½ teaspoons salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 1 cup canned corn, 2 tablespoons each melted butter and grated cheese, 1 tablespoon butter (about), ½ cup bread crumbs.

Cut egg plant in the shape of baskets. Remove center and chop pulp. Put in saucepan with green pepper and onion which have been chopped fine and cooked with butter until yellow. Add salt and pepper and canned corn. Cook together until well blended, re-

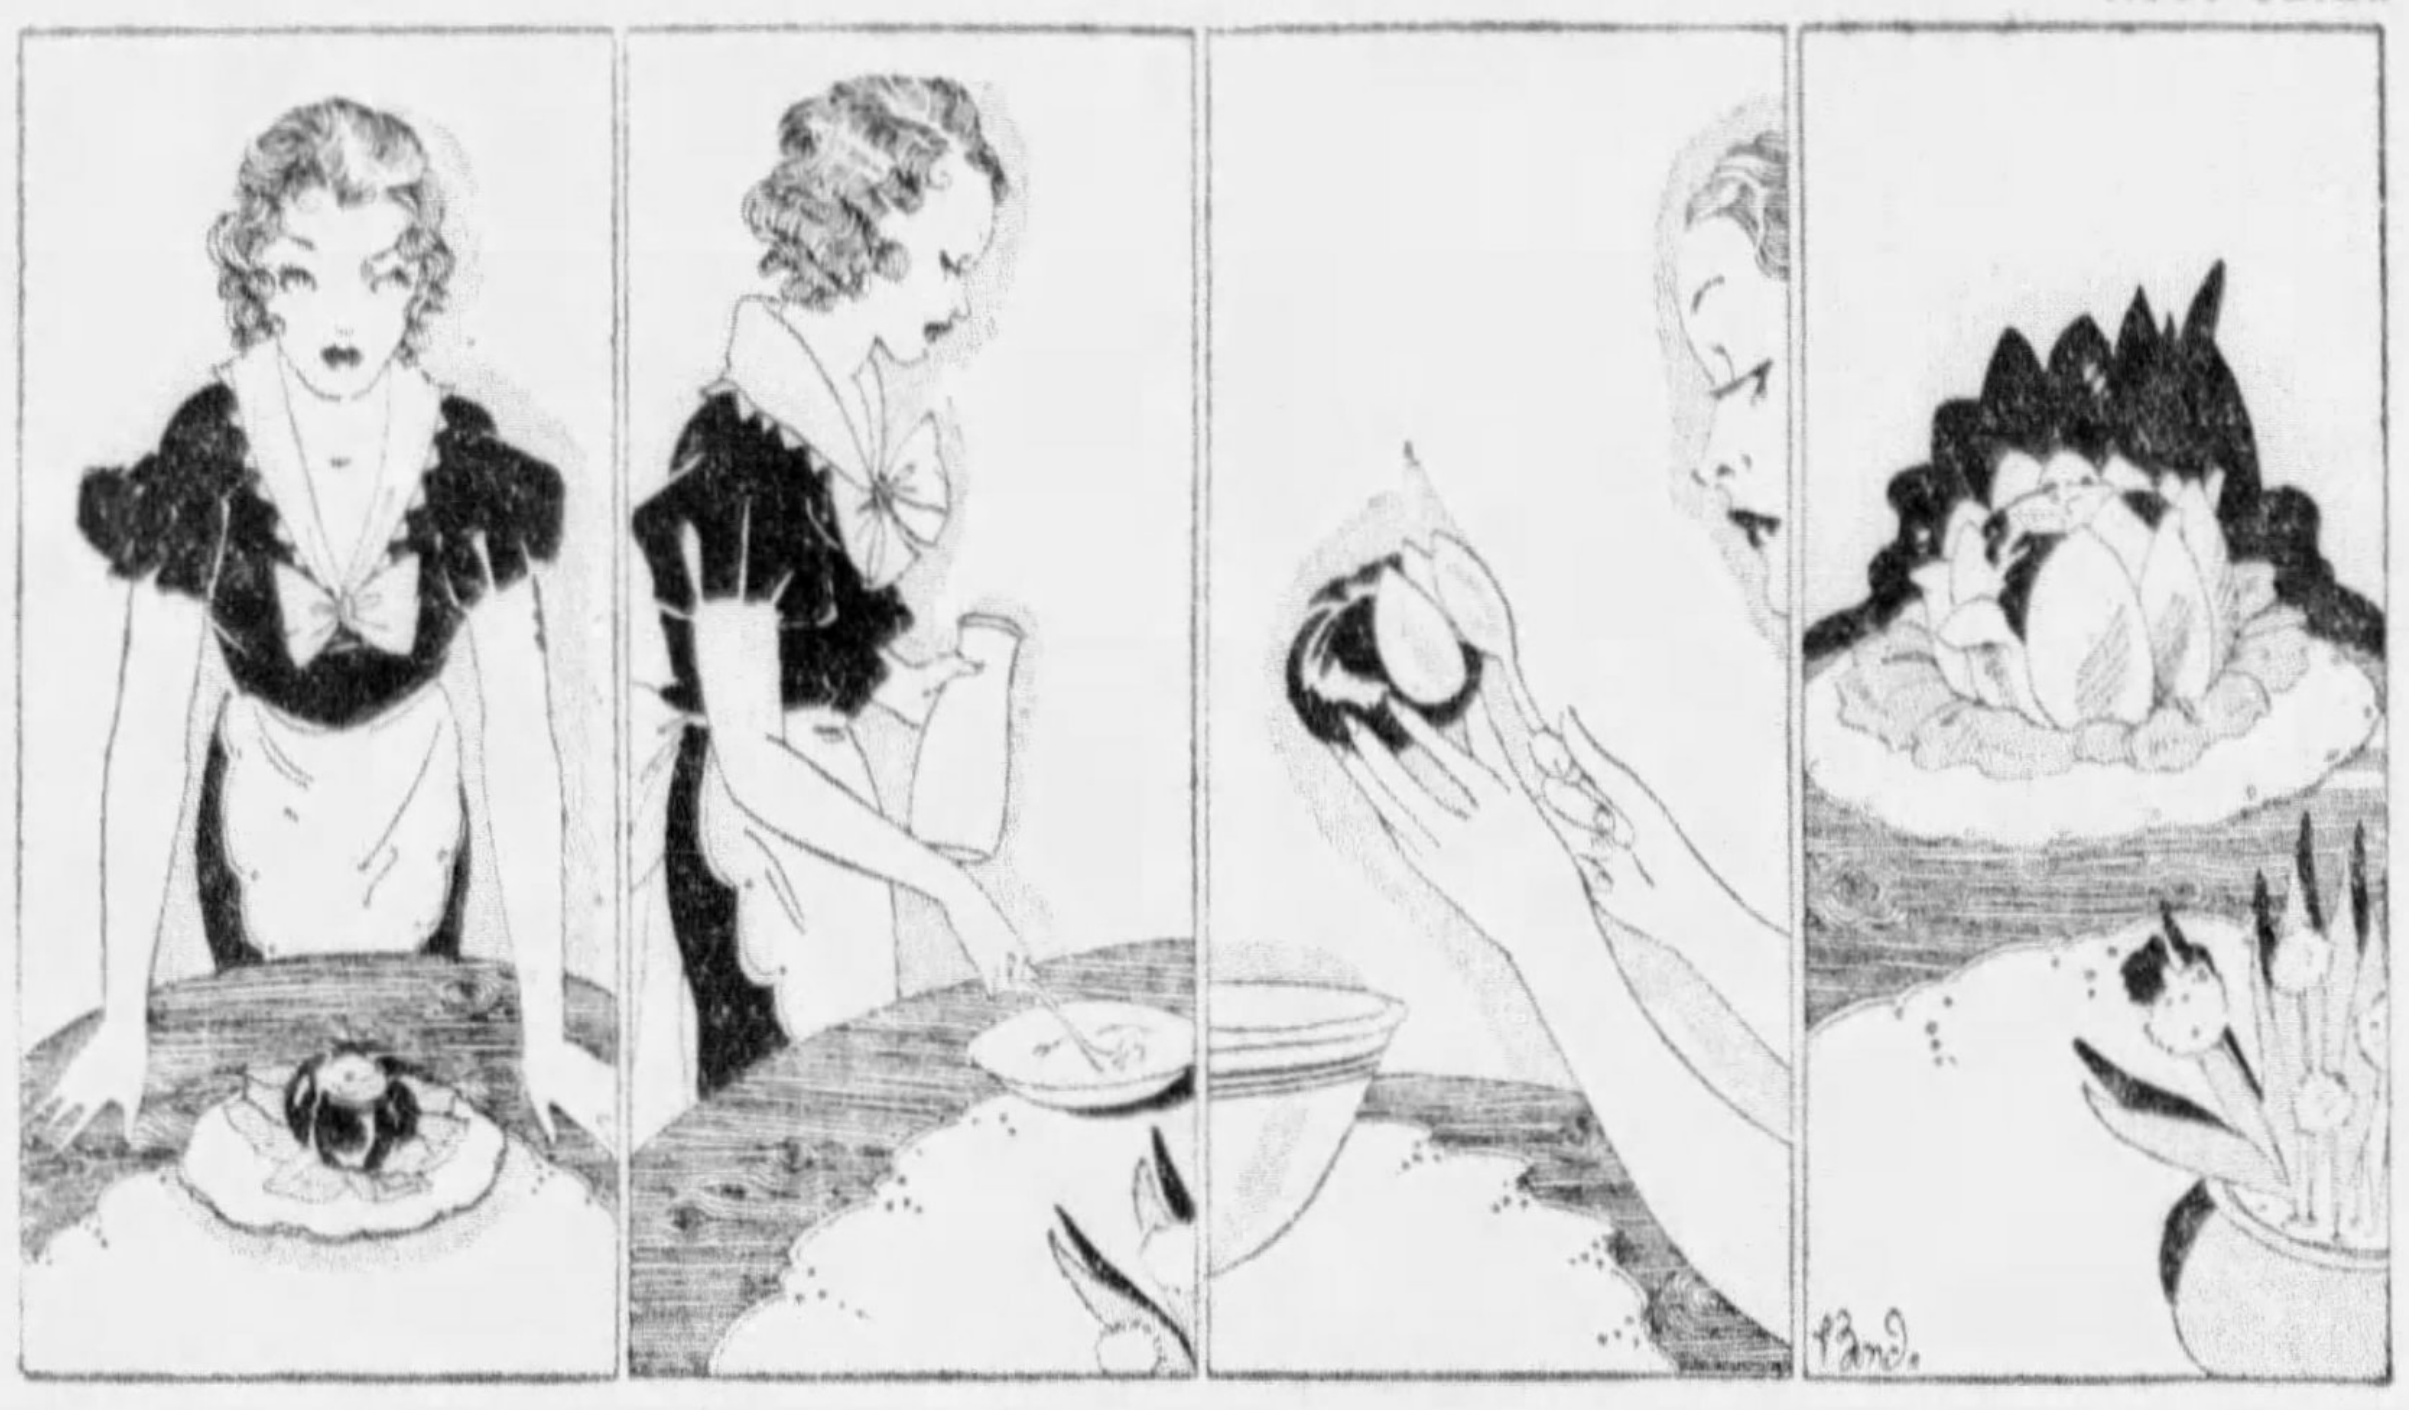
THE COOK'S TOUR

Tomato Rose Salad



Select even, medium sized, ripe tomatoes. With tip of sharp knife remove center and fill with egg salad, chicken or fish salad mixture.

Moisten cream cheese with a little milk and mix with spoon until smooth. The cheese must not be too soft and should be well chilled.

Around top of tomato make petals by filling a fruit spoon with the cream cheese, then pressing it around the top of tomato to form petals.

There should be two rows of these petals. The centers may be decorated with yellow mayonnaise.

Prudence Penny's Recipes

turn to egg plant basket, sprinkle top with bread crumbs mixed with melted butter and grated cheese and bake until brown.

* * *

FAVORITE SPAGHETTI — 1 pound spaghetti, ¼ pound lean bacon (cut fine), 2 large chopped onions, 1 large chopped green pepper, 1 medium-sized stalk celery (cut fine), 1 large can tomatoes, American cheese (sliced), salt, pepper, paprika to taste.

Cook spaghetti in salted water until tender, drain thoroughly. Put bacon, onion, green pepper and celery in frying pan and cook until onion is tender, then add tomatoes, salt and pepper to taste, and simmer slowly for 20 or 25 minutes.

Add this sauce to the spaghetti which has been put into a large baking dish, and mix together.

Sprinkle paprika all over the top and lay pieces of cheese over top. Bake in moderate oven for one hour.

* * *

CABBAGE BAKED WITH CHEESE—One-half head cabbage (about two cups, cooked and chopped), ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon paprika, 1½ cups white sauce, 1 tablespoon butter, ½ cup each grated cheese and browned bread crumbs.

Mix white sauce and seasoning. Arrange in alternate layers with cabbage (cooked) in buttered casserole. Top with buttered crumbs, then with grated cheese. Bake 20 minutes in hot oven.

* * *

STUFFED CABBAGE WITH SAUCE—One head cabbage, 2 cups soaked bread crumbs, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, ¼ teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon nutmeg, 1 pound ground mixed beef and pork, 2 eggs, 1 tablespoon melted butter.

Scoop the center of cabbage, discard heart and chop remaining part. Mix with other ingredients, stuff into cavity. Top with two or three large leaves and tie firmly with string or tie in cheesecloth. Boil until tender, about 1½ hours, in large kettle of salted water. Do not let cabbage touch bottom of kettle, place on rack or in cloth.

SAUCE—One tablespoon each flour and butter, 1 cup cabbage liquor, 1 egg.

Blend flour and butter in double boiler, add cabbage liquor mixed with beaten egg. Cook until thickened. Serve over cabbage.

* * *

GINGER BREAD.—1 cup brown sugar, 1 cup butter and lard mixed, 3 well-beaten eggs, 1 teaspoon cloves, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 2 teaspoons ginger, 1 teaspoon baking powder sifted into 3 cups flour, 1 cup hot water, ½ teaspoon baking soda.

Mix in the order given and bake in a hot oven. This batter may seem too thin, but do not add more flour.

TELL IT TO ELSIE -:- -:- Follow This Unusual Feature Day by Day -:- -:- By ELSIE ROBINSON

Pampered Children Treated Otherwise By World

Is it fair to the kids to "spoil" them . . . to give 'em the notion that the world's their private oyster, run solely for them?

Is that what you're doing?

If it is—stop and think. What kind of a future are you fixing for them? One that'll see them sitting on top of an admiring world—

Or one filled with kicks and bumps and wretched confusion and misery?

If you don't know — listen while Bob gives you an earful of what's happening to him.

Dear Elsie:

I wonder if you have ever run across a problem like mine? I guess maybe it seems like a pretty weird one, but can't you please help me?

I am miserable and confused, and feel I am in such a hopeless condition. I want to get out of it, but by myself I don't know how, and my folks are no help. I have very few friends, and everything is all wrong

I have really wonderful parents. They have been awfully good to me. Too good in fact. I believe that is what is wrong with me.

I was taught from the time I was a child that the world revolved for my sole benefit. Everything was done to make me happy. And now, as a young man of 19, I am having a very rude awakening. Now that I am old enough to be out on my own, having to face life, I am completely out of tune with things. It has been a terrible jolt. At times I have felt that I couldn't stand my fall from the status I was taught to expect.

A SPOILED CHILD

And, worst of all, I am cursed with being a "sissy." I have tried, but it seems that I cannot be a Regular Man in my newly-found status. I try to swim and play baseball, like I think my ideal of a man should, but I can't seem to stand the rough-and-tumble of not having things go my way. I guess I'm just made wrong. I'm not living. I'm just existing. I'm nothing but a spoiled child, trying to be the man I want to be . . . and not knowing how.

Please, will you help me? Tell me what to do—how to be a real man—how to face life sensibly—how to take my regular place at regular living. How to have friends—and above all, how to overcome being the spoiled baby that I know I am.

BOB J.

Is that what you're bringing up your boy—or girl—to be, Stranger? Are you building cruel confusion like that, to cripple your youngster when Life thrusts him—or her—out to meet the real world? Or are you giving your boys and girls a solid foundation of fairness, good fellowship and courage, to make their paths pleasant?

DON'T STAY PEEVED

You'd better stop and think.

And now—how about Bob? Can anything be done to make him over?

Of course it can. Here it is, son. It will be hard, but if you will look things squarely in the face, you'll win. First off—sit down and do some plain thinking. Up to now, you've just been feeling — and resenting. Your nose has been out of joint, because the world hasn't deferred to you — revolved around you. Well, that's perfectly natural. You were given the impression you were a young king — and then you were knocked off your pedestal with a thump. Being peeved is only human. But don't stay peeved. You're old enough now to use your head. Use it.

Use it, not to think about yourself, but about Life—about the people around you, and their needs and dreams and hungers. Use it to sympathize with them —to try to make their lives gayer, brighter. If you play a game—think, not about yourself, but about the game! Give other folks importance, friendliness—and they'll give it back to you!

Contract Bridge
How to Play How to Win
By Josephine Culbertson

Overcalling in Opponents' Suit

Unquestionably one of the most spectacular bids available to a Contract player is the Immediate Overcall in a suit bid by an opponent, a bid which in the lower stages is Forcing to game and in the higher stages a direct Slam suggestion. There are some refinements in the use of this bid. Sometimes after such an Immediate Overcall has been made and partner has made a response, the opponents' suit may even be rebid with the purpose of forcing partner to make a choice between two major suits—in other words, compelling him to disclose whether he holds either four spades or four hearts. Such a Rebid was made on the hand below:

North, Dealer.
East and West vulnerable.

♠ 10 9
♡ A 8 7
♢ A K 9 8 7
♣ Q 7 6

West		East
♠ J 8 7 6 ♡ 10 ♢ J 6 5 4 ♣ A K 5 4	North West East South	♠ A K Q 4 3 2 ♡ K Q J 5 4 3 2 ♢ — ♣ —

♠ 5
♡ 9 6
♢ Q 10 3 2
♣ J 10 9 8 3 2

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 ♢	2 ♢ (1)	3 ♢ (2)	4 ♣ (3)
Pass	4 ♢ (4)	Pass	4 ♠ (5)
Pass	6 ♠ (6)	Pass	Pass
Pass

1—With a perfect two-suiter, East would have difficulty in picturing his hand to his partner. A game bid in either spades or hearts risks the possibility of encountering unfavorable distribution, with no opportunity to discover if the other suit affords a better fit, and risks also the possibility that a makable vulnerable Slam may be sacrificed. The Overcall in the opponents' suit, assuring at least a game contract and permitting the exploration of further possibilities in the hand, is the best bid.

2—South, with a near trickless hand, does his best to obstruct the exchange of information.

3—West actually holds two honor-tricks, and while he might respond with spades, it is safer to show the possession of these defensive tricks with the spade holding as weak as it is.

4—This bid, of course, has one clear and obvious purpose. It is a request that West disclose whether he holds four hearts or four spades.

5—West responds as hoped.

6—It is useless for East to temporize further. If West holds four spades, regardless of their size, there can be no natural trump-trick against the partnership. The losers would therefore appear to be limited to the probability of one heart.

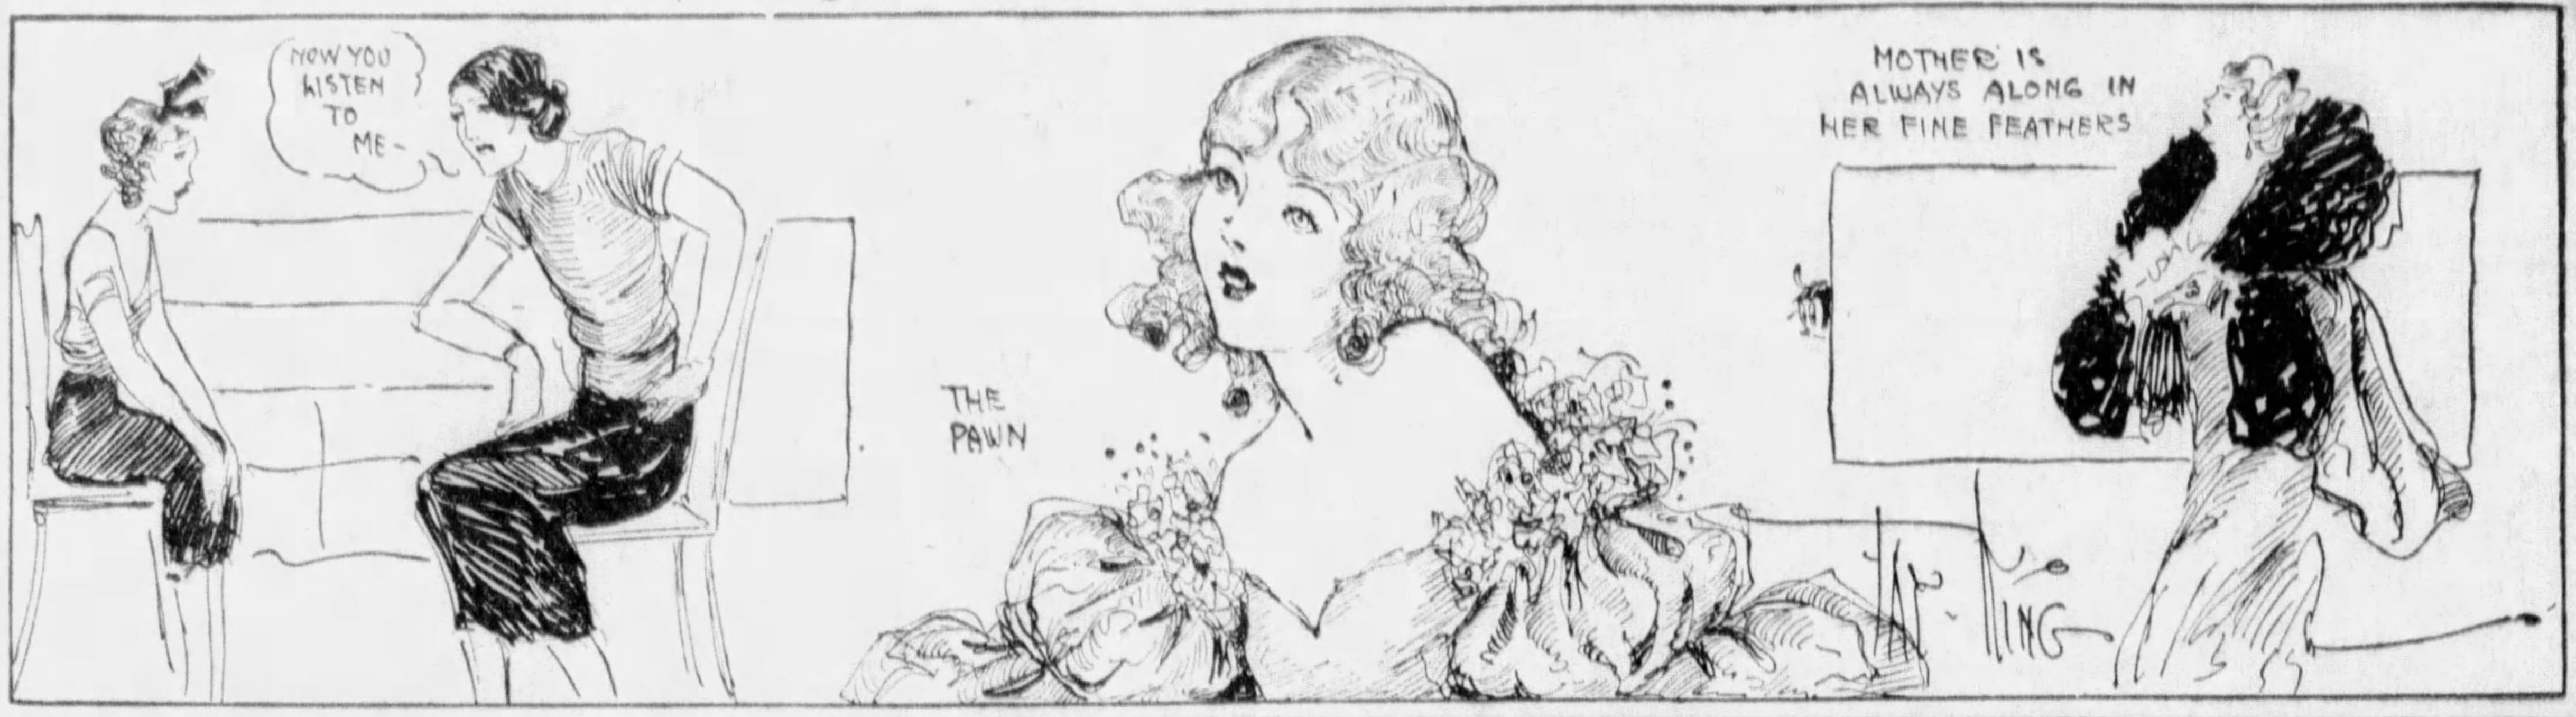
The Old Brass Bed

The old brass bed need not stay an eyesore in this enlightened age. Apply two coats of flat cream paint, and when thoroughly dry cover with a walnut stain. It will change the whole atmosphere of the bedroom.

Color Scheme for Hems

One woman stitches an extra row of colored stitching along the hems of her sheets using the colors that correspond with the different rooms. It is an easy way to know just where each sheet belongs when it comes from the laundry.

Fay King Indicts Maternal Exploitation of Daughters



NOW YOU LISTEN TO ME-
THE PAWN
MOTHER IS ALWAYS ALONG IN HER FINE FEATHERS
FAY KING

By FAY KING

Fortunately they are very much in the minority, but one is amazed at these mothers who are always traveling about and enjoying luxuries provided by their daughters' ill-got gains.

Daughter is never alone. Mother is always along to lend a screen of respectability to the arrangement.

But while honeyed words may be constantly exchanged, and their apparent devotion makes a more sincere affection appear like neglect, there is something too professional and practical in it all.

And at times one observes the unfeeling driving force that was much more in evidence before daughter was launched to mother's selfish satisfaction.

Mother is always ballyhooing the childlike innocence of daughter, and the purity of their patron's interest: But such mothers fool no one.

Fashion Flashes

By ALICE ALDEN

Watch the birdie for bird trimming is being launched and used by several important milliners. A little hat of sulphur yellow straw, cut on postilion lines, has tiny yellow and brown birds perching on the broad crown.

Dance happily, conscious that you are looking your best, when you wear one of the smart new diamond pattern black and white frocks. A grand model is black chiffon with the skirt, from the kneeline down, in diamond-patterned black and white chiffon. The bodice has a bertha of white.

Dots are marked for success as dotted fabrics and polka dots appear on everything from evening dresses to bathing suits. A lovely frock for summer dining is in dotted red and white Swiss. The skirt has a series of double tiers bordered with pleated ruffles edged with Val lace. The sleeve has similar treatment. The sash is of red velvet ribbon.

A grand sight this autumn will be the fur cape. One well known society woman has chosen already for autumn wear a suit of soft green cloth with a cravat collar and long tight cuffs of leopard. With it is worn a long cape of the leopard fur, lined with the cloth of the fitted jacket suit.

There is a time during the summer when a frock of thin black satin is grand for all-day wear in town. Such a frock is a simple model in lustrous black crepe satin with a yoke detail of white satin marked by upstanding folds at the shoulder line. It has a crushed satin belt.

The border line has been siezed by fur as many of next season's models will show. A lovely frock of black satin, designed for informal evening wear, has triangular patches of silver fox at the hem of the skirt godets, giving a graceful movement while the wearer walks or dances.

★JELLY MAKERS!

FRUIT AND BERRIES ARE CHEAP TODAY

THOSE BERRIES ARE PERFECT, JOE! AND THE PRICES ARE SO REASONABLE . . . GIVE ME 8 BASKETS.
LET ME ADD TWO BOTTLES OF CERTO TO YOUR ORDER, MRS. BARR. IT WILL MAKE BETTER JELLY AND SAVE YOU SO MUCH TIME.

Join the hundreds who are now going to grocers to get fruit, Certo and sugar with which to put up a record supply of jellies and jams.

They won't last long—these marvelous fruits at such low prices! So start right now to fill your jam cupboard with jams and jellies. How your family will thank you next winter.

And be sure to use Certo this year! With Certo and the Certo recipes you can make double the amount of jelly in the usual time. The Certo short-boil method, you see, cuts the boiling time. Jellies take only ½ minute boiling, and jams rarely require more than a minute.

Finer flavor, too!

And with Certo you will get far finer-tasting jelly or jam—with every bit of the delicate fresh fruit flavor of fully ripe fruit.

You get as much as one-half again more glasses, too, from the same amount of fruit. Because, with the Certo short-boil method, no costly fruit juice has time to boil away.

So get your fruits and berries now—when they are at their cheapest and finest. And start at once to fill next winter's cupboard with marvelous jams and jellies that will delight you—and every member of your family!

Certo is a product of General Foods.

4 Reasons FOR ALWAYS USING CERTO

1 Reduces boiling time. (Jellies take ½ minute. Jams rarely more than a minute.)
2 Saves the fresh fruit flavor.
3 Gives half again more glasses.

Madge and Lillian Wonder About Veritzen's Silence

"Have you heard anything from Phil yet?"

Lillian's voice was lowered cautiously, and I noticed that she was looking warily toward the hall where Mary and Noel, with Harry and Dicky alternately dividing the roles of supervisor and assistant, were decorating stairs and lintels with flaming oak leaves and glossy laurel.

We were seated, she and I in the library at the farm house, going over the last details of Mary's wedding to Noel, now only two days away. It had been a hectic time to her and to me — the two weeks that had elapsed since that tempestuous day at the hotel, when Philip Veritzen had finally been shamed by Lillian into withdrawing his plan of sending Mary abroad to spend a year in Paris, the plan which we feared had behind it his implacable determination to prevent her marriage to his son.

Because of my twisted ankle, I had not been able to go to the farmhouse for a week after Mary and Noel had decided upon the date for their wedding. But the Long Island roads to Sag Harbor, once one is clear of New York City and its suburbs, are like billiard tables for smoothness, and the distance between the two places is reduced to a negligible quantity for motorists. For that reason Lillian was enabled, as she expressed it, "to make fequent trips as ambassador and plenipotentiary extraordinary" between city and farmhouse, and to set in motion my plans for the wedding of Dicky's lovely young niece, who is almost as dear to me as my own children.

NO WORD FROM PHIL

There would have been no need for her going down a single time before me if it had not been for the general "techiness" of Mary's grandmother, my mother-in-law, to whom any unusual happening, especially one involving the arrangement of a house, is the signal for a display of temperament—and temper—most trying to those around her.

I knew that it was the suspicion of my mother-in-law's being in the hall which made Lillian so afraid that her query concerning Philip Veritzen might be overheard. We all knew Mother Graham's fiery pride of family, and were certain that if she had the slightest suspicion of the elder Veritzen's reluctance to receive her beloved granddaughter as his son's wife, we should have not an ordinary tempest, but a typhoon, upon our hands. And it was with equally lowered voice and wary eyes that I answered my friend's question.

"Not a word," I said.

"Let's see! You wrote him, when?"

"Forty-eight hours after he left us that day."

"Is there a chance that he may not have received the letter?"

"I don't think so. I addressed it very carefully."

Lillian considered a second or two while I watched her anxiously.

"Do you think I ought to telephone him?" I asked.

TO CALL HIM

"Yes, I do," she said. "He promised he would come to the wedding if he were asked, and it isn't like him no matter how resentful he may be, to fail to acknowledge a letter. There's some screw loose, somewhere, and Mother Graham is beginning to show symptoms of restlessness on the subject. She asked me yesterday if Noel's father had sent any gift yet."

"I'll telephone right away," I said, rising with the aid of the cane which, by my physician's orders, I keep always by my side until my ankle shall be entirely well.

Lillian put up a protesting hand.

"You can't phone from this house, anywhere," she cautioned. "Your mother-in-law may be slightly deaf, but her ears are keen enough to hear anything like that which we want to keep from her."

"There's the bungalow."

"But that's an extension, and I wouldn't put it past the girl to listen in, if she thought the conversation concerned her granddaughter. Don't stiffen! I'm not insulting her. She wouldn't have done it 20 years ago, but—she's letting down a bit on her early scruples and inhibitions."

"Then I suppose I'll have to go to Ticer's," I said.

"Why not the Larches?" she countered. "Don't you think Hugh or Lee Chow would spare you a phone?"

Household Hints

Dish cloths and floor cloths will keep sweeter for the addition of a little ammonia to the washing water.

When washing clothes, it will be found that a little ammonia added to the water will help in removing obstinate marks.

Eucalyptus oil will remove grease or tar from a garment more effectively than petrol, and without leaving the white mark which petrol invariably does.

In the kitchen there is no end to the good offices of vinegar. Added to hot soapy water you will find that vinegar is a marvelous cleanser of zinc, that invaluable but often dowdy-looking metal. A quick rub with a slightly greased cloth should follow if you would have your zinc sparkle.

After the Ceremony

Dear Mrs Beeckman:

1—Immediately after the wedding ceremony is it proper to stand at the rear of the church to receive congratulations?

2—Is it customary for the bride to present each of the wedding attendants with a wedding picture of the entire wedding party, or does each attendant pay for his or her own.

S.

1—In some communities it is the custom to stand at the rear of the church and receive congratulations, if there is to be no reception at the home of the bride or elsewhere. But more generally if there is to be no reception after the ceremony, the couple depart at once.

2—If the bride wishes her attendants to have photographs of the wedding party, she should, to be gracious, plan to present them to the attendants. Either this, or make no mention of their having photographs. It would, I am sure you will agree, seem rather ungracious and ungenerous for her to suggest that they pay for the photographs. If she can't afford to have especially expensive ones taken to give to the attendants she may plan to have inexpensive ones, to meet her budget.

Gloves

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

We have had many discussions in our office regarding the proper things to do, or not to do, when wearing gloves. Personally, I like to see gloves on a person, but I do dislike wearing them. It seems such a nuisance unless it is cold. However, with your suggestions, perhaps I may feel more comfortable when wearing them is really necessary.

1—When attending an afternoon affair, tea, bridge, or luncheon, when is the proper time to remove gloves? That is, do you remove them immediately on arrival? Before greeting your hostess?

2—When the entertainment is at a hotel, or a club, is the procedure the same?

3—Also when leaving, should gloves be put on in the dressing-room?

D.

1—When you arrive for luncheon, or bridge, or afternoon tea, you remove your gloves when you remove your wrap, in the room assigned for the purpose. You probably will remove your gloves and wraps before you greet your hostess, but if she meets you at the door you need not remove your gloves before you greet her.

2—Yes.

3—Yes.

How to Keep Well

By DR. ROYAL S. COPELAND

Kidney Disease Difficult to Cure, Easy to Prevent

Dr. Copeland

I am sorry to say that kidney disease is still one of the most common causes of death. Although our knowledge of this disease has greatly increased, it continues to take its yearly toll. This is indeed unfortunate. Like other disorders, many diseases of the kidneys are difficult to cure, but most of them are easy to prevent.

Most disorders of the kidneys are of a chronic nature. They develop over a course of years, and in many instances the sufferer is unaware of his trouble until it has reached an advanced stage. But the disease can be detected in its early stages by means of special tests.

Many neglect the disorder and seek medical advice only when it is too late to remove the underlying cause. Often, serious kidney involvement develops as a complication of some childhood disease. For example, it may be a complication of scarlet fever, or of acute tonsilitis and other infections. In such cases dangerous poisons circulate in the blood stream and reach the kidney.

If the parent knows of this danger, and sees to it that proper precautions are taken, kidney complications can be avoided. Proper hygeine, temperence in eating, care of the teeth, and removal of all centers of infection, are important precautions for everybody to take. Repeated visits to the physician for kidney tests and urinalysis are imperative after acute disease.

In addition to infections, faulty diet and indiscretions in eating are other factors that must be considered as possible causes of kidney disease. Since the kidneys are essentially filters, and serve to remove the poisons which accumulate in the blood, an increase in these poisons lead to continued irritation of these organs. Alcohol, nicotine, caffein and other toxic substances are irritating and harmful to a weakened or diseased kidney.

No one will deny the vital relationship of the kidneys to health and life. Though it is possible to survive without a stomach, part of the intestines, the eyes and other vital organs, we cannot live without the kidneys. Of course, one kidney can be removed and if in fairly good condition, the other kidney will carry on the work so necessary to life. But it is essential to respect these vital organs and to take every precaution to preserve their health.

Tremendous strides have been made in the study of diseases of the kidneys. Everyone should avail himself of the benefits of modern science. He will do so if he is wise.

In former years an operation on the kidneys was a dreaded ordeal and feared by the surgeon as well as the patient. Today it is no longer so regarded and the operation is performed at a nominal risk.

Very few cases of kidney disease require operation. Many are spoken of as medical cases, but others indicate mechanical defects that require operation.

If you have been advised to have an operation, do not delay. I can readily understand such hesitancy, but please be assured that delay is likely to be far more dangerous.

Answers to Health Queries

Eddie B. Q.—What causes sunken eyes?

A.—This is usually due to an illness of some kind.

Mrs. H. H. S. Q.—What causes a red nose?

A.—Poor circulation, indigestion and constipation are usually at fault for this trouble. Send self-addressed, stamped envelope for further particulars and repeat your question.

DON BESTOR -:- Ethel Shutta Returns With Walter O'Keefe -:- ON AIR TONIGHT

Floyd Gibbons Begins New Broadcasts

Don Bestor

Don Bestor and his orchestra, favorites among Pittsburghers since their long sojourn at a downtown hotel, make their debut in their first commercial program over an NBC-KDKA network tonight at 8. Don, whose orchestra has been heard on several sustaining programs, is as well known as a composer as he is a conductor. "Contented," "Gee, But I Hate to Say Good-night," and "Sweetheart Hour" are among his compositions.

Walter O'Keefe, Broadway wit, and Ethel Shutta, wife of George Olsen, form a new microphone team to furnish the comedy dialogue and songs on Bestor's new weekly show.

* * *

Music on Air

Jessica Dragonette and the Cavaliers, Lee Wiley and Victor Young, Betty Barthell and Jack Golden, the Neil Sisters and Roy Shields, Grace Moore and Leonard Hayton, Jane Froman and her own orchestra offer a wide variety of vocal and instrumental melody throughout the evening.

* * *

Floyd Gibbons Series

Floyd Gibbons begins another "Headline Hunter" series over KDKA tonight at 10:45, discussing current events and spinning yarns about his own interesting experiences of the past.

* * *

Radio Dramas

The life of Swedish King Charles XIII is dramatized on the Stamp Adventurers' program heard over WJAS at 7.

The First Nighter presents "The Matchmakers," a drama of railroad romance, over KDKA at 10.

* * *

Teller Speaks

Sidney A. Teller, director of Irene Kaufmann Settlement and the Emma Farm Association, speaks on WWSW at 7:15. Mr. Teller, social service leader, discusses "Training the Youth of Today for the Citizen of Tomorrow."

Joseph Dilworth is the political speaker of the evening. He speaks in behalf of the Independent Republican campaign, over WCAE at 7:30.

* * *

Advice to Autoists

C. H. Roth, of the Pittsburgh Motor Club, speaking over WCAE at 5:45, describes highway conditions.

The Silver Toppers are assigned a new spot on KDKA this evening—7:15. They broadcast a special song for the crew of Navy submarine S-48, listening in Panama, C. Z.

Local Highlights on WJAS Tonight

Paul Gannon sings his complete theme number "At Eventide" as the feature of his 6:45 broadcast. It was written by Gannon and Ralph Federer, pianist.

George Mundy's band returns after several weeks' absence for a half-program, starting at 6.

Anything prominent in the news columns will furnish Dr. Springer material for discussion tonight at 7:15.

"HAD CONSTIPATION SINCE BIRTH OF MY FIRST CHILD"

Then Mrs. King Discovered ALL-BRAN

We quote from her voluntary letter:

"I have suffered from terrible constipation since the birth of my first child — 9 years ago! I have tried everything and nothing had any lasting results. Very reluctantly I tried your 'ALL-BRAN' with no faith in it at all. Much to my surprise, I have not had to take any medicine since starting to use ALL-BRAN, 4 months ago."—Mrs. Doris Eyre King, 16 Abbey Road, Oxford, England.

Laboratory tests show ALL-BRAN contains two things which overcome constipation: "Bulk" to exercise the intestines; vitamin B to help tone the intestinal tract.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of leafy vegetables. Inside the body, it forms a soft mass, which gently clears the intestines of wastes.

Certainly this is more natural than taking patent medicines — often harmful. Two tablespoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

ALL-BRAN also supplies iron for the blood. At all grocers. In the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Seibel's Address Banned From Air in Germany

By AIRCASTER

The German people were not permitted to hear George Seibel's broadcast from Chicago's Century of Progress Exposition on Germany Day, August 23.

Letters received by the literary and dramatic critic of the Sun-Telegraph say that groups of friends were gathered in various places in Germany to await the address shortwaved from Chicago, but when the time came the announcers told the audience of the aid that musical records would be substituted.

Mystery Solved

There had been much mystery and speculation about secret auditions under way by the Amos 'n' Andy employers. The daily tests have given rise to rumors that A. & A. or the Goldbergs, employed by the same firm, might find their routine changed.

Mr. Leibert

The fact is, however, that a third program, to glorify a face lotion, is projected, and will, it has practically been decided, employ Anthony Frome, the poet prince, and Dick Leibert, former Pittsburgh organist, who have made such a success of their combined efforts in the romantic sustaining series now on NBC.

More 'Blues'

Phil Harris, who is making good in New York with his orchestra, is having plenty of trouble trying to hang on to Leah Ray, his pretty blues singer, whose contract in Hollywood has brought about a lot of litigation.

Harris and Miss Lee are losing weight fleeing from summons servers and dodging injunctions, and have arrangements all made to broadcast via the NBC from Jersey if court orders issued in New York catch up to them.

This and That

Guy Lombardo's orchestra is assured a New York spot this winter . . . Paul Sabin and his band will be back on the same program as last year when the leaves begin to fall . . . Aaronson is slated for a famous Broadway spot

Globe-Trotting

By LOUIS L. KAUFMAN

Hello, ladies and gentlemen:

Somebody in Brookline asks what is a "pop" concert and why.

That "pop" business is a contraction for the word "popular" and is presumed to mean music with which the general public is more familiar. The program of such a concert usually features the light opera, the serenades, and the tuneful arias from well-known operas.

* * *

With polo fast becoming a well-followed sport, Martha Jackson wants to know what the terminology is. Well, a "chukker" is a period of play. (John Redmond, polo fan, for years called it a "chuckle".)

The mallet is what you sock the ball with. The ball is made of bamboo root and is very light. It gets dinged quickly and then performs all kinds of queer hops.

The four players are No. 1, 2, 3 and back.

Regulation calls for eight chukkers of 7½ minutes each to a game. Most matches modify the number and duration by agreement. Eight chukkers mean that each player must have four ponies.

Four ponies cost a lot of money to keep up. I'm still sticking to croquet.

Walter Winchell ON BROADWAY

Portrait of a Man Talking to Himself

The monotony of New York in the torrid spell is something to grieve about . . . Perhaps I shouldn't have left it for the more exciting Hollywood scene—where for a New York item-collector, at any rate, the movie colony is exhilarating . . . Though I know dozens of news jotter downers out there who would swap routines with me—for expense coin . . . Here in Manhattan, however, with the thermometer playing practical jokes, I am moody—mainly because the Broadway which so many of us hoped would be revived one day—now offers no indication whatever of doing so . . . Instead, it has lost all flavor, glamor and spark . . . And to make it seem more like the Ghetto—the police permit the pushcart peddlers to clutter up the busiest Times Square corners—the harder to cross the street, my dear . . . Yes, I miss the artificial way they have about them out there in the magic lantern belt . . . Although to be honest about it—the population there now is chiefly made of former Broadway citizens, all struggling for whatever honors Hollywood has to offer—and clutching at each other's throat—just as they did in New York . . . But it made for more excitement than can be found between the Battery and Yonkers—and I have wasted gallons of gas seeking a new shiver . . . I take that back. Minor and Root's "Bolero" on the Moritz Roof lifts the fuzz on your face.

They probably will murder "Lazy Bones" as they did "Stormy Weather" . . . No radio or cafe routine, it appears, is complete without it . . . The better version, however, is Mildred Bailey's—a hot plate . . . It is so obvious that the radio executives use political talks to kill time. . . The President's appeal is the only reason why I tune him in . . . He has a way about him, and whether or not you are interested in his subject—he reaches you . . . The others sound exactly like politicians . . . Dr. Frank Vizetelly's new stunt in the Litdige is refreshing. He coaches you on how to correctly pronounce unfamiliar names of people and cities that pop up in the news . . . Franchot Tone's natural manner in "Stranger's Return" at the State is easy on the orbs . . . And I still snap back into expectation when the newsreels come on . . . I think I know now why they invented the newsreel . . . No matter how dull the news —they help you forget the previous "short"—always alleged comedies . . . Oh, well. The play-season is now officially on for me . . . It will be some place to go.

Two of the nicest lads I know are in hospitals—in this weather, yet! . . . Neither of them has been known to be naughty in his newspaper career—but there they are, victims of the surgeon's blade, while no-accounts like me suffer only from ennui . . . Fate is unjust . . . I simply can't get tired of playing any Bing Crosby recording . . . And the only laugh I've had in a long spell was reading a windy piece on various Hollywood men and women, who, according to the writer of the article, were supremely happy . . . The piece was intended to reveal that most of the news about the movie stars was so much gossip—fashioned by the army of news-hunters out there . . . And of the several "happily married" couples, the author named some who really are carrying on and suffering through it all—to avoid the dreaded California Community Law, which exacts half of the husband's or wife's fortune, no matter whose fault it is . . . It made me laugh a little, I mean, because the subjects themselves, as well as their friends, certainly will titter at the author's well meant, but inaccurate, observations.

Probably the only well-written and sane account of the "real" Garbo is that serial in one of the movie magazines, the name of which eludes me in my haste . . . It is being done by a young Swede, who met Greta when she first came to Hollywood—and because he could speak her tongue, was one of her slaves on the lot and off . . . His articles have that tang of authenticity, at any rate, and his comments about the glamorous and mysterious woman make for fascinating reading . . . The accompanying photographs of Miss Garbo, taken in her earlier times, are also interesting, and her inscriptions to him on these likenesses testify to their friendship . . . She hasn't forgotten what it means to be poor . . . And is still thrifty . . . I saw her in her faded motor car once . . . She just won't put on airs . . . She gets along best with Walter Wagner, the Metro executive, and Ernst Lubitsch, who makes her laugh . . . No matter how poor the picture, Marie Dressler manages to survive the handicap of mediocrity . . . The only actress with a soul . . . Richard Barthelmess simply will not agree to any theme that might shock his admirers . . . Or so they told me on the lot where he performs . . . He probably knows best—he has profited greatly all these years with sentimentality —while so many others who began when he did—are playing "bits" today . . . I still don't understand how the cameramen remove the wrinkles and those valises from under the eyes of so many women who were ingenues when Theda Bara was.

His name is George and he serves one of the newspapers from Police Headquarters down on Center street . . . For 30 years, it appears, George has flashed stories of murder, theft and arson—being responsible for many of the scoops in New York City—yet he never wrote a bit of copy in his career . . . No time to write it . . . George tells it to a re-write man via the phone . . . There's an eye-filling cover for any magazine in those rowboats that are bunched in a circle in the lake near Central Park South . . . I never knew until the other dawn why the fire chief gets to the scene later than the firemen . . . Because, they told me, he takes time to dress or change his tie—while the men merely slide down the pole in their lingerie . . . I just can't get interested in going anywhere by plane . . . Nobody can make me believe that flying a whole day and night to the Coast in your clothes is comfortable . . . The salesmen for passenger planes are pretty blunt, too . . . The last time I confessed that flying frightened me . . . brought me a scolding from one of them, who said I should be ashamed of myself admitting such a thing—considering that I represent something modern. And that I musn't consider myself modern —as I am old-fashioned, etc.

Those people who carry on campaigns opposing billboards which "ruin the natural scenery" would hunger for the sight of one of them between Kansas City and San Bernardino—on the Santa Fe route . . . Nothing but wastelands and perhaps a corn field to give the orb an ache . . . How embarrassing for the composer of "I Loved You Wednesday," the song . . . When Sigmund Spaeth, "The Tune Detective," who traces all tunes—traced that theme to several other composers . . . My idea of an intelligent number is "Cabin in the Pines," and the one song that teases my nerves is that silly lyric about "the river has a soul" and "fills my bowl" . . . Mr. Newman's travelogs are comforting. He takes you around the world and omits the smells . . . If only those responsible for Educational's stupid short "Torchy" could have witnessed the response of a Ziegfeld audience the other Sunday evening . . . If the producers had been there, they would have shuddered a little—for the audience responded with jeers and hisses . . . And little wonder . . . Theater audiences have grown up.

Winchell Film Has a New Star

By HARRISON CARROLL

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 25.—The role that was a jinx for Peggy Joyce and for Lilyan Tashman has turned out to be anything but for Blossom Seeley.

Miss Seeley

After looking at the first day's pinch-hitting done by the vaudeville actress in "Broadway Through a Keyhole," Darryl Zanuck called Blossom in and signed her to a long-term contract with Twentieth Century Pictures.

As further proof of his enthusiasm, he has had a role written in for Blossom in the George Bancroft picture, "Blood Money," and is putting two writers to work on a starring vehicle for her.

While they're not talking, rumor has it that Zanuck and Joseph M. Schenck believe they have discovered another potential Mae West in the vaudeville star.

* * *

One of the better drunk stories is told by W. S. Van Dyke, the director.

It seems that a guest at a local speakeasy began to get ugly and to want to fight. Finally, he picked upon a fellow, and growled:

"Shay, I don't like you. As far as I'm concerned, you can go straight to the devil. And I'm just the man who can do it!"

* * *

Hollywood Parade: One of the networks is pleading with Marie Dressler to name her own price, if she will go on the air 15 minutes a week for 15 weeks. The star is going to turn them down because she feels she needs a complete rest for several months.

The gossips are abuzz. Several times recently, Frances Dee and Joel McCrea have been seen shopping together on the Boulevard. Now both of them have a short vacation from the studio and both are refusing to make engagements. Can it be an elopement?

Doctors have ordered Katharine Hepburn to stop work daily at 5 p. m. The screen's newest sensation suffers from no particular ailment, but the medicos fear nervous exhaustion if she doesn't ease up on her recent hours before the camera.

Miss Hepburn

* * *

Max Baer's set has superseded the dancing girls as the magnet for visitors and players on the M. G. M. lot. The heavyweight championship contender shows absolutely no nervousness in the face of the camera. He is more relaxed than the veterans. Demands for passes to see the coming ring scenes between Baer and Primo Carnera are so great that M. G. M. plans to limit them to 100, and to issue tickets for seats.

Funny story, Lee Tracy passes on about Baer. The other day, they were explaining to Max how to pull his punches against a nervous extra man. Baer turned to his victim and said:

"I understand how to pull punches, but I've got to hit you, or how are they going to get that sound for the screen?"

Imagine Baer hitting you for sound?

DID YOU KNOW: That John Monk Saunders, Hollywood author (Fay Wray is married to him, too), once captained the Oxford swimming team and won the 100-yard dash from Cambridge for three successive years, 1919-20 and '21?

(Copyright, 1933, King Features Synd., Inc.)

Man at Gate Knows 'Em

"Mac," the gateman at a Hollywood studio, never has to look up from his desk to identify the stars entering the studio. Each has his or her own mannerisms, and "Mac" can identify them without difficulty merely by sound.

Maurice Chevalier, who walks to the studio from his Los Feliz home, strides in jauntily, smiling and beaming on everyone.

Mae West makes a grand entrance, with that mincing walk she has made famous on the screen.

Jack Oakie boils through the door in a frenzy of heavy footsteps, waving arms, and "Hi, Boy!"

Richard Arlen stops to talk with everyone.

Dorothea Wieck strides in briskly with a walk like Garbo, and shakes hands vigorously with her friends.

Cary Grant stomps heavily, and baritones hearty greetings.

The Four Marx Brothers usually arrive singly, and quietly.

Claudette Colbert is never in a hurry, and is never without a smile.

Bing Crosby enters quietly, talks in a husky whisper, and goes straight to his dressing room.

Jack La Rue clatters through the gate like a noisy schoolboy instead of the suave, sleek gangster he often is on the screen.

PRETTY TOBY WING ALL READY FOR A BEACH GAME

'Doctor' Dunn In Fulton

By MARGARET RUSSELL

Surprising how young folks get ahead in the world these days. In "The Girl in 419," a hospital-gangster melodrama at the Fulton this week, "Doctor" James Dunn, looking his same youthful, effervescing self, is not only the head of a big city hospital, but a noted surgeon as well. And he doesn't look a day over 30.

He prides himself on being hard-boiled and immune to feminine charms until, enters the hospital a beautiful girl, found badly beaten on a lonely street. Smitten by her loveliness and the air of mystery surrounding her identity, "Doctor" Jimmy almost despairs of saving her life. But he does, by daring administration of a potent heart stimulant and a kiss on the cheek.

It develops that the girl—it's Gloria Stuart—is a former gangster's moll, and the gang is still gunning for her because she knows too much about a certain murder. It gets to be too much for the poor "Doctor," but the kind hand of fate, in the person of an avenging fellow-doctor, David Manners, steps in and fixes everything for a happy fade-out.

Pittsburgh's own Vince Barnett, as a comic orderly, a hiccoughing patient in a room down the hall, and Johnny Hines, as a reporter who simply hangs around the hospital all the time, all furnish funny moments.

Oh, and you'll want to see David Hutton, Aimee Semple McPherson's celebrated husband, in his own original vaudeville act.

Movies Want Rights to Local Play

One of the major film companies is dickering for the movie rights to "Three to Make Ready," by Helen H. Mason, Pittsburgh playwright. This play was first produced by the Summer Playhouse last Monday night at the Arnold School Theater, where it will terminate tomorrow night.

Thrill Act at Kennywood

The Ateno Brothers, European high-in-the-air performers, end their dare devil act at Kennywood Monday. In spinning hoops, 70 feet off the ground they pose, balance and carry each other's weight with only a toe hold on a giddy revolving perch. The act is a novelty, showing for the first time to American audiences. It will be shown today, tomorrow, Sunday and Monday at 4:30 and at 9:30 p. m.

Meredith Stump and his musicians play their final dance at Kennywood tomorrow night. Benny Burton and his orchestra play for the dancing Monday afternoon and night. Dances will be held in Kennywood's open air ball room Monday and Saturday of next week. There is no dancing Sundays.

South Side's Plea.
An Athletic Field.
And Decent Gym.

For Its High School.
Teams Handicapped.
Facilities Are Lacking.

RESIDENTS ORGANIZE FOR RELIEF.

WANTED—An adequate gymnasium and an athletic field for a high school serving a community of 75,000 persons in the heart of a great city.

No less a city than Pittsburgh itself.

Imagine a high school in these modern times, with an enrollment of more than 2,000 students, struggling along without even a suitable practice field of its own, yet striving year in and year out to turn out teams to cope on an even basis with schools which have the very best facilities the taxpayers' money can supply.

Suppose you were a father or a mother with growing children and believed that a sound body makes for a sound mind and you lived in a community that didn't have available the facilities with which to carry on properly? What would you do about it?

Correct. You'd join in a movement to get that athletic field and that gymnasium. And that's just what a group of leading citizens of the South Side are doing now, organizing to present a petition to the Board of Education and City Council to see what can be done about it.

FOUR-MILE TRIP NECESSARY FOR PRACTICE

All of these years, South High School has been struggling on without a home basketball floor of its own, playing its games in the South Side Market House, where there are no dressing facilities, making it necessary for the boys to don their playing togs in the school and come back in wet clothes to the school after the games and practice sessions.

During the football season, the South High School players have to go in trucks to Langley High School, in the West End, four miles away, to work out, getting back after dark. They also have to play their home games at the Langley field and deplete their athletic fund for the rental of the field and transportation.

Yet, in spite of this handicap, their teams have been uniformly good. During the last basketball season, South High won the W. P. I. A. L. championship and grittily went to the semi-finals of the state championship tournament, losing to Altoona in the eliminations at State College.

OTHER SCHOOLS HAVE EDGE IN FACILITIES

No such great handicap is faced by the other city high schools. Fifth Avenue High does not have a home football field on which to play or practice, but it has the use of the Schenley High School field for its games and Flynn Park, not far away, for its workouts, and it has an ample gymnasium.

South Hills High School is handicapped with a small and none too desirable football practice field and also plays its games at Langley. Peabody was in dire straits until it gained a splendid new field two years ago. The newer high schools have the last word in athletic equipment and facilities. South and Fifth Avenue are the most neglected and both serve exceptionally large communities.

The Board of Education's hands are tied. It does not have the funds available to help the situation as matters stand now, so that the only relief in sight lies with City Council, which will be appealed to as soon as a permanent committee to handle the South Side protest is organized.

RESIDENTS ORGANIZE TO MAKE APPEAL

So far the following leading citizens of the South Side have alligned themselves to push the request for better athletic facilities for their high school teams: Ernest Roth, president of the South Side Advancement Association; Benjamin Friedland, president of the South Side Business Men's Association; R. Rudy Brenlove, president of the South High School Alumni Association; William Finkel; Elmer J. Holland, president of the Sixteenth Ward Improvement Association; Frank J. Skalak, director of the Brashear Settlement; Conrad A. Eibeck, president of the St. Clair Board of Trade; William Yost, president of the South Side Community Council; Rev. Thomas Cook, president of the Parents-Teachers' Association of South High School; Simon Kolasinski, president of the South Side Polish Falcons; Stephen R. Wajert, president of the Polish Political Alliance; Dr. W. A. Gregory, Fred Breitweiser; George A. Jones, Jr., of the South Side Advancement Association, and George Stepanovich.

IMPOSSIBLE TO BUILD UP SCHOOL SPIRIT

The business men of the South Side would like to engender a warm spirit of community support for the athletic teams of their high school, and would like to patronize the games of their football team, but they cannot close up their shops to make the long trips necessary for the "home" games. They would like to see their school participate in baseball, soccer and track and field, all of which now are denied it because of lack of facilities. They feel confident little or no difficulty would be encountered in obtaining a plot of ground near the school for an athletic field, easy of access to the student body, which then could attend the games en masse and work up a school interest which is sadly lacking under present conditions. Comparatively few of the students are able to make the long jaunt to Langley to attend the games, much less the practice sessions of the football team.

COMMUNITY LACKING IN PLAYING SPACE

South High School is one of the oldest in Pittsburgh, and, consequently, one of the least modern in its appointments. At one time it used a space near Ninth Street and the Monongahela River, but this was given up when players were badly injured due to the rough condition of the ground.

It is felt that if successful teams can be developed in spite of the present handicaps it will be possible to do even better under more favorable circumstances, and the sports program can be elaborated upon and made attractive for many more boys and girls, leading to improvement of their health standards.

There is not a single athletic field of any sort worth mentioning on the entire South Side, with the result that more youngsters are forced to play their meager games in the dangerous street there than in probably any other section of Pittsburgh. A field for them is a necessity, not a luxury.

SCHOOL RICH IN ATHLETIC TRADITION

South High School's athletic history is rich in tradition. The school has turned out some remarkable athletes, among VANDALIA, O., Aug. 25.—Two marksmen were tied for the lead at the half-way mark in the Grand American handicap trapshooting tournament here today.

They were M. L. Conover, of Dayton, O., and Walter Beaver, of Berwyn, Pa. Both had perfect scores for the first 50 targets.

Nine shooters were knotted for second place at the half-way mark with scores of 49 out of the possible 50. A total of 597 marksmen were competing in the event.

LINKS PARTY ON TODAY

By TOM BIRKS

A day of golf, including a kickers' handicap and the usual sweepstakes, is on tap at the Churchill Valley Golf Club today. President Martin is putting on a gala day for members, with all kinds of entertainment to go along with the regular golf program.

The mixed foursome scheduled for yesterday afternoon at Highland was postponed until next Thursday. The heavy rains of the morning prevented the chairman of the entertainment committee from going ahead with the arrangements for the corn roast that was to have followed the golf.

The men's city championship tourney is scheduled for Schenley Park September 5. As was the case in the women's championship, private club members will be invited to play.

W. P. Lemmer, Duquesne Junior High School football coach, scored an ace yesterday at the Duquesne Golf Club, sinking his tee shot on the 158-yard No. 6 hole.

Members of the staff of Radio Station KDKA will enjoy their fourth annual handicap golf tournament and outing at the East Palestine (O.) Country Club tomorrow afternoon and evening. Twenty-five golfers are expected to participate in the links play in the afternoon. A dinner and a musical program arranged by Aneurin Bodycombe will be features of the evening program.

Geneva to Open Grid Drills Monday

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., Aug. 25—Geneva College will open its football training camp next Monday morning, thereby getting the jump on the remainder of the tri-state field.

Coach Jimmy Robertson and his assistant, Bob Schmidt, former Tech stars, make their debut as college mentors at Geneva this year. They plan two sessions daily until school opens.

Between Rounds

Here's a boost for the people who follow boxing. Joe Fogarty, groundkeeper at Forbes Field, says he found only four empty whisky bottles after the Yarosz-Dundee fight there last Monday night. It is not uncommon to pick up four or five bushel baskets after a football game.

Jimmy Thomas boxes Tony Tassi and Mose Butch meets Mario Marino in bouts in Detroit, September 11.

Buddy McArthur boxes Joe Doktor and Frankie Reilly meets Jackie Davis in two eight-round bouts featuring the closing outdoor show at Fairmont, W. Va., next Thursday night.

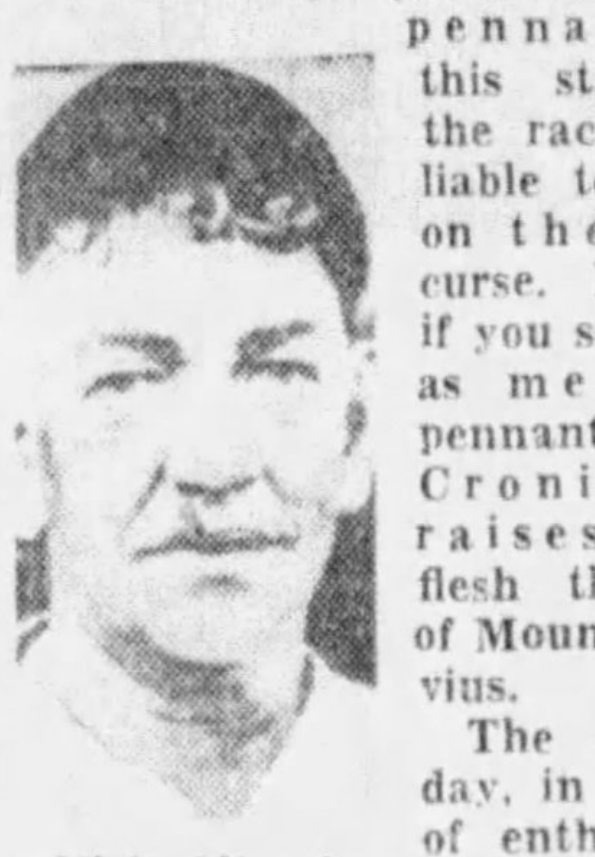
A Newark (N. J.) sports writer who came all of the way to Pittsburgh to cover the Dundee-Yarosz fight, writes in his paper: "While the decision giving Yarosz the fight was a popular one with the crowd, Dundee left the ring amid great cheering, and in the opinion of the writer should have been declared the winner." Now you tell one.

BASEBALL COMEDY

By NICK ALTROCK

DETROIT, Aug. 25.—Well, folks, our Washington club has practically got the Yankees out on a limb and all we got to do now is to saw it off. The only thing left to worry about then is the jinx.

You know, if you start talking pennants at this stage of the race, it is liable to bring on the gypsy curse. In fact, if you so much as mention pennant to Joe Cronin, he raises gooseflesh the size of Mount Vesuvius.



Nick Altrock

The other day, in a spell of enthusiasm, I said, "Joe, I think we've nailed the flag."

Joe said, "What flag?"

I said, "The pennant—did you think I meant the Star Spangled Banner?"

Joe said, "I never heard of it."

I said, "You mean to say you never heard of the Star Spangled Banner?"

He said, "I never heard of either of 'em."

I said, "Did you ever hear of Betsy Ross?"

He said, "I never even heard of George Washington or the American Revolution. And, if it's all the same to you, don't mention pennants, flags, emblems, ensigns, standards, bunting, tricolors, streamers or gonfalons to me till after October first."

So I won't.

WOMEN STARS IN SWIM

TORONTO, Aug. 25.—(AP.)—Thirty-five leading swimmers, including 16 from the United States, were ready to plunge into Lake Ontario shortly after noon today in the Canadian National Exhibition's annual 10-mile marathon for women.

A total of $6,000 was to be distributed in cash prizes with $3,000 going to the winner, $1,500 for second place, $700 for third, $500 for fourth, $200 for fifth, and $100 for sixth.

A Canadian, Mrs. Ruth Tower-Corsan, of Toronto, remained a strong favorite although there was support also for Evelyn Armstrong, of Detroit; Leah Riley, of Keansburg, N. J.; May Looney, of Warren, O.; Liza Commanda; young Indian girl from French River, Ont.; Anna Benoit and Ruth Downing, of Toronto, and Lillian Copplestone, of Christ Church, N. Z.

Supporting Mrs. Armstrong, Miss Riley and Miss Looney in the American challenge were Blanche Saunders, Brewster, N. Y.; Jessie Mastersen, Terre Haute, Ind.; Marjorie Stephens, North Chelmsford, Mass.; Sally La Salle, Beatrice, Neb.; Dorothy Nalevaiko Glen Cove, N. Y.; Dorothy Stunkard and Irene Brumby, Philadelphia; Beryl Watson, Bay City, Mich.; Anna Jensen, Chicago; Bertha Bolasny, Cleveland; Eva Davies, Detroit; Nell Hurley, Memphis, and Clara Linski, Chester, Pa.

RICH GOLD CUP RACE WON BY EQUIPOISE

CHICAGO, Aug. 25.—(AP.)—Equipoise, Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney's gold mine in horseflesh, today had moved up a notch in the ranking of all-time heavy money winners of the turf.

Victory in the Hawthorne Gold Cup, when, ridden by Sonny Workman, he outcharged Gallant Sir in a stretch duel, added $17,250 to "The Big Train's" earnings yesterday and sent his all-time winnings to $314,420, to pass Zev's mark. Now only Sun Beau, Phar Lap and Gallant Fox outrank the Whitney ace as a revenue-producer.

PAYS SMALL PRICE

A 1 to 5 favorite in this outstanding weight for age race, Equipoise was able to earn $2.36 for the large numbers who played him to win, while Gallant Sir paid scarcely less, $2.32, for a place ticket.

Mrs. J. N. Sloan's entry, Mr. Khayyam, was third, passed in the stretch by both Equipoise and Gallant Sir. Big Brand was fourth and Plucky Play fifth.

The field of seven was reduced to five with the withdrawal of Jim Dandy and Indian Runner.

When the barrier was lifted, Mr. Khayyam, breaking on the outside, sprinted to the front, with Gallant Sir second, a length behind him, and Equipoise third, the same distance back. They went that way around the first turn, and as they turned into the back stretch, Gallant Sir made a bid to pass Mr. Khayyam.

WINS IN STRETCH

As they galloped around the last and far turn into the stretch, Equipoise and Gallant Sir began to overtake Mr. Khayyam. Gallant Sir was the first to pass Mr. Khayyam. Then the rough work began as Equipoise came thundering down the stretch. Jockey Lee Humphries, astride Gallant Sir, bumped Equipoise, forcing him to the middle of the track, but Equipoise had too much reserve speed and strength. He quickly overcame the interference from Gallant Sir, took the lead and came charging on to victory.

CAREY SIGNED FOR 1934

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—(AP.)—The turnover in major league managerships may be as great as ever before the 1934 season opens, but the Brooklyn Dodgers, hitherto regarded as most likely to make a change, have decided to hang on to Max Carey for another year.

Max was re-engaged for the 1934 campaign yesterday despite the fact he has been under fire all season because of the Dodgers' poor showing in the National League. Picked to finish well up with the leaders, the club has had a tough battle to keep out of the cellar, and there have been persistent reports Carey would be succeeded either by Gabby Street, deposed leader of the St. Louis Cardinals, or Burleigh Grimes.

JOHNSON APPROVED

CLEVELAND, Aug. 25.—The Cleveland Baseball Club has formally approved Walter Johnson as manager of the Indians for 1934. On June 11 Johnson was given a contract for the remainder of this year and all of next, but a clause was inserted permitting the club to dismiss him at any time.

Baer Fight? A Tough One, Carnera Says Here

By HARRY KECK, Sports Editor

Primo Carnera doesn't care what his next match will be. They can toss him in with Jack Sharkey again in Miami in February, or with Max Baer in New York in the summer. And he doesn't know for a certainty whether a bout in Rome, Italy, with Don McCorkindale will go through.

Anyway, he says he's the champion of the world now and he should fight anybody and he's willing to fight anybody. It's all up to his managers.

Primo is here for his exhibition of four rounds for the benefit of the needy of the North Side under the auspices of the St. Peter's A. A., tonight. He was to perform last night, but the show was set back because of threatening weather. If it is impossible to hold it outdoors tonight, it will be moved indoors at the Arena, also on the North Side

SHOWS KAYO PUNCH

Asked about his Sharkey fight in which he won the title recently in Long Island City, Primo, who speaks very good English, said:

"Here, I'll show you. Keep your glasses on and get down and crouch—see? Then I bring up a short right uppercut. And there you have a picture for the paper of Primo hitting a man with glasses on. How's that. Some fun, eh, boss?"

The huge Italian said that when he fought Sharkey the first time—

"What a licking he gave me then!"

But it was a valuable lesson, and appreciated.

He added he saw no reason why Sharkey shouldn't continue to box, especially when he can get $25,000 touches for bouts with King Levinsky and Tommy Loughran. He said Levinsky, a wild swinger, whom he himself has boxed twice, shouldn't hit the clever Sharkey in 10 rounds, while Sharkey, with a knockout victory to his credit over Loughran, has little to fear from the latter, because Tommy isn't much of a puncher.

BAER BIG AND TOUGH

The champion was asked what he thought of a match with Max Baer next summer for the title.

"Baer is big and tough and a good puncher. It will be a good fight. But he won't push me around and twist me out of position and belt me as he did Schmeling. Schmeling fought like a sick man that night. Either that or he was afraid."

Carnera said he had a chance to return home with Gen. Balbo on one of the Italian commander's squadron of airplanes, but his engagements here prevented. Also, he would have been excess baggage and the plane would have been forced to carry a dangerously low supply of gasoline to make up for his weight.

The big fellow was in a good humor when interviewed in his hotel room. He kidded around a lot, but said he was through clowning in public. Said that it was all right to attract attention when he was coming up, but, now that he is the champion of the world, he must try to lend some dignity to the title. He asked that he be excused from being photographed eating a mess of spaghetti or showing off the size of his feet.

VISITS ORPHANAGE

Carnera is showing here gratis, except for his expenses. He is traveling in a big open automobile, with his brother, Severino, and his tour manager, Andy Neidereiter, of Brooklyn, a veteran manager of boxers and promoter and right-hand man of Bill Duffy, Carnera's manager. They came in yesterday from Youngstown, where they appeared the night before, and went direct to the home of Promoter Art Rooney, on the North Side, and then moved to the Fort Pitt Hotel. In the afternoon, they went to St. Anthony's Orphanage in Oakmont, where Rev. Chuck Cherdini, former Duquesne University athletic star, is in charge. At 4:30 this afternoon, the champion is to be guest of honor at a reception in the local Italian Consulate, 514 Neville street, arranged by Consul A. Calabro.

The preliminary card of two six-round bouts and three four-rounders arranged for last night stands for the Carnera exhibition tonight. Billy Holt and Phil Ross are in the main event.

Hack Wilson Plays Second for Dodgers

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—(AP.)—Brooklyn baseball fans today rubbed their eyes to see if they were seeing right as the Dodgers took the field against the Cincinnati Reds with Hack Wilson stationed at second base.

With Jake Flowers laid up with a sprained ankle, Tony Cuccinello out with a charley horse and Jimmy Jordan nursing a fractured hand, Manager Max Carey had no infield reserves. He called for volunteers and Hack got the job.

Wilson broke in as a catcher with Martinsburg in 1921, but so far as known he had never played any other position but the outfield in the major leagues.

Commission Cuts Down 'Deadheads'

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 25.—(AP.)—The fight faithful will have to prove their loyalty in Pennsylvania, for the State Athletic Commission has put the lid on the complimentary ticket box.

Promoters in Philadelphia cannot have more than 250 passes; those in Pittsburgh and Scranton, not more than 100, and in other communities only 50.

Season tickets are abolished, employe tickets are prohibited, and police and firemen must pay their way in unless actually on duty. Both boxing and wrestling shows are affected.

BRAVES CONTINUE INSPIRED FLAG DRIVE

BOSTON NINE REDUCES IDLE GIANTS' LEAD

Associated Press.

The Boston Braves, a team of opportunists, today had whittled the New York Giants' lead to six games and threatened to shave still more off before the National League leaders clash in a crucial series beginning next Thursday.

Wally Berger's home run bat was muffled yesterday for the first time in three days, but the Braves received seven-hit pitching from Ed Brandt and took advantage of Bill Hallahan's wildness and Pepper Martin's error to beat the St. Louis Cardinals again, 4-3, and hang up their nineteenth victory in 23 games.

HALLAHAN WILD

Hallahan walked four men in the first inning and the Braves scored two runs with the aid of an infield out, while Martin's error put Rabbit Maranville in position to score in the second. Their final run in the fifth was earned and decisive. Joe Medwick drove in all the Cardinal counters with a home run and double. The defeat dropped the Cards into fifth place.

The Chicago Cubs moved within one game of second place with a double victory over the Phillies. Behind Guy Bush's three-hit pitching they won the opener, 5 to 0, and then slugged out a 9-to-6 decision in the nightcap.

After the Brooklyn Dodgers had won the first game, 2 to 0, with Van Mungo hurling seven-hit ball, the Reds, with the veteran Larry Benton pitching, snapped their 11-game losing streak by taking the second game, 3 to 2.

SENATORS WIN

In the American League the Washington Senators maintained their eight-game advantage over the New York Yankees, slugging out a 13-to-6 victory over the Detroit Tigers, while the champions were downing the Cleveland Indians, 10 to 1.

Led by Goose Goslin, who poled out two home runs, the Senators collected 17 hits off three Detroit pitchers. The Yankees got only 10 hits off Oral Hildebrand and his two successors, but they were aided by misplays by Harley Boss, Bill Kamm and Earl Averill.

The Athletics and Browns split a doubleheader, St. Louis winning the opener, 7 to 6, in 10 innings after getting to Bob Grove for six runs in the sixth, and Philadelphia the second, 4 to 3, in a pitching duel between Merrit Cain and Bump Hadley.

LOCAL HORSE PACE VICTOR

BUTLER, Pa., Aug. 25.—Mrs. William Haas, of Pittsburgh, had the pleasure of seeing her colors carried to victory in the 2:17 pace at the Butler County Fair yesterday by Mountaineer Direct, a black gelding, who scored a split heat triumph.

After winning the first heat in 2:13¼, the Haas gelding was forced from the track by a broken sulky in the second. He came back to win the third in the fine time of 2:12¼.

JUNE DIRECT WINS

JACKTOWN, Pa., Aug. 25.—June Direct and Bay Leay scored in yesterday's harness horse races at the Jacktown fair.

June Direct scored a split heat victory in the 2:25 pace and Bay Leaf won in straight heats in the free-for-all trot.

EXPLANATION OF RIPLEY'S CARTOON OF YESTERDAY: BRIGHAM YOUNG—Brigham Young, great Mormon leader and founder of Utah, more than any other one man deserves the credit for pioneering and settling the Rocky Mountain section of the United States. His fame as a leader and organizer is not as widespread as his fame for being the husband of 19 wives and the father of 56 children. Yet such was the magnanimity of his nature that he legally adopted three more children—Joseph, Royal and Julia Young—and raised an Indian in his family, although the latter never was adopted as a child.

TOMORROW: A HUMAN DOG.

Speed Boat Races Planned at Oakmont

The Oakmont Boat Club, a large organization, is planning to revive outboard speed boat races along the Hulton Course, Oakmont, as in the days of yore.

The first regatta to be sponsored by the club will take place on Labor Day, with a series of canoe, scull and power boat events. Professional and amateur drivers will compete. The first entry was received from Marty Kuntz, of Oakmont, a veteran handler of speed boats, who is entered in the pro class.

them Mickey Gross, Al Callahan, Barney Broderick, Johnny Baker, Dan McGarey, Phil Gentille and the Diegelman brothers, basketball aces; Walter Gross, former Penn State football star, now the Schenley High School coach; Paul J. Bleichner and Maynard P. Rosser, football satellites, and, more recently, Thomas Holland, who went to Waynesburg College; Don Holland, of W. & J.; John Sopon, W. & J.; Albert Stanich, Geneva, and Bill Jesko, who is going to college this fall.

Coaches who have developed good players and teams in spite of the handicaps faced at South High include Paul Doyle, Walter Gross, Ned Replogle and Grover C. Washabaugh, the present incumbent. If any testimony is needed on the subject, they probably can speak volumes.

TALK GIVES WAY TO DEMAND FOR ACTION

For years there has been talk of doing something for the boys and girls who attend South High School, but there have been no tangible results. Now, however, with an organized movement backed by leading residents, and the limelight of publicity thrown upon the situation, action is expected in short order.

A decent athletic field and gymnasium quarters which will enable the students to play and witness their basketball games within their own school building are all that is asked.

Is that too much to give the youngsters we expect to be our good citizens in the years to come?

In the final contest today, for the championship of the 24 states east of the Mississippi River, Springfield will meet Trenton, N. J. The New Jersey team qualified yesterday by defeating Gastonia, N. C., 4 to 3.

POLO TILT TOMORROW

A polo game between the South Park Polo Club and the South Hills Saddle and Harness Association will be staged at the Polo Club's home field, Adler Farm, Lachman road, near Library, tomorrow afternoon.

NEWMAN STARS AS EAST WINS GRID FRAY

CHICAGO, Aug. 25.—(AP.)—The Far West's football warriors tested the wizardry of Harry Newman, Michigan's magician of the gridiron—and lost.

Playing one of his greatest games, the all-America ace of the Big Ten football wars led the Eastern forces to a thrilling 13-to-7 triumph over the West in the all-star game before 45,000 spectators at Soldier Field last night.

Newman eclipsed the field with spectacular runs, punt returns, line smashes and generalship to conjure the victory.

STARS IN BATTLE

Forty-five hand picked stars, gathered for the engagement by Coach Howard Jones, of Southern California, and Coach Dick Hanley, of Northwestern, fought in the intersectional battle. Many of them, including Hank Schaldach, of California; Dick Nesbit, of Washington; Roy Horstmann, of Purdue, and Gil Berry, of Illinois, demonstrated how they had won their football reputations, but Newman was the big show.

Deadlocked at seven-all after three-quarters of battling under the floodlights, Newman, a threat all evening, swung into action in the final quarter for his best performance after Jim Purvis, of Purdue, had intercepted a West pass on West's 34-yard line. The Wolverine star ran 11 yards around his right end and almost got away for a touchdown and then passed a bullet-like heave to Gene Ronzani, of Marquette, who went over for the winning score.

The East was the first to score after being threatened twice. Horstmann plunged over from nine yards on three blasts at the line for a touchdown after Gill Berry, of Illinois, had passed to Baker, of Northwestern, and Horstmann for two gains of eight yards each. Jack Manders, of Minnesota, place kicked the extra point.

WEST TIES COUNT

The West tied the count in the second period when Dick Nesbit, of Washington, blocked a punt by Wesley Fesler, of Ohio State, and ran 15 yards for a touchdown. Johnny Baker, of Southern California, helped with a perfect placement. Then after a series of punts, and breaks, Newman led the Easterners' victory march which ended after his brilliant pass in the fourth quarter. The lineup:

EAST—13.		WEST—7.
Robinson, Minn.	L. E.	Sparling, U.S.C.
Wells, Minn.	L. T.	Brown, U. S. C.
Munn, Minn.	L. G.	Gill, Cal.
Ely, Nebraska	C.	Williamson, U.S.C.
Harriss, N. D.	R. G.	Baker, U.S.C.
Riley, N. W.	R. T.	E.Smith, U.S.C.
Fesler, Ohio State	R. E.	Nesbit, Wash.
Newman, Mich.	Q. B.	Schaldach, USC.
Zim'r'n, Tulane	L. H. B.	Drury, U.S.C.
Purvis, Purue	R. H. B.	Krause, Gonzaga
Horstmann, Pur.	F. B.	Snaver, U.S.C.

Score by periods:

West	0	7	0	0	7
East	7	0	0	6	13

Scoring—West: Touchdown, Nesbit; point after touchdown, Baker (placement). East: Touchdowns, Horstmann, Ronzani, substitute for Horstmann; point after touchdown, Manders, substitute for Horstmann.

Officials—Refee, James Masker, Northwestern; umpire, H. G. Hedges, Dartmouth; head linesman, J. J. Lipp, Chicago; field judge, Col. H. B. Hacket, West Point.

SUBSTITUTES

East—Linesmen: Fenci, Northwestern; Baker, Northwestern; Marvil, Northwestern; Boswell, Texas Christian; Musso, Milliken; Kekich, Indiana; Summerfelt, Army; Crow, Haskell. Backs: McGuire, Wisconsin; Hinchman, Ohio; Manders, Minnesota; Ronzani, Marquette; Berry Illinois.

West—Linesmen: Mulhaupt, U. C. S. A.; Slavich, Santa, Clara; Johnson, Utah; Schwegler, Washington; Fletcher, St. Mary's; O'Brien, Washington; Sargent, Loyola. Backs: Sander, Washington State; Beasley, St. Mary's; Hufford, Washington; Tipton, U. S. C.; Christensen, Utah.

GRIMES AILING

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 25.—(AP.)—Burleigh Grimes, St. Louis Cardinal spitball pitcher, has brought an ailing arm here for treatment. Dr. R. F. Hyland, club physician, said he found several strained ligaments in Grimes' throowing shoulder and that the veteran may be out of action for some days.

CRACK FIELD AFTER TITLE AT CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Aug. 25.—(AP.)—Competing over two adjoining courses, layouts heavily fortified with trees, creeks and abrupt bluffs, a near record field of 194 professionals and amateurs today opened a 72-hole medal play battle for the Western open golf championship at Olympia Fields.

Walter Hagen, winner of the title at Cleveland last year, was missing from the field because of his European barnstorming tour, but there were plenty of important contenders.

SARAZEN ON FIELD

Gene Sarazen, national professional champion, and three Ryder Cup players, Horton Smith, Ed Dudley and Leo Diegel ranked as the favorites, with considerable opposition expected from such stars as Johnny Farrell, Harry Cooper, Tommy Armour, Willie Goggin, Ralph Guldahl and young Johnny Revolta, of Menominee, Mich.

Because of the large number of entries, the field will alternate over the two courses during the first two 18-hole rounds after which the low 60 and ties will fight out over course No. 4 in a final 36-hole test Sunday. Estimates varied from 286 to 290 as the winning 72-hole total.

COURSES ALIKE

The two courses were exceptionally alike in contour, with the No. 1 83 yards longer and par at 36-36—72. No. 4, scene of the national open championship play-off between Bobby Jones and Farrell, was regarded as the stiffest test of the two, although its par is 35-35—70.

The cash prizes total $2,145, with the winners purse set at $500.

Local Swimmers Leave for Meet

A team of Negro swimmers, representing the Center Avenue Y. M. C. A., will leave for Washington, D. C. this afternoon to participate in the sixth annual water carnival and A. A. U. swimming championships to be held there tomorrow. Walter Petty, physical director, is making the trip with the team.

F. Fountain, M. Fountain, John Collwell, John Smith and J. Harris are entered in the 50-yard free style, 200-yard relay, 150-yard backstroke, breaststroke and the 150-yard backstroke events. Jackie Murray, boxer, coaches the swimmers.

Rainy Day With a World Champion

CARNERA TUNES UP FOR RADIO INTERVIEW ON GLOBE TROTTER'S PROGRAM

VISITING ST. ANTHONY'S ORPHANAGE, OAKMONT . . . . CHILDREN WERE THRILLED

SHOWING HARRY KECK THE PUNCH WITH WHICH HE KNOCKED OUT SHARKEY

What's the heavyweight champion of the world to do when he comes to Pittsburgh and finds that his exhibition show has been postponed one night on account of rain? Well, here are a few of the ways in which Primo Carnera put in his time yesterday. He threatened to sing for Louis L. Kaufman, the Globe Trotter, and he almost knocked out our sports editor—not even giving him a chance to take off his glasses. Can you imagine that? This afternoon, at 4:30, he's holding a reception at the local Italian Consulate, and tonight he boxes two rounds each with Harold Mays and Frankie Edgren at the Allegheny Stadium, on the North Side. From here he goes to New York and then to Hollywood, Cal. These are Sun-Telegraph pictures.

Tennis Tourneys Washout Victims

Rain and soggy courts yesterday prevented action in three district and two national tennis tournaments. Efforts will be made today to resume action on all fronts.

The local South Park and Stanton Heights courts were idle yesterday, as was the field in the Central Pennsylvania championships at Altoona. The three local entrants in the Central tourney, Paul Sullivan, John Brown and Eddie Alvorn, have been forced to default their matches.

The long drawn-out women's national championships at Forest Hills and the national doubles play at the Longwood Cricket Club, Brookline, Mass., also had another off day.

At Butler, Campbell and Littell, of Beaver Falls, advanced to the final round of the Butler County doubles championships, defeated Jacobson and Flinner, 8-6, 6-4.

BUILDING SHOWS 30% UPTURN

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—(AP.)—Construction of all descriptions in 37 eastern states during the period from August 1 to August 15, reports the F. W. Dodge Corporation, totaled $56,243,000, or 30 per cent more than the total for the first half of July. The aggregate, however, was some 12 per cent smaller than in the first half of August last year.

In the August compilation, public works and utilities accounted for $27,209,800, and compared with only $18,940,800 for the entire month of July. Residential building awards from August 1 through August 15 totaled $10,876,100 as against $9,998,300 for the corresponding period of 1932, while nonresidential construction amounted to $18,157,700 as compared with $23,624,900 in the similar period last year.

Awards for residential building in July showed gains over a year ago in the New England, metropolitan New York, upstate New York, Middle Atlantic, Pittsburgh, southeastern, Chicago, Southern Michigan, St. Louis, Kansas City and Texas territories. Declines were shown in the central Northwest and the New Orleans districts.

SUGAR HEARING NEXT WEEK

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—(AP.)—Labor, wage and hour provisions of the proposed marketing agreement for the beet sugar industry will be considered at the same hearing, starting August 29, on the amended basic sugar marketing agreement.

After the basic agreement proposal has been considered, each of six agreements for various branches of the domestic sugar industry, including beet sugar, will be passed on. Each of these agreements will be a supplement to the proposed basic agreement and will consist of two parts.

One part will deal with a code of trade practices and the final decision on this will be made by the agricultural adjustment administration.

Each also has a section dealing with minimum wages and maximum working hours, and when this portion comes up for consideration a representative of the NRA will take over the hearing and the decision on this will be made by that agency.

Liverpool Wheat Market.

LIVERPOOL, Aug. 25.—The market was due 3¼ to 3⅜d lower based on sterling at 4.56, opened ⅝ to ⅞ off and at 1:20 p. m. was off ½d.

Forbes

Some Things That Appear Topsy-turvy

—By B. C. FORBES—

HAVE THINGS become topsy-turvy?

OFFICIALDOM is moving heaven and earth—and enormous amounts of taxpayers' money—to cause prices of cotton, wheat, pigs and other necessaries of life to soar. Yet, merchants are threatened with dire punishment if they don't watch their step in marking up prices—indeed, NRA vehemently declaims that if detail prices are not kept down, its whole recovery program will be pitched into the ditch.

Mr. Forbes

Millions upon millions of taxpayers' money are being paid in rewards to cotton and wheat farmers to kill crops and abandon cultivated land. Yet, other millions of taxpayers' money are appropriated for irrigation schemes designed to bring more land under cultivation.

THE GOVERNMENT won't allow anybody—except itself—to send gold out of the country. But the government, by refusing to pay the market price for newly-mined gold, is compelling gold mining companies to ship their gold ore to Canada, where labor is employed to transmute it into the precious metal—employment which is badly needed at home. And, of course, not one dollar of this gold comes back to the United States, but goes elsewhere.

Month after month gold hoarders have been threatened with prosecution, but—

We are the only country that ever voluntarily abandoned the gold standard and did it at a time when we owned far more gold than any other nation on the face of the earth.

Whereas every other country likes to see its currency highly regarded by other nations, there is rejoicing here every time the dollar is kicked another step downstairs by foreign operators. There may be rhyme and reason in this, but the layman be pardoned for not grasping it.

WHEREAS industry used to demand "less government in business," we have lately witnessed industries actually beseeching the government to fix prices and apportion output.

The government itself has boasted of how many employes it has cast adrift; and at the same time proudly promises to "make" employment for myriads of workers by spending taxpayers' money. The professional economist may defend and applaud, but the ordinary taxpayer can be excused for failing to discern the logic.

ALL THROUGH the ages it has been recognized that any enterprise that could not make ends meet was doomed to failure, that, in other words, profit was absolutely essential to prosperity.

But all we hear about in this country these days is compulsory raising of wages, combined with shortening of work hours, not one word about the vital importance of making it possible for the payers of higher wages to earn the money necessary to put into the thicker pay envelopes.

IT HAS become a queer world, hasn't it?

MAYBE President Roosevelt could considerably clarify things by one of his lucid, appealing radio talks.

BRITONS SAY of themselves:

"We know how to do two things, how to get into muddles, how to muddle through."

It is to be hoped that America, now in somewhat of a muddle, will exercise enough common sense to muddle through. We can do it by all working together; we cannot do it if there be too much working at cross purposes. The interests of all must rank ahead of the interests of any one class or clique.

THE privately-expressed attitude of many an executive today is:

"We cannot see clearly ahead, but we are going ahead."

That's the right spirit.

STRIKE out strikes!

E. B. Greene to Head Mather Iron Works

CLEVELAND, Aug. 25.—W. G. Mather has resigned from the presidency of the Cleveland Cliffs Iron Company and will become chairman of the company, a newly-created position.

Mr. Mather is succeeded by Edward B. Greene, chairman of the executive committee of the Cleveland Trust Company, who will drop his active duties in the bank, but will retain his position as chairman of the executive committee and director.

LOANS DECLINE $41,000,000

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—Loans to brokers and dealers held by reporting New York Federal Reserve member banks during the week ending August 23, amounted to $853,000,000, representing a decrease of $41,000,000 under the preceding week.

The loans for the week ending August 24, 1932, amounted to $355,000,000.

The detailed distribution of the loans over the three weeks dealt with follow, (000 omitted):

	Aug. 23.	Aug. 16.	Aug. 24, 1932.
For own account	$726,000	$764,000	$330,000
For account of out-of-town banks	119,000	123,000	18,000
For account of others	8,000	7,000	7,000

The high record was $6,804,000,000 on October 2, 1929, and record low was $331,000,000 on July 27, 1932.

Ways to Win

Many have used the Sun-Telegraph Classified Ads as a stepping stone to success.

Workers who are dissatisfied with present positions, those who feel that careful endeavor and conscientious effort have not led to advancement, should consult the Help Wanted Ads to better their position.

There is always a way to get ahead—write an Employment Want Ad stating briefly your experience; seek a position where energetic service will result in advancement.

The Sun-Telegraph Ads have helped many.

Girl in 'teens Survives Husbands Who "Said It with Bullets"—Not with Flowers

MOST girls, these days, prefer to be out of their 'teens before they marry. It is therefore surprising to learn of one who—at 19—has been the wife of three men who are now in their graves; two by suicide and one by murder.

Her second husband, in fact, nearly killed her and several other members of her family.

How it all happened is revealed in an exciting true story that you'll find, next Sunday, in The American Weekly. Look for it!

STOCKS PUSH FORWARD AT STEADY GAIT

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—(AP.)—Financial markets today apparently read "restricted inflation" in the announcement of the central banking system that it had speeded up its credit expansion program and prices in all categories were pushed up substantially.

Owing to the fact that the financial district generally had anticipated, to some extent, the broadening of the Reserve banks' open-market buying of "governments," trading in stocks and staples, while brisk in the morning, had little of the hysterical about it. Shares, after an inaugural whirl, settled down to a steady gait with most of the leaders holding gains of around 1 to 4 points. Grains moved sedately with advances of 1 to about 3 cents a bushel and cotton was up between $1 and $1.50 a bale. The dollar was again weak in foreign exchange dealings. Secondary bonds were strong.

In addition to the optimism engendered by the increased activities of the Reserve System, Wall street was further encouraged by the week-end trade reviews which reported that resistance on the part of consumers to higher prices has yet to be discerned in the retail division where merchants are being confronted with growing difficulties in getting supplies to meet the fall buying.

The financial section seemed pleased with the international wheat agreement reached at London, although agricultural observers pointed out there are still some problems to be solved before grain production and marketing conditions are put on a plane which will entirely satisfy the leading countries concerned. Some renewed buying of farm implement shares was attributed partly to the better outlook for world co-operation on the grain situation.

While oil stocks were fairly firm most of the day, they failed to exhibit any unusual enthusiasm in response to the advance in crude prices posted by subsidiaries of the Standard of New Jersey. Overproduction of oil, however, is reported to be about as large now as a few weeks ago. The daily average July output in California, for instance, was 488,414 barrels against 478,155 for June. At the same time hopes were expressed that production and consumption would be brought more into line by the time the code becomes effective early next month.

WHEAT PACT LIFTS GRAINS

CHICAGO, Aug. 25.—Heavy buying induced by the reported agreement of the London wheat conference shot grain prices sharply higher at the opening today. Purchase orders were soon exhausted and trading quickly slowed to a snail's pace.

Wheat started 1⅝-4⅛ cents higher than yesterday's finish, ran up a little more and then reacted to below the opening figures. Corn opened 1¾-2⅞ cents higher and then followed wheat.

The sharply higher opening in wheat was attributed to several factors. Chief among them were reports of further inflation of credit.

The flurry was short lived and the market quickly dropped to below the opening on all except the September delivery, which hovered fractionally above the starting levels.

Corn and oats rose and fell with wheat. Provisions were firmer because of better buying.

Reserve Expands Buying Of U. S. Securities

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—Acting to speed economic recovery and to consolidate recent improvement in the banking structure, the Federal Reserve Banks tripled the rate of their purchases of government securities during the week ended Wednesday. A total of $35,000,000 of Treasury notes and bills was added to the portfolios of the Reserve banks compared with the average weekly rate of $10,000,000 since the middle of July, when the rate was dropped from about $20,000,000.

The daily average volume of Federal Reserve Bank credit outstanding during the week ended August 23, as reported by the Federal Reserve Banks, was $2,243,000,000, an increase of $13,000,000 compared with the preceding week, and a decrease of $93,000,000 compared with the corresponding week in 1932.

On August 23, total Reserve Bank credit amounted to $2,258,000,000, an increase of $18,000,000 for the week. This increase corresponds with an increase of $61,000,000 in member Reserve Bank balances and a decrease of $5,000,000 in Treasury currency, adjusted, offset in part by an increase of $7,000,000 in monetary gold stock and decreases of $20,000,000 in money in circulation and $21,000,000 in unexpended capital funds, non-member deposits, etc.

Bills discounted decreased $10,000,000 at the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco, $5,000,000 at New York and $16,000,000 at all Federal Reserve banks. The system's holdings of bills bought in open market show virtually no change for the week, while holdings of United States Treasury notes increased $22,000,000 and of Treasury certificates and bills, $13,000,000.

Pig Parade Gluts Intake Points In West

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25. (AP.)—A temporary glut of pigs shipped to market under the federal emergency hog campaign today caused the farm administration to announce the government would not pay premiums on pigs shipped to St. Paul, Sioux City, St. Joseph, Omaha, Kansas City or Chicago after today until Tuesday, August 29.

REFRIGERATOR SALES BULGE

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—Sales of household electric refrigerators in the United States in July broke all records for that month according to the electric refrigeration bureau of the Edison Electric Institute. Total sales in July were 128,217 units, compared with only 28,785 units sold in July, 1932, and 101,974 in the same month of 1931, the record year.

Total sales for the first seven months of the year were 794,967 units, against a quota of 800,000 set by the bureau for the entire year in its nationwide co-operative sales promotion campaign.

According to the bureau, present indications are more than 1,000,000 units will be sold in the United States this year.

Sugar Consumption Lower Last Month

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—Sugar consumption in the United States during July amounted to 572,873 long tons raw sugar value, against 633,847 tons in July, 1932, a decrease of 9.6 per cent, according to B.W. Dyer & Co. Consumption for the first seven months of 1933 amounted to 3,438,064 tons, an increase of 88,501 tons, or 2.6 per cent over the like 1932 period.

SCREW & BOLT ACTIVE AND HIGHER

Traders turned to the shares of the Pittsburgh Screw and Bolt Company for action on the Pittsburgh Stock Exchange today and lifted the price to new high levels for the current recovery. The move in Screw and Bolt followed a little flurry in the stock on the "big board" yesterday. Several hundred shares were taken in an active opening here. Aside from the activity in Screw and Bolt, the market here showed more life than had been evident for several days. A quickening of the buying movement was also noted in New York, where the Street continued to discuss "inflation" possibilities. The basis of these discussions was the expansion of the Reserve banks' purchases of government securities.

The fuel group was firmer today, although there was no concentration of activity in this division. Moderate buying in the heavy industrial section made its appearance after a week or more of practical stagnation.

SELLING DRIVES DOLLAR DOWN

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—(AP.)—The dollar, in terms of the French gold franc, was valued today at approximately 70.57 cents, compared with 72.12 cents yesterday and 71.61 cents a month ago.

The dollar slumped in foreign exchange transactions today under a renewal of inflationary psychology coincident with the announcement that the Federal Reserve System had substantially increased its credit expansion program.

The British pound sterling jumped 6½ cents to a cable rate of $4.61½, French francs spurted .18 of a cent to 5.61½ cents and Dutch guilders soared nearly 2 cents to 57.93 cents. Swiss francs were up about 1 cent at 27.80 cents and Belgian belgas advanced to 20 cents for a gain of .64 of a cent. Strength was also shown by German marks, the Scandinavians, Canadian dollars and Far Eastern exchanges.

COTTON HIGHER ON BUYING

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—Cotton futures opened firm, 17 to 31 higher on active general buying, higher Liverpool cables and foreign exchange and talk of inflation. October, 9.52; December, 9.78; January, 9.90; March, 10.18; May, 10.35; July, 10.48.

The advance to 9.86 for December brought in some hedging and profit-taking but it was absorbed on slight setbacks, and demand became more active after the opening advance in the grain market. By the end of the first half hour December had advanced to 9.89 with active months showing net gains of about 26 to 30 points.

The early advance attracted hedging or southern selling as well as profit-taking. It was absorbed on reactions of some 15 points from the best, but volume tapered off later in the morning and the failure of demand to broaden more rapidly on the upturns led to some reselling. At midday, December was ruling around 9.78 with the general market showing net gains of about 14 to 18 points.

WESTERN RAIL MERGER SEEN

International News Service.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—While no formal application has been made to the Interstate Commerce Commission, reports were current today of a proposed consolidation of the Western Pacific, Denver and Rio Grande Western and Missouri Pacific railroads.

The Missouri Pacific and Western Pacific jointly control the Rio Grande.

It was learned that on June 28 last, the managing committee of the Western Pacific and Rio Grande wrote the R. F. C. to the effect that in consideration of the latter making a loan of $950,000 to the Rio Grande, the management of that road would undertake immediate negotiations looking toward merger, consolidation or unification.

The situation was somewhat tangled, however, when on August 22 the Interstate Commerce Commission rejected an application of the Western Pacific for a R. F. C. loan of $1,000,000 to meet September interest maturities. The rejection was based on the fact that the road had no further collateral to offer than to repledge collateral behind loans previously granted by R. F. C.

In rejecting the loan application the commission did not mention the subject of unification or consolidation.

RETAIL TRADE HOLDING UP

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—(AP.)—Dun & Bradstreet, in their weekly trade review today, said that while the peaks of June and July are becoming more infrequent, resistance on the part of consumers to higher prices is yet to be discerned in a slackened rate of retail demand.

The agency asserted that "distributive totals continue to mount, and it is the exception when a report from even one of the small centers does not reveal the attainment of a better level than at this time a year ago."

"Progress in all parts of the country, including some of the most harassed farm districts, reflects the far-reaching benefits of the sustained buying movement, which is gaining velocity with each passing week.

"The belated summer recession is most pronounced in the industrial division, as wholesale trade has been maintained at a somewhat higher level than a week ago, and for retail sales further increases have been recorded. Due to the extremely poor showing last year at this period, because of the restricted purchasing power and the mounting numbers of unemployed, retail sales are running from 5 to as high as 60 per cent above the comparative totals of August, 1932.

"It appears that the bugaboo of sharply built-up inventories, which has caused so much discussion, has turned out to be a phantom, as merchandise has been moving uninterruptedly into consumer channels."

JERSEY UNITS RAISE OIL

TULSA, Okla., Aug. 25.—(AP.)—Oil producers of the midcontinent area who expect Uncle Sam to name crude oil prices shortly after September 1 received a surprise increase of 10 cents a barrel from the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey's regional subsidiaries today. Standard of Indiana and the Texas Company met the advance.

The Carter Oil Company increased prices to 72 cents top in Oklahoma and Kansas, and the Humble Oil and Refining Company posted a flat 10-cent advance in the fields of Texas in which it purchases.

The Humble scale for East Texas has increased from 50 to 60 cents, for the gulf coast 10 cents up to 72 cents top, and for the Panhandle's sour and sweet fields from 41 to 46 cents to 51 and 56 cents respectively.

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—The Standard Oil Company of New Jersey tomorrow will advance retail and tank wagon price of gasoline ½ cent a gallon throughout its entire territory with the exception of Pennsylvania and Delaware.

CHICAGO, Aug. 26.—In contrast to the 10-cent advance made by Carter Oil Company, Barnsdall Refineries, Inc., is advancing crude oil in Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas 15 cents a barrel.

Traders Seeking Issues Likely to Benefit By Inflation

Faced with definite credit relaxation and the possibility of outright inflation, market commentators are endeavoring to select various security groups standing to benefit by the adoption of recovery expedients. Groups regarded by some as holding forth the most attractive possibilities include those which will be most benefitted by public works programs, increased farm purchasing power, repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment, increases in commodity prices and the generally higher public purchanig power.

Market interests formerly closely identified with a leader in the communication business are said to have switched their affections for the time being to one of the better grade oil issues. But at the same time one group with an important stake in the motor industry is also said to be concentrating on leaders affiliated with the motor car group.

Farm administrators at Washington expressed delight today at word from London that a final agreement had been reached at the international wheat conference. They withheld official comment, however, pending formal signing of the agreement and until they had analyzed provisions added in the last 24 hours. Informally, nevertheless, they expressed the opinion that it would be acceptable to them and in complete harmony with their program for adjusting American wheat acreage downward under the voluntary domestic allotment plan.

Grain brokers on the board of trade at Chicago paid little attention today to the wheat agreement reached at the international conference in London. Grain experts professed not to know what benefits could be derived by America from a lowering of tariffs. Brokers felt that exportation, which would benefit the United States, would not be greatly helped by a reduction in European tariffs, since Liverpool prices to be equivalent to 87 cents here, would have to reach more than a dollar a bushel to care for the transfer charges from this country, while for weeks the English market has been lower than Chicago without allowing for the shipping costs of 18 cents a bushel.

There are some who seriously doubt that the Armour & Co officials will proceed with the plan for a recapitalization of the company in view of the extent of opposition which has arisen even if the company does secure the necessary two-thirds vote necessary to make the plan effective. The cost of buying out dissenting stockholders would prove too big a burden. Under the Illinois law stockholders who dissent has the right to have his stock appraised and then redeemed by the company at the legal appraisal price.

Steel interests are anticipating a fair volume of business as a result of the Grand Coulee Dam on the Columbia River near Seatons Ferry, Wash. Bids are likely to be asked for about the early part of next year on the steel requirements of the low dam which will take 8,970 tons of structural steel, 23,590 tons of steel piling, 8,715 tons of fabricated plate and 2,000 tons of reinforcing bars. It is estimated the high dam will require 36,480 tons of structural steel, 23,590 tons of sheet piling, 12,715 tons of fabricated plates and 13,250 tons of reinforcing steel bars.

*Preliminary.

PITTSBURGH DISTRICT business forged into new high ground for the year last week. This followed a decline in the week ended August 5 which was partially offset in the week ended August 12.

The trend is indicated by the index of Pittsburgh district business as prepared by the Bureau of Business Research of the University of Pittsburgh.

The index last week stood at a preliminary level of 78.0. This compared with corrected indexes of 76.6 in the previous week, 72.7 in the week ended August 5 and 76.4 in the week ended July 29.

Activity was substantially higher than a year ago as well as two years ago. It stood at the highest level since the first week of May, 1931.

Coal Strike Factor In Index Changes

THE RECENT COAL strike has been an important contributing factor to the changes in the index during the past few weeks. The strike reached its most acute stage in the week ended August 5, and was largely responsible for the slump in the general index that week. The index for coal output dropped from 93.9 in the week ended July 29 to 61.1 in the week ended August 5. As miners returned to work, the index for coal output increased to 78.0 in the week ended August 12 and to a preliminary figure of 91.0 last week.

Coal production also had an effect on the use of electric power and on rail shipments during the brief strike period. Both of these factors declined as the strike progressed, and have recovered since that time.

Steel Shows Only Decline for Week

IN THE PAST week steel output was the only factor in the index which showed a decline. Its index dropped from 77.2 to 75.0. Electric power, coal output and rail shipments all gained. All were higher than in the corresponding week of last year. All except electric power were higher than two years ago.

A particularly encouraging sign has been the recent increase in the trade factor of the index. This tended to lag during the early period of business recovery, but lately has been showing substantial gains. The trade factor in the index, which appears to indicate that an actual increase in purchasing power is being developed, gained from 73.2 in the week ended July 29 to 78.8 in the week ended August 5 to 80.5 in the week ended August 12 and to a preliminary figure of 83.9 last week.

The trade element in the index represents department store sales, new motor car registrations, bank debits and bank clearings.

BANKERS SEEK PIERCE-ARROW

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Aug. 25.—(AP.)—Harold S. Vance, co-receiver of the Studebaker Corporation here, today confirmed reports that an Eastern banking group, supported by Pierce-Arrow officials, is contemplating re-purchase from Studebaker of the Pierce-Arrow Motor Car Company of Buffalo, N. Y. So far, however, no definite offer has been submitted, he said.

The transaction would need the approval of Federal Judge Thomas W. Slock, because the Studebaker Corporation is in receivership.

The Pierce-Arrow Company was not affected by the receivership. Studebaker, however, owns all 230,125 shares of class "B" Pierce-Arrow stock and controlled 23,500 preferred and 152,214 class "A" shares as of last December 31.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Aug. 25.—(AP.)—Officials of the Pierce-Arrow Motor Car Company today refused to discuss the reported purchase of their company from the Studebaker Corporation, although admitting that such a plan was under consideration.

Times in Detroit Redeeming Bonds

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 25.—(US.)—The Times Publishing Company (Detroit Times), which is a subsidiary of Hearst Consolidated Publications, Inc., will redeem its 1933 maturities totaling $125,000 of 6 per cent serial gold bonds and make payments of $67,500 semi-annual interest.

NEW YORK BOND MARKET

WHEAT ACCORD NOT SIGNED

LONDON, Aug. 25.—(AP.)—A last-minute hitch delayed the signing today of an international wheat agreement after it had been announced that importing nations had accepted tariff and price provisions which had stood in the way of the accord.

The official explanation was that delay had occurred in the preparation of the French text of the agreement.

The wheat conference adjourned until 8:30 o'clock tonight.

International News Service.

LONDON, Aug. 25.—A formal agreement between the principal wheat importing and exporting countries of the world was reached today.

The agreement established a compromise basic price of 63.8 cents (American gold currency) per bushel.

Formal signing of the agreement will take place at 5:30 p. m. today at Canada House. All the main countries interested, including Soviet Russia, will formally signify their approval, although some indicated they would impose reservations.

The agreement was the result of a conference called on the initiative of the "big four" wheat exporters — the United States, Canada, Argentina and Australia—in an effort to reduce acreage and effect decreases in import tariffs.

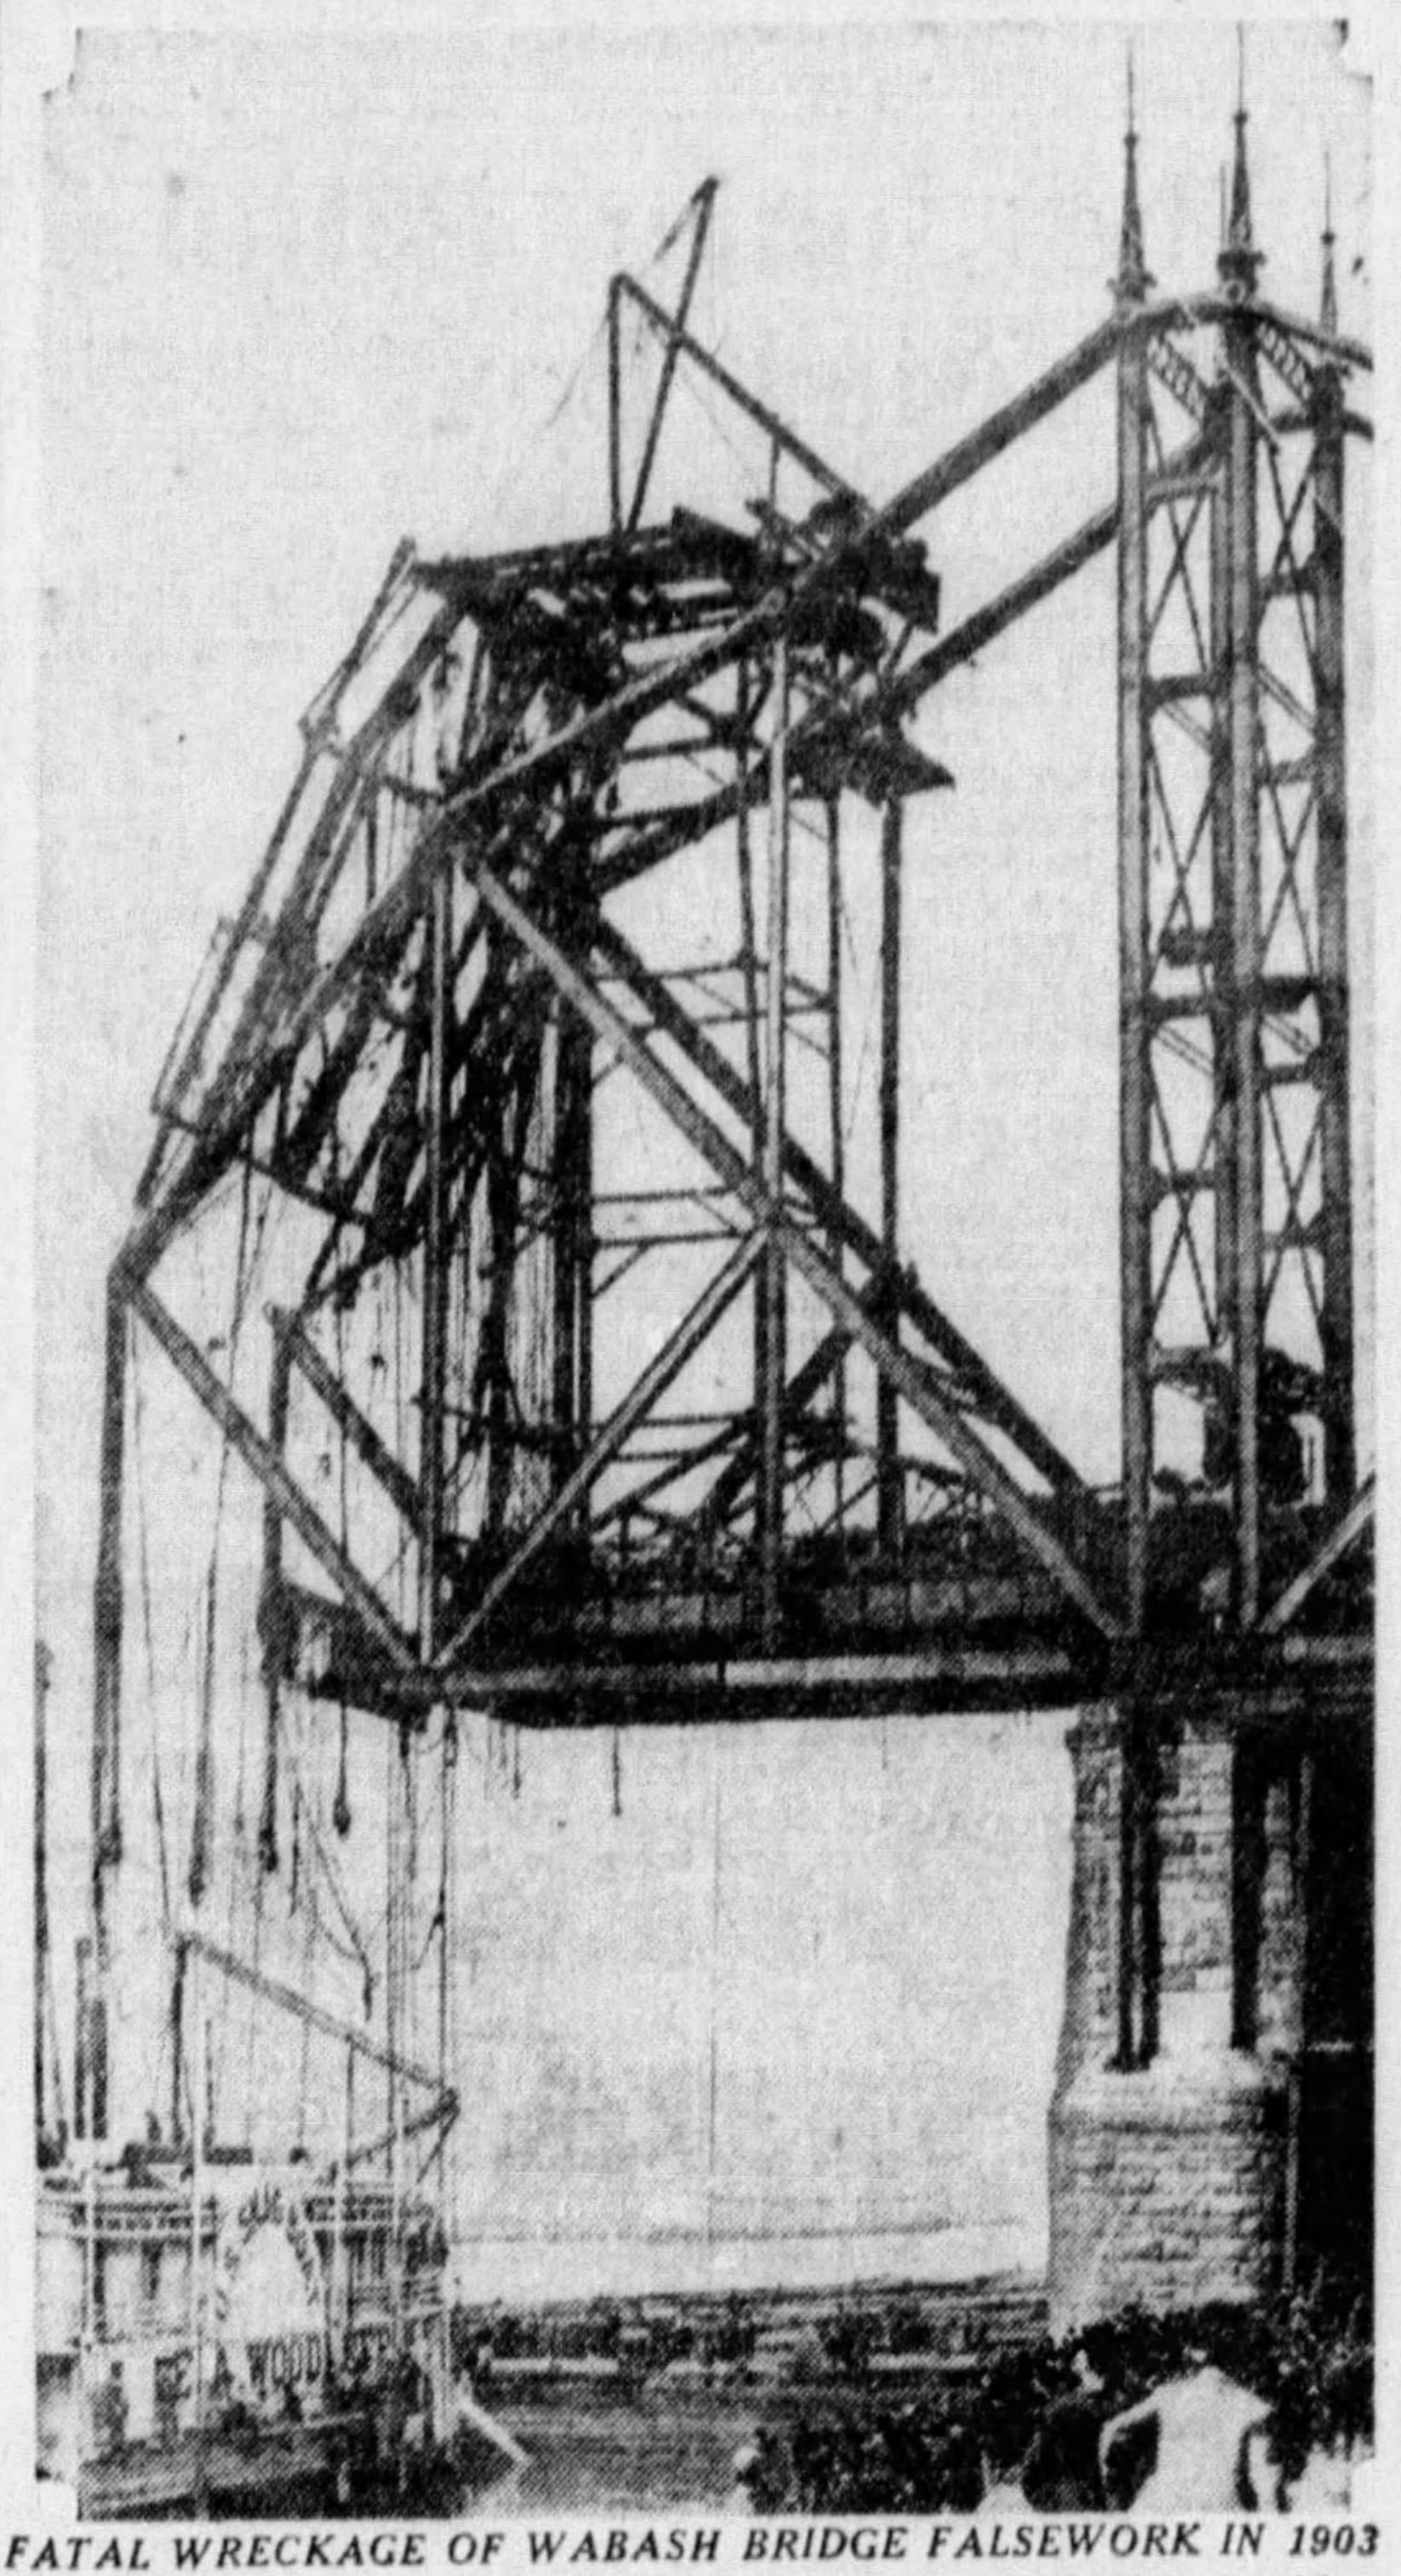
REMEMBER WHEN This Collapsed?



FATAL WRECKAGE OF WABASH BRIDGE FALSEWORK IN 1903

The wreckage of the falsework of the Wabash Railroad Bridge over the Monongahela after it had collapsed during construction work, carrying 11 men to death and fatally injuring three others. Morgue Supt. John P. Black recalls that it was the first disaster after the county had started operation of the morgue building that is still in use.

Have You Any 'Remember When' Pictures?

"Remember When" pictures—the older the better—may be submitted by mail to the REMEMBER WHEN EDITOR, Sun-Telegraph, Pittsburgh, Pa., with full explanations for consideration as suitable for publication on this page. Pictures of groups of more than six people are unacceptable. WARNING: Write name and complete address on the back of each picture to assure safe return.

FOUR QUESTIONS

What is it which, ascending into unknown, finds that which was lost?

What is it that gathers together all the business changes of a community and brings them to those who would profit in them?

What is the mainstay of every business enterprise in finding capable workers to keep the wheels of industry humming?

What does the modern housekeeper use to secure the proper servants, and to turn unused articles into cash?

The answers to these questions—and to your needs of today—are the Sun-Telegraph Classified Ads. Read them now.

CHAPTER XXXVIII.

Leni had the sensation of being caught up and hurled by a strong wind. There she lay, breathing deeply. Her hair, bright and soft, was helter-skelter about her head. Gerstenfield, his face and chest laboring, came and stood over her.

"You'll run out, will you?" he roared with vociferous viciousness.

She was not injured physically but a dazed and paralyzing feeling of suffocation gathered around her heart. She had not lost her head. She would not scream or go into a panic.

The only hope was that Gerstenfield would come to his senses. The burst of violence had drawn the color from his face, leaving it white as a sheet while he stood shaking and glowering beside the low, wide bed. His pallid lips lost their straight line and twisted in derision.

"You won't get away!" His voice cracked like a whip. "You'll find out who's boss. I created you and I'll do what I please. No one is going to rob me. You're so beautiful—I could kill you!"

This explosion of the human mind in Leni's delicately-furnished bedroom was something beyond her control.

With all of his restraint blown up, Gerstenfield grew blinder and blinder in ungovernable rage. He poured out all the hatred and poison and bitterness of his life upon this girl whose beauty had come to symbolize his entire frustration.

AN OMINOUS SILENCE

The flood gates of his savagery were open.

Leni could hear him gasp for breath. Half of it was insanity and half of it was sheer human brutality.

Leni waited for the storm to expend itself. Opening her eyes she saw Gerstenfield standing between her and the window, his dishevelled form swaying from side to side like an animal's, his fists clenched at his sides.

The vision trembled indistinctly through the involuntary tears that swam in her eyes.

"You don't know what you're saying!" she said in a low voice. "You are out of your head. This afternoon you said you were my friend—you cared for me——"

At these words Gerstenfield quieted, became ominously silent. He stood, looking down at her for a moment and then sank down on the bed beside her.

He did not, at first, touch her and Leni lay motionless, scarcely breathing. Her very quietness, she hoped, would begin to calm him.

His eyes became hollow and hungry—fastened upon her in a futile effort to absorb her beauty and draw it into himself.

Thus, close to her, he was conscious of her faint breathing—an exhalation of freshness and delicate fragrance that crept into his being and swirled warmly in his throbbing veins.

BITTERNESS CONTINUES

There were soft rounded curves contrasting with the pure straight lines of her slenderness. The late afternoon light flowed onto the gleaming texture of her arms and neck and into the golden recesses of her bright scattered hair.

"Darn you, you're beautiful!" he said, between his teeth.

He was aware in his inflamed mind of her magic unapproachability that for months had secretly heated the repressions in his blood and left him stagnant and helpless.

Leni decided she must divert his mind.

"There were at least six extra girls in the last picture more beautiful than I am," she said. "They have personality, too—that's more important than beauty, isn't it?"

But Gerstenfield was not swerved.

"Personality and beauty belong together," he replied. "You have both. You are the climax of everything."

He leaned closer to her. To be reminded of other women did nothing to cool the embittered desire and the tide of bitterness that ran in a hot pressure through his veins.

One of his hands stretched out and he gradually laid it on her waist. It was the first time for as long as she had known him that he had ever touched her in this way . . .

ANGER WELLS UP

She could feel the warmth of his touch. For a moment she was motionless, hoping he would remove the hand.

"There's no one on earth like you," he said huskily.

She had humored him to this extent but now anger began to well up and sting her face.

"Get away from me, please!" she said sharply. At the same time she started to move herself to the far side of the bed

"I can't live without you!" cried Gerstenfield in a muffled voice. "I'd rather be dead. You belong to me—darn you—I'll never let you go!"

A scream gathered in Leni's throat but before she could utter it a heavy force fell across her face—it was Gerstenfield's forearm — a flung-out gesture of ferocity — a reckless blow that jarred and stunned and bewildered.

The next instant the uncontrolled man was crushing her in his arms.

It was as though thunder had crashed around her. She was in a grasp of iron, wound round with unbreakable strength as the hot waves of revulsion and horror broke over her.

* * *

For one dizzy second after the chair toppled backwards, Cavanaugh, with Steve Poletzki on top, saw the man lift something heavy in his hand. The blow smashed toward Cavanaugh's head as both of them, with the chair beneath, struck the floor. Instinctively, as he fell, Cavanaugh twisted aside, but the object reached his head glancingly. For a moment he was confused by a swimming blindness. Then vision came back to him. Poletzki was on top and had his arm raised to strike an accurate and deadly blow.

REMINDED OF GALLOWS

The thing he held in his hand was an iron book-end snatched from a small table at the foot of the chesterfield.

Dazed, but alive to his peril, Cavanaugh threw up an arm and caught the blow just above the wrist with a shock that numbed to the shoulder.

One of his hands managed to reach Poletzki's throat and thereafter the man ceased to be a menace. Brown muscular fingers clamped into yielding flesh, cutting off the air stream and bringing back the quick purple to Poletzki's pallid face. The book-end dropped to the floor as Cavanaugh struggled upward. On his feet, he shook Poletzki once or twice like a rat and hurled him crashingly against the wall.

It was enough. Physical fighting was not Poletzki's game. He became limp and sick. Both hands were raised to his throat as he slumped against the wall. Where Cavanaugh's fingers had clutched were livid marks.

"What's the matter? asked Cavanaugh sarcastically. "Can't you take it?"

The other tried to speak. Down one of his cheeks a tear rolled, leaving a wet path behind it. His lips moved rigidly as he gasped air down his throat with a rasping noise.

"I can't . . . breath . . ."

The words struggled out hoarsely. Cavanaugh's head was still a little dizzy from the struggle, but he had pulled himself together and was perfectly calm.

"Tender around the neck, eh?" he asked, meaningly. "If you thought that was tough—wait till you feel the noose!"

Poletzki could not keep his hands away from his neck. The noose! Nothing now remained of his arrogance, his viciousness, his snarl and leer.

His dream—the dream of being hanged—turned his face a greenish hue. He was strangling. He was not asleep—he was awake, and it was real. Those tight fingers that had clutched his windpipe and shut off the air had filled him with a suffocated horror more terrible than his nerves could stand.

Poletzki was not altogether a coward but bedded deep in his muddy soul was a grisly phobia. If it ever came to the surface, it would set him gibbering and screaming. A maddening obsession . . like being buried alive.

Cavanaugh looked at Poletzki as the man cowered and kept clutching at his throat. The afternoon sunlight was failing and the gunman's countenance was cast with black shadows. It was a greenish wreck of a face bathed in cold sweat. The eyes bulged and were without lids. The hands might have belonged to a corpse.

"That darn rope——" he muttered vaguely.

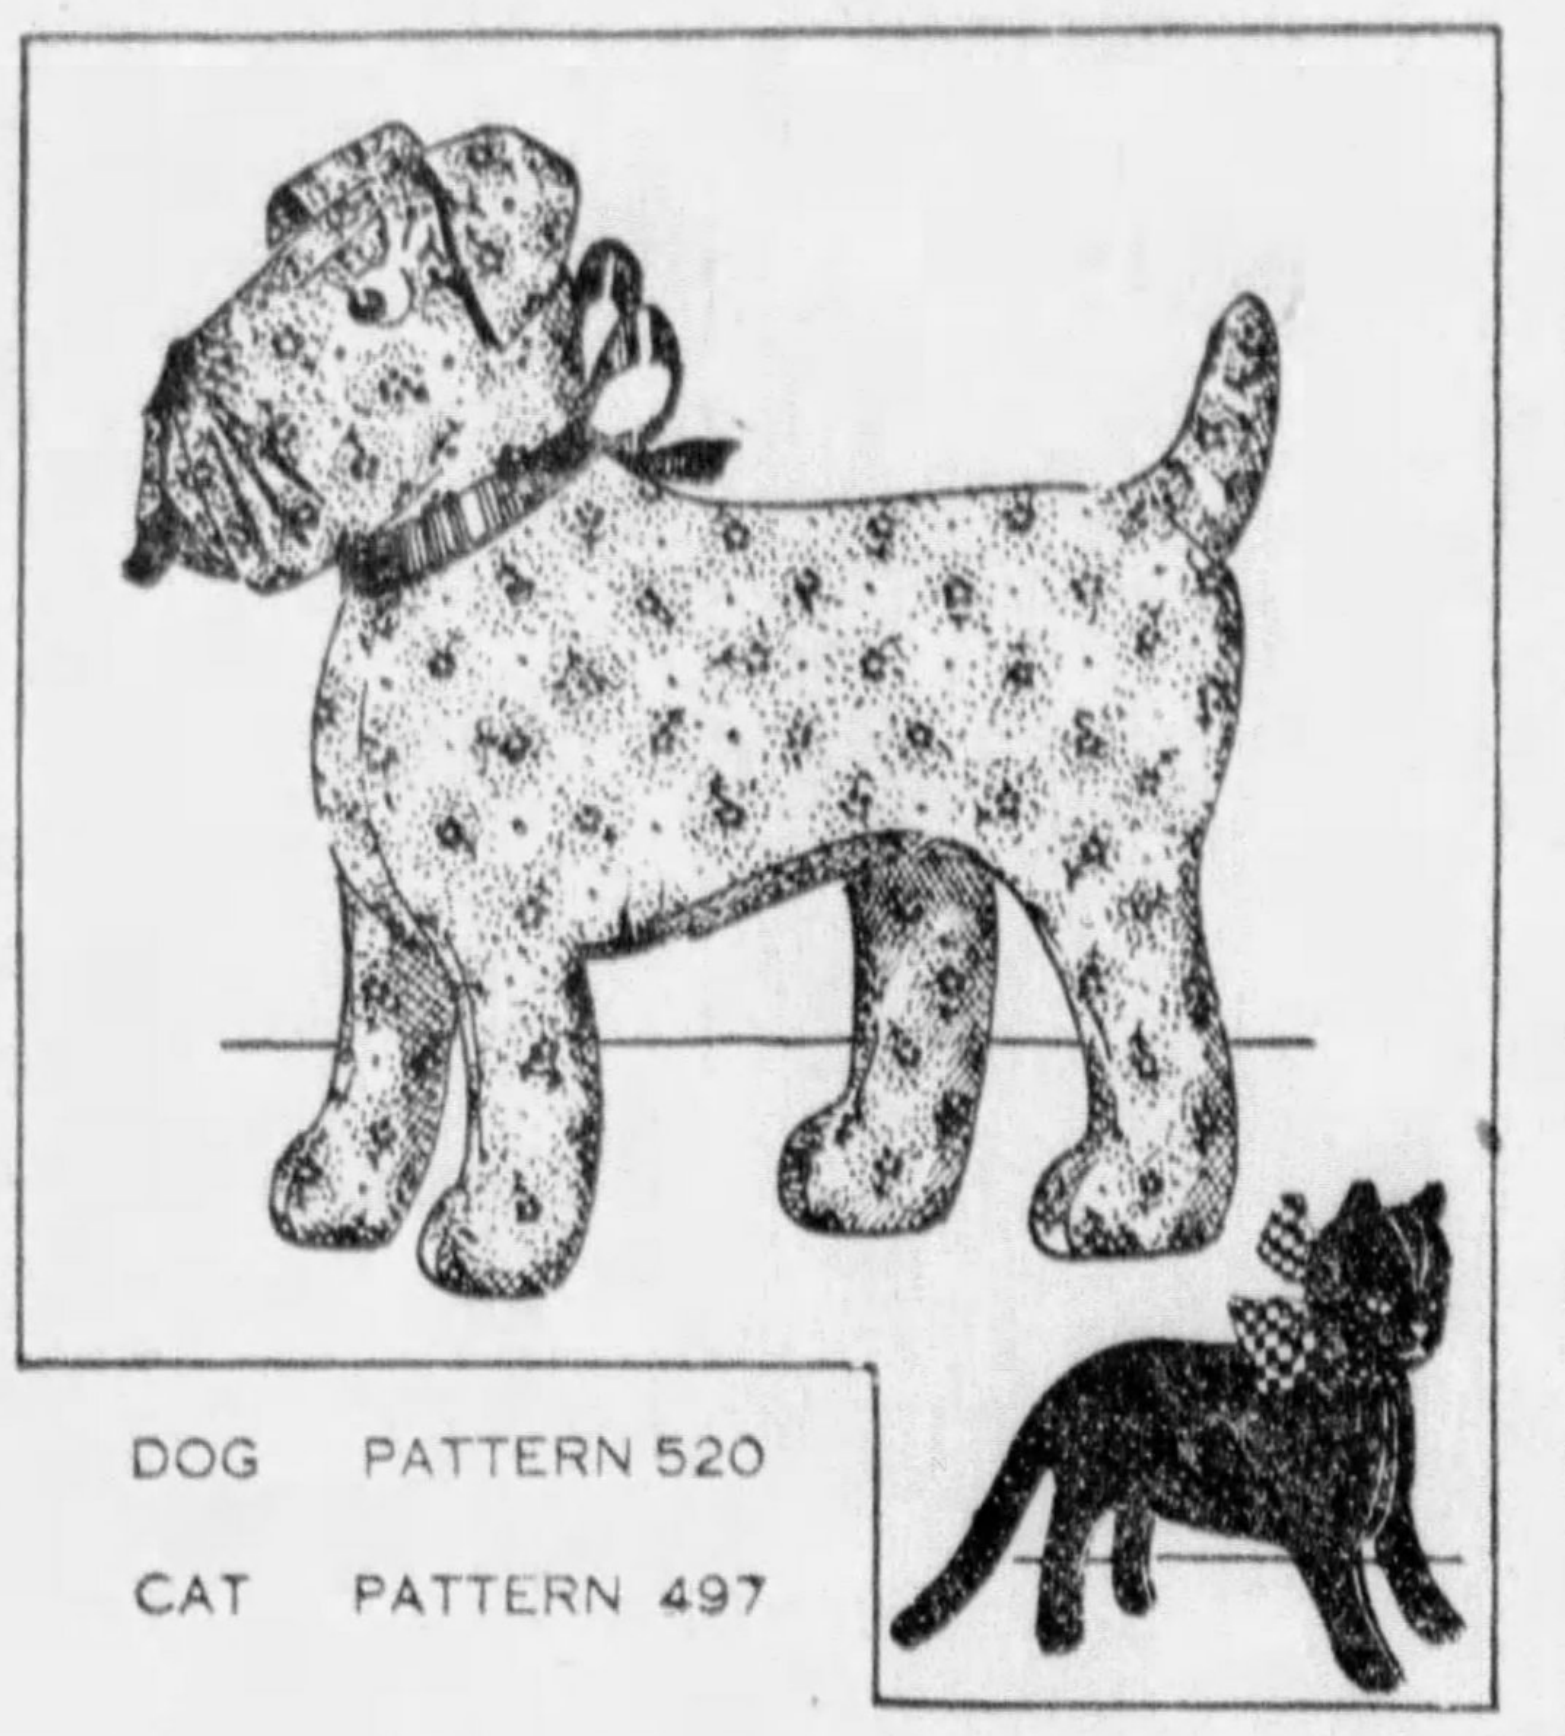
PATCHWORK QUILT PATTERN



DOG PATTERN 520

CAT PATTERN 497

Calico dogs make excellent playmates for calico cats, as they always seem to agree. What is more, the youngsters have a hard time deciding which is their favorite, and invariably compromise by cuddling one under each arm. Though the calico dog may look saucy, he offers no difficulties in the making, for he is simple to construct, and measures 12 inches when completed. Though he favors himself in calico, he is equally popular in terry cloth, sateen, velveteen, or any cotton print. Pattern 520 contains the pattern pieces for the dog, full directions for making it, as well as yardages. The cat is 12½ inches long when completed. Pattern 497 contains the pattern pieces for the cat, full directions for making it and yardages.

Send 10c for each pattern (20c for both) to Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph Needlecraft Department, 82 Eighth avenue, New York City.

The Beauty Box

By HELEN FOLLETT

Do the little dogs smart and burn? Poor little things, they carry heavy loads over hot pavements. Plunge them into tepid water to which baking soda has been added, dry, friction with cold cream, wrap in large Turkish towels which have been wrung out of ice cold water. All this makes them happy, calm and contented. Change shoes at least once a day, twice if you are a perambulating housewife, dashing hither and thither. After washing hosiery, rinse in tepid water to which borax has been added; wear without ironing. It sometimes happens that sensitive feet get along better when encased in lisle or cotton stockings.

Fresh, young complexions don't need astringents, dry skins cannot afford to indulge in them. They are the solacements of the facial area that has taken on sags, assumed cutaneous pleats, or become unsightly with enlarged pores. A simple tonic astringent can be compounded by mixing together one ounce of boric acid crystals, one-half pint of camphor water. The time to use it is after the cold water facial bath in the morning. Apply with tiny pads of absorbent cotton, let it dry on. The rule for bedtime beautifying is a sudsy face cleansing, anointing with cream.

With sham blushes and lip smears toned down from flame color to delicate natural tints, the beauty questers that go in for painted phizes are consoling themselves with eye make-up. All right when well done, laid on with discrimination and skill, but pretty messy when the job is a hurried one. Of all forms of beautifying, this process of laying dark shades on eye shutters requires the proper mediums. It also calls for a strong light, a magnifying mirror, a steady hand and restraint. Especially in the day time. Kilowatts are kinder than the sun to painted ladies.

Frown lines, inflicted through bad facial habits or because of impaired vision, should be treated to warm, moist applications, tapping with a heavy tissue cream, rubbing with ice. When the flesh is anointed, place thumb at lower end of line, first finger at upper end. Keep finger stationary, run upward with thumb in quick, gentle nips and pinches. That lifts up the line.

JUNIOR PATROL PLEDGE

I promise to help children less fortunate than I am.
I promise to do my best to make my parents proud of me.
I promise to watch carefully when crossing streets and to aid other children in keeping out of danger.
I promise to study hard and do errands willingly.
I promise to be a 100% Junior Patrol member.

Address this pledge to the JUNIOR PATROL Sun Telegraph, Pittsburgh, Pa. Upon its receipt you will be registered as a member of the JUNIOR PATROL and will be forwarded a membership card and an official emblem.

The Junior Patrol Mail Box

Organizing a Junior Patrol is lots of fun, fellows!

School is "just around the corner," you know, and if you belong to a Junior Patrol Club you will have lots of fun outside of school, and your hours in school will be more interesting.

Do you remember what Spike's brother, Bill, told him? That he must be sure to get an education if he wants to get ahead in the world? Lots of Junior Patrol members are just starting school for the first time this year, and so they can't read yet—their older friends and brothers and sisters will have to help them to learn quickly.

But if you can read and write, you are all set to have a wonderful time reading interesting books and letters. Mostly, this Mail Box is written for the older members of the Junior Patrol who have been going to school, but we hear that some of them don't like school so well.

Yes, school is work sometimes. It's hard to sit at a desk and learn when it's pleasant outside if YOU DON'T LIKE WHAT YOU ARE LEARNING. But if you make everything you learn like a game, it's easy to learn your lessons. Captains, in your club meetings when school starts, you can think of ways in which you can make use of what you learn at school. A spelling contest is a good thing, for instance. Or you can have your finance committee multiply and add up the cost of having your next party.

Just the other day we heard about a new geography game that some children play. They draw blank maps of the world, and then the leader gives each player a list of cities and rivers, and the player who puts the most names in the right places wins a prize!

Here's another note today from Capt. Matilda Suto, of 195 Beaver street, Leetsdale. She asks if it is all right to have boys, as well as girls, in a club. Yes, it is, Matilda, just so both the boys and girls agree that they like to meet together. We think that orange and blue uniforms should be very pretty and attractive. Let us know when you get your patrol all equipped. Your seven new pledges will be registered right away.

We are glad to know that so many Junior Patrol captains and members are supporting President Roosevelt's NRA plan. The Blue Eagle in a store means that the owner is helping to end such evil things as child labor and long hours and poor pay for the people who work for him.

For instance, here's a letter today from Thelma Stone, of 520 Lincoln avenue, Millvale, who is organizing the NRA Junior Patrol. She writes:

"The name of our club will be NRA (No Rascals Allowed). We are having a mushball team. We wish you, Snuggins, and Spike, would come to visit us."

Boy, that's dandy, Thelma—the boys are still down the river having adventures, you know, and so they can't come to see you just now. And we can't send you an armband. Yes, you have 11 on your roll, but you did not send any pledges for them. Every member must be a registered member here at headquarters and must sign a pledge or copy of a pledge coupon. If they are already members, you must write their names and ADDRESSES and the NUMBERS of their membership cards on your roll. Then, when you are elected captain, we will send you the armband.

Joan Bishop, of 1735 Wharton street, South Side, sends in five coupons. You only need five more, Joan, and then you can start a patrol.

Hilary Reed, of 1132 Fourth avenue, Ford City, Pa., writes:

"I, my sister, and our girl friends would like to be members of the Junior Patrol. We are going to start a club."

Fine and dandy, Hilary. Welcome! When you have seven more pledges, we will send you an armband if you are elected captain.

Q. & A. DEPARTMENT

Dear Madame:

Would you say that marriage is one continuous sweet refrain? Widower.

Ans.—Yes. That's the trouble with it. You gotta keep refraining. Auntie B.

HERE'S A JOB FOR YOU, YOUNG MAN!

Men! Don't sit idle on park benches! Learn how to become Investment Counselors! We teach you this fascinating trade in ten simple lessons. Don't you know that there are thousands of widows and orphans and millions of white collar workers who need your advice? Wouldn't you rather have a fancy office, and stick colored pins in maps, than just poke around garbage cans? Very well. Act now! We sell you pies, for making pie charts, and sell you canned alphabet soup that contains all the figures you can use for statistics. All you need then is a sixteen-cylinder car and you are ready to go into business for yourself. Our free booklet costs you nothing and is worth it.

The Cup Goes to the Wars Again

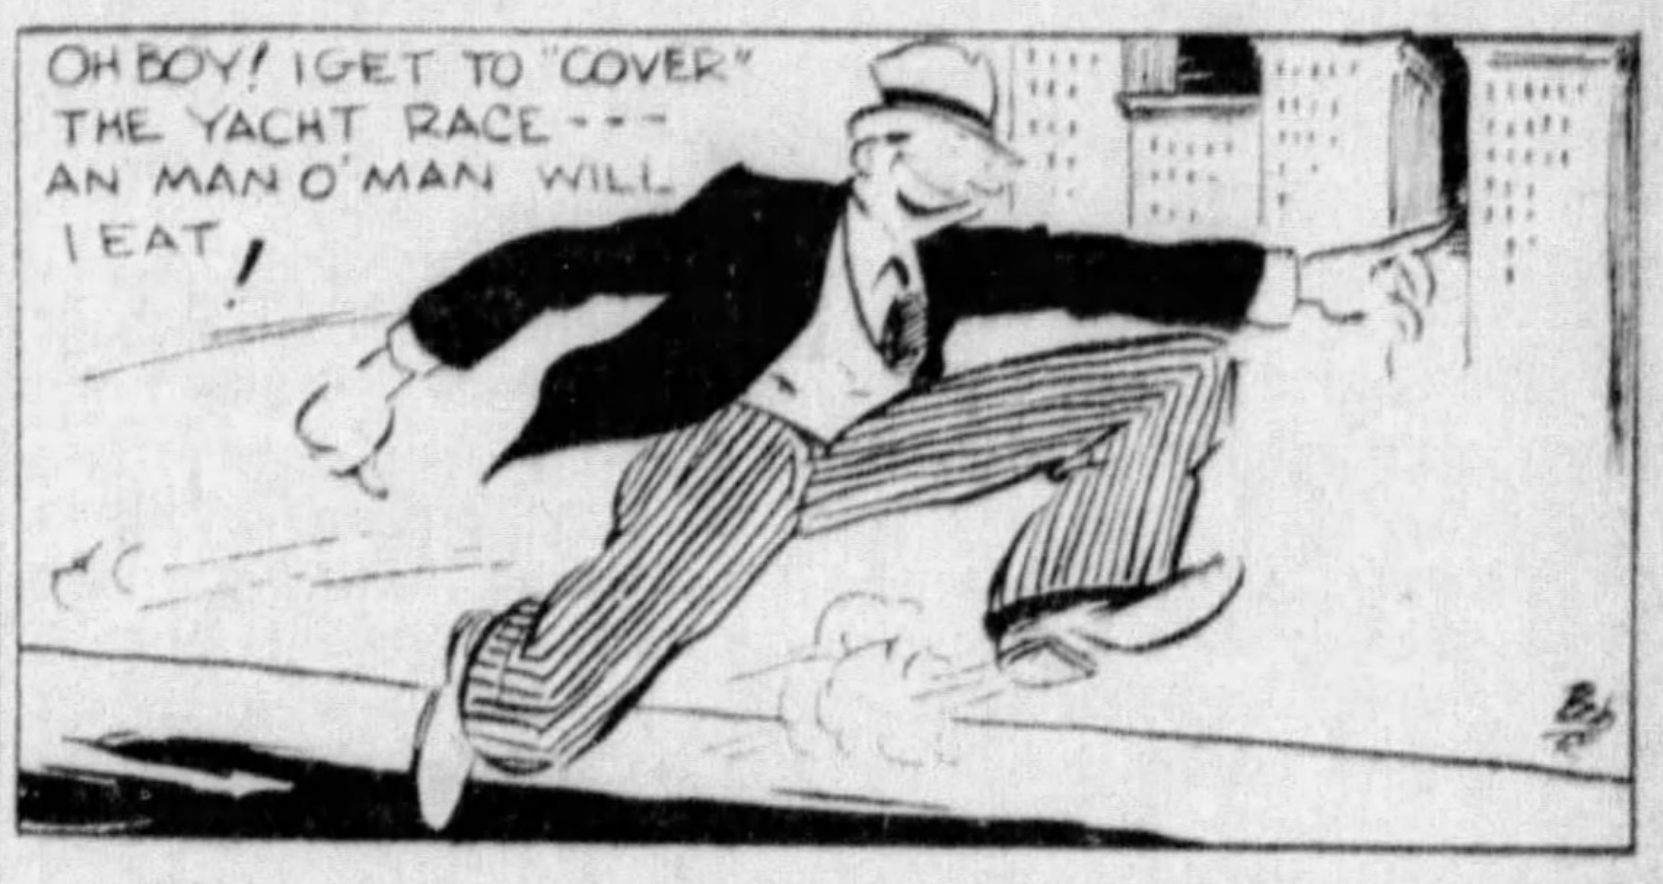
England now has a boat that can slap the Shamrock silly. She will challenge for the American cup next summer.

Folks haven't been paying much attention to us international yachtsmen since Sir Thomas Lipton crossed the Jordan on the starboard tack.

Tommy was an ideal marine sportsman who stirred up interest without increasing competition. Not one of his Shamrock armada ever tossed a grappling iron over the silver boiler which is emblematic of the world laurels.

But, Tommy kept challenging for the jug-handled trophy year after year. He started at the bottom in ocean touring and worked his way up to second place. There were times we thought that Sir Thomas could have won if he cared. He was a cautious sailor and had the sturdy Anglo-Saxon habit of hugging the starting line.

When Sir Thomas arrived for a contest he sailed along the waterfront rescuing marooned sporting writers from the fish wharves. He was a lavish host, and, sad to relate, broached many a keg of the stuff that makes the peasant feel like a king and a king feel very numb.



OH BOY! I GET TO "COVER" THE YACHT RACE --- AN MAN O' MAN WILL I EAT!

When you were aboard Sir Thomas' boat nothing was too good for you if another newspaperman didn't see it first. Food, drink and lodging were as free as a gnat on the wing.

There was only one drawback. It was summed up by a sports writer who jammed his head out of a porthole and screamed, "For gosh sakes, Tommy, sail a little faster, will ya? I gotta write about this race."

We never saw much of the contests. But we never despaired of being eventually rescued or sighting a friendly sail. Just to give you a ruffian's idea of the indomitable spirit of Sir Thomas' guests we want to authentically and authoritatively state that no bottle thrown overboard ever contained a message.

This is written to the owner of the new swift English boat. Not that we ask him to crowd on more canvas but to implore him to pack the larder.

If Sir Thomas had any racing faults it wasn't in the eats department. Measurements of spar, overhang and displacements proved that his tablecloth was larger than his mainsail.

Mayoralty Candidates And Their Records

Associations and Backgrounds, as Well as Their Campaign Speeches, Call For Study

Of the various candidates running for Mayor, it is generally conceded that any one of five has a chance to be elected.

The contenders from whom the citizens of Pittsburgh will choose their chief executive are Mayor John S. Herron, Councilman P. J. McArdle and Register of Wills Joseph N. Mackrell, candidates for the Republican nomination, and W. N. McNair and John M. Henry, Democratic candidates.

Each of the five has now laid before the citizens in speeches and statements published in the Sun-Telegraph his views on municipal affairs. Some of the principles and platforms thus enunciated show painstaking study of the problems of city government and true appreciation of the city's needs. In other cases little has been said that is noteworthy or constructive. But in none of these utterances has there been anything that called for downright condemnation.

The citizen who does not go beyond the campaign speeches in attempting to estimate the candidates' qualifications for the office of Mayor may make a mistake. Their records also demand consideration. What has been their background? What are their associations? Who are their friends, who their enemies? These questions must be answered before anything like a reasoned judgment can be given as to their fitness for the job.

Mayor Herron is the candidate of that faction of the Republican party which is now in control of the city government and is popularly known as "the organization." He was a bricklayer as a young man, and became president of the Bricklayers' Union, but for many years has been actively connected with professional politics. He served several terms in Council, gave good service, and was well thought of until, as president of Council, he opposed John D. Houston's demand for a councilmanic investigation of irregularities in the city government—irregularities which, when investigated by the grand jury, resulted in the conviction of Mayor Charles H. Kline and Bertram L. Succop, former director of supplies, on charges of malfeasance.

Herron has been sharply criticized for his subservience to Kline, his willingness to accede to Kline's requests to Council, and his failure to protest against or investigate scandalous conditions in the administration.

Herron is also condemned for his association with Senator James J. Coyne.

Herron became Mayor when Kline resigned. He promptly announced plans to reform the police bureau and to crush commercial vice and racketeering. He has shown enterprise and appreciation of the city's needs in calling a meeting of the mayors and burgesses of a hundred cities in the Tri-State District to further the flood control project. He recently stated that the payroll would not be assessed to raise campaign funds.

No charges have ever been made against Herron's personal character.

P. J. McArdle, like Herron, found his way into city politics through the medium of trade union politics. As a youth he was an ironworker. In 1905, when he was 30 years old, he became president of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers. He was elected to Council for the first time in 1911, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of D. P. Black, one of the original appointees, and has been actively connected with the city government during most of the succeeding years.

McArdle is credited with being chiefly responsible, among the councilmen, for the creation of Morals Court. The Mt. Washington roadway is the outstanding public improvement with which his name is linked, but he also played an important part in the construction of the Boulevard of the Allies and the Saw Mill Run boulevard. He was one of the original members of the City Planning Commission. His integrity has never been questioned.

McArdle has at times been an organization candidate, but he is running as an independent in the present campaign, with the indorsement of the Citizens' League, an organization of businessmen and civic-minded women who played a big part in the exposure of the corruption in the municipal government.

Joseph N. Mackrell is occasionally referred to as an "independent Republican" candidate, but he is not an independent in the sense in which it has been customary to use the term. Mackrell is an organization man, but heads a faction in the organization which has rebelled against Senator Coyne's leadership.

As a young man he was a newspaper reporter, but became interested in politics as a profession. He has been a candidate for a number of offices, including Coroner, and has managed the campaigns of other politicians. After attaining middle age he studied law and was admitted to the bar. In a suit for $31,350 brought against Mackrell by Joseph Engelsberg, Hill district character, and now pending in the Common Pleas Court, Engelsberg says that on or about July, 1920, he and Mackrell became co-partners in "a certain business enterprise." Mackrell has admitted having been associated with Engelsberg, and it is doubtful if he could ever again be elected to any public office unless he satisfactorily explains what that association was.

The Democratic candidates, McNair and Henry, are both lawyers.

McNair has been a Democratic candidate for various state and municipal offices. He has the backing of the organization headed by David L. Lawrence, the Democratic county chairman, and of that wing of the party which strongly supported Franklin D. Roosevelt in the Democratic National Convention last year.

The Lawrence organization has at times received help from the Coyne organization in the election of its candidates to boards on which the law requires that minority parties shall be represented. The Coyne organization supported Lawrence, as against C. M. Barr, in the election of County Commissioners two years ago.

Because Coyne helped Lawrence, and Lawrence is for McNair, the charge is being made that McNair and Coyne are friendly; but there seems slight foundation for the statement, and it is stoutly denied by McNair.

Henry has been active in the movement for honest elections. Gov. Gifford Pinchot appointed him to the Pittsburgh Board of Registration Commissioners to succeed E. Lowry Humes, but later removed him for political reasons. He has served as a special representative of the County Commissioners in election matters, and has been attorney of Mrs. Anne M. Felix in her contesting of the election of Congressman Michael Muldowney. Henry is the anti-organization Democrats' candidate.

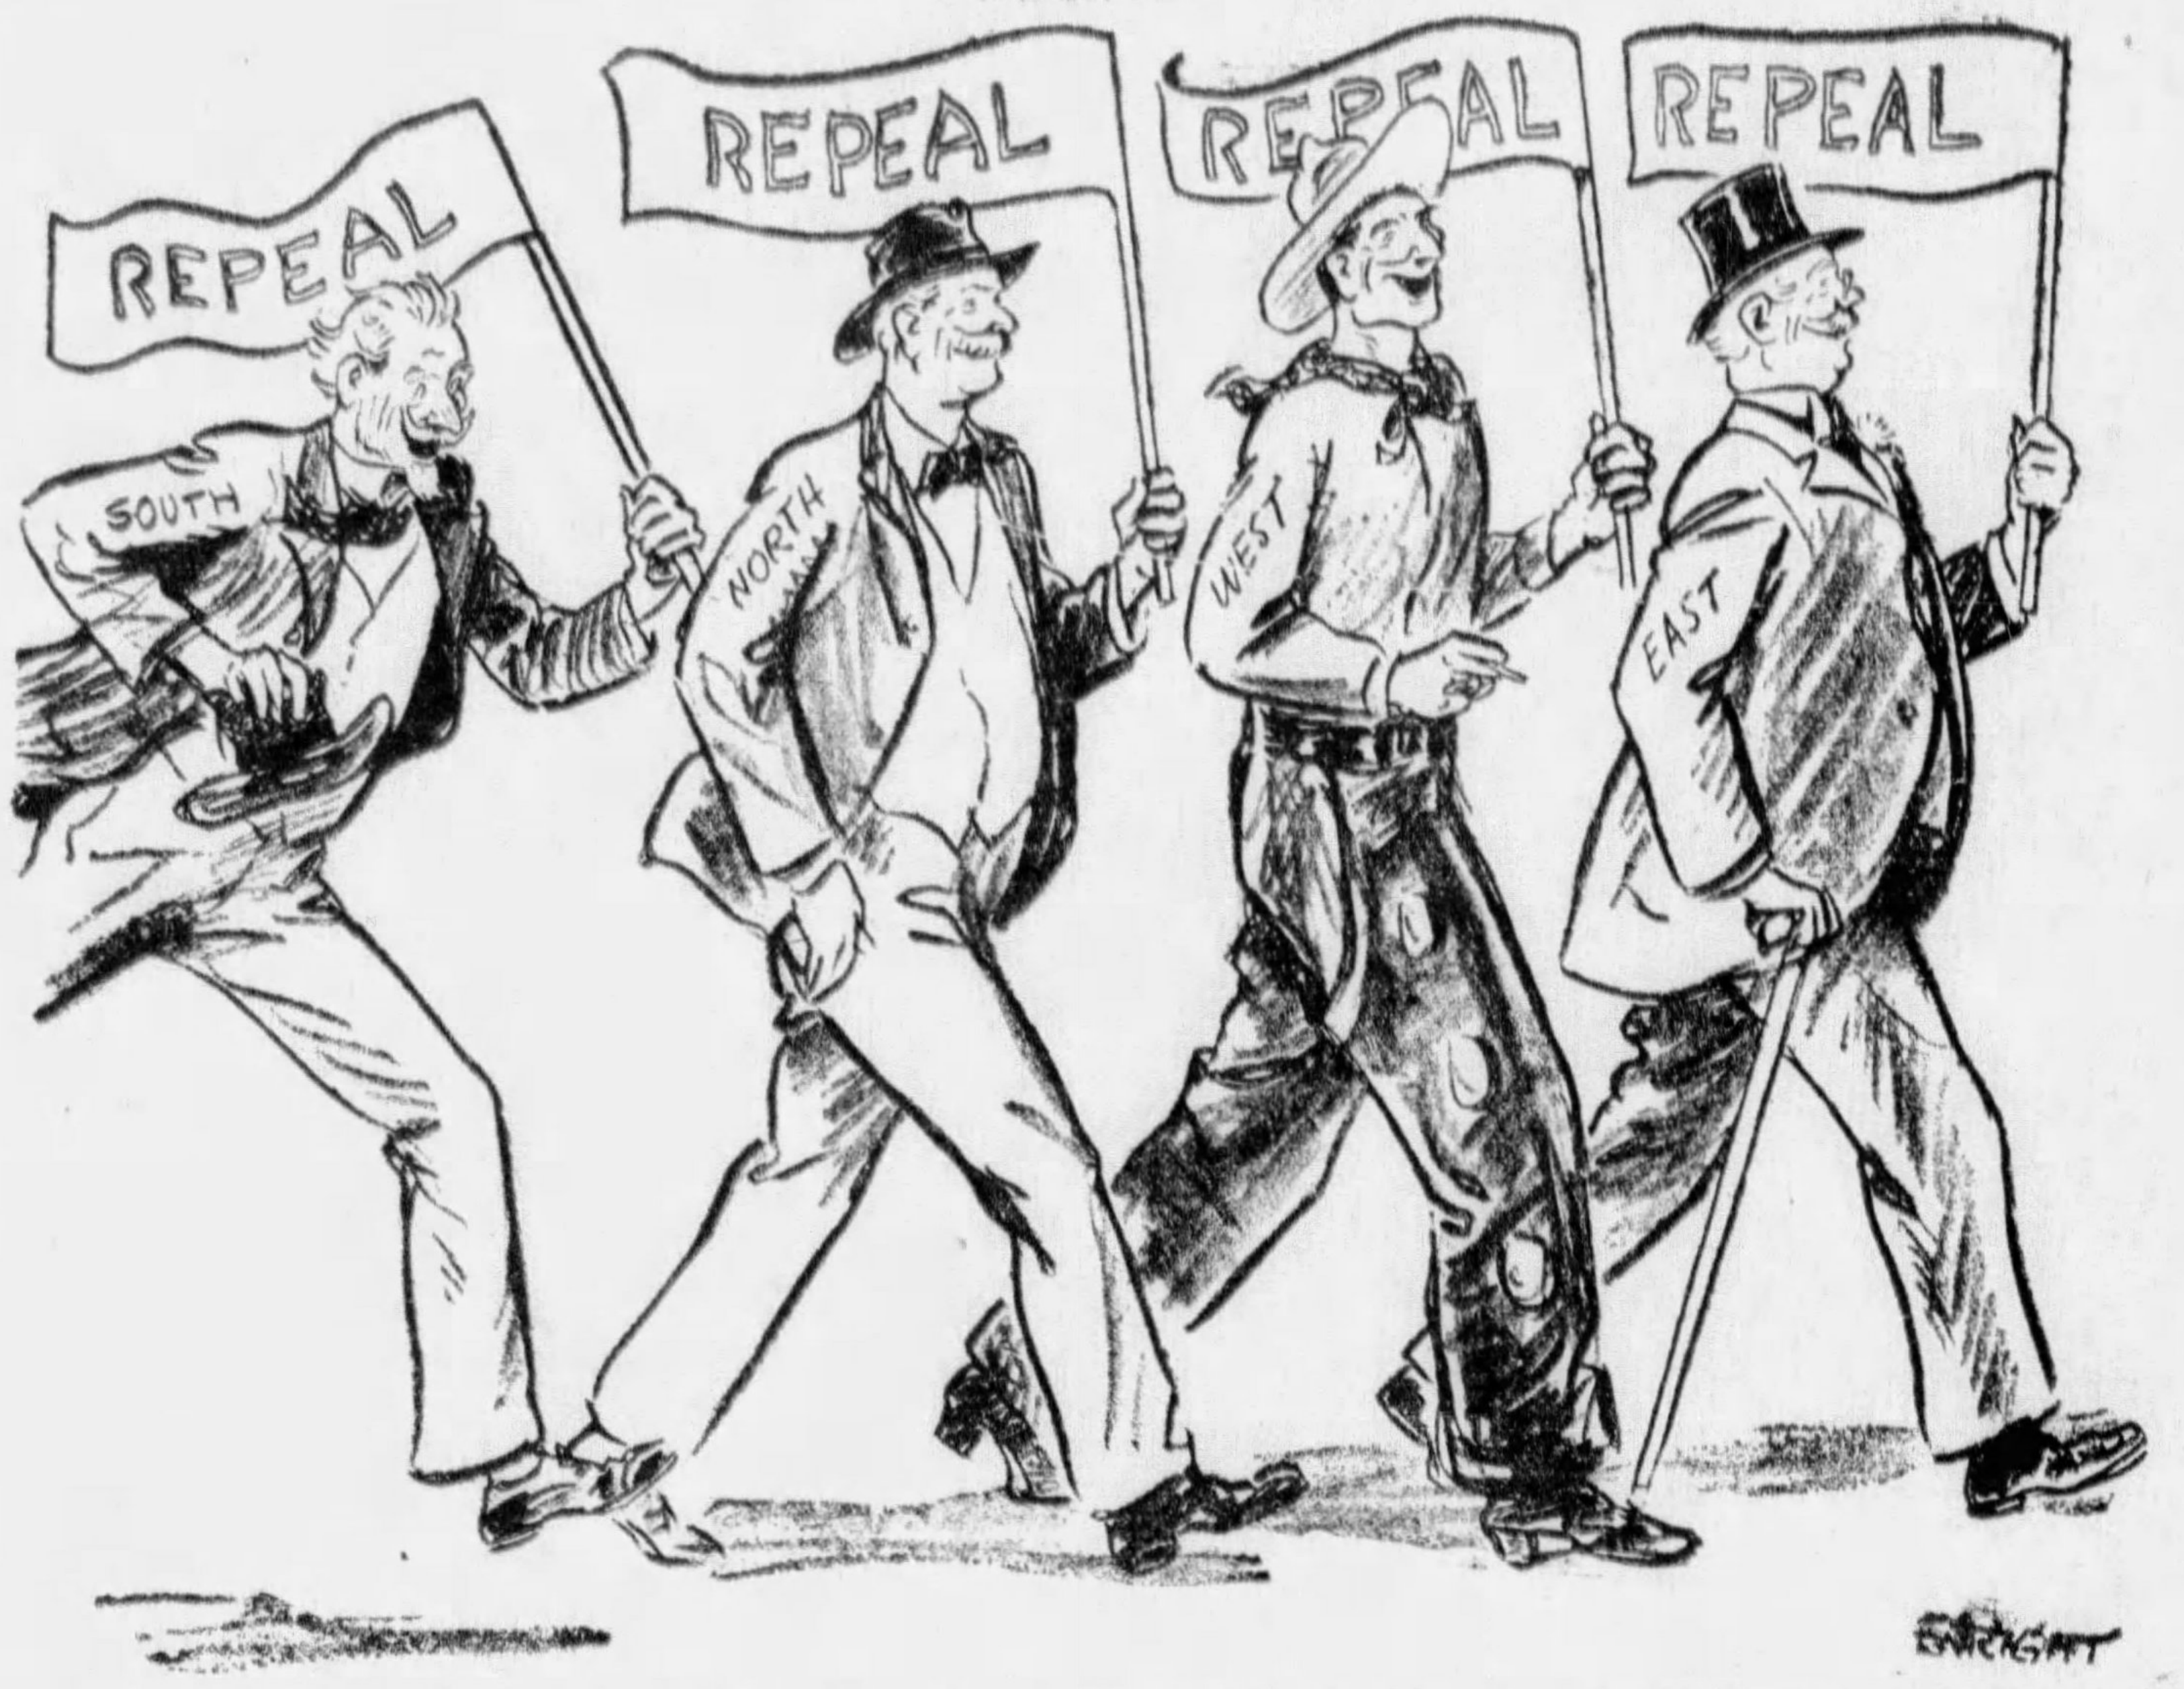
Up With the Procession

(Copyright, 1933.)



Elihu Root described exactly the nation's attitude toward the Eighteenth Amendment when he said at the New York State Repeal Convention:

"There are no thirteen States and there will be no thirteen States that will undertake to stand up against the overwhelming will of the whole people of the United States."

The drys counted on the South and the Middle West for 13 State victories. The Middle West failed them when Indiana and Iowa went for repeal. In the South Tennessee lines up with Alabama and Arkansas.

The Eighteenth Amendment is worse than dead. It must be taken out of the Constitution as swiftly as possible. Repeal before Christmas is what the country wants.

Marry-Go-Round

"Yes-Dear" Husbands

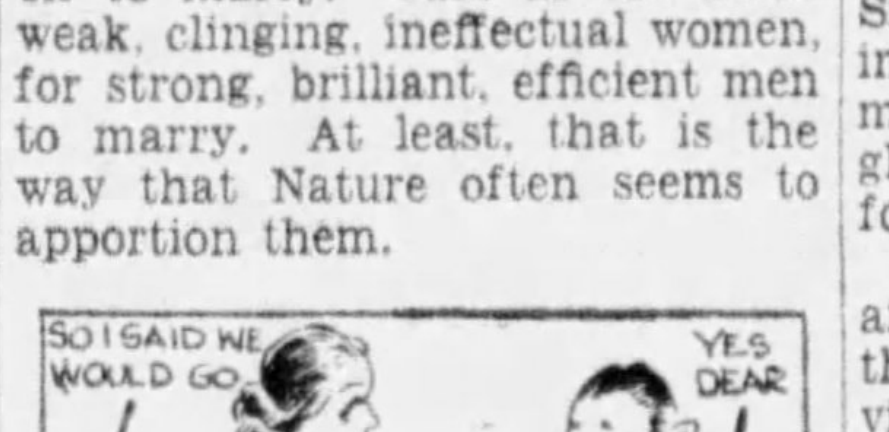
Not ALL "henpecked" husbands are unhappy. Some of them actually LIKE it.

* * *

Of course, no man enjoys being bullied by the comic-strip, rolling-pin sort of wife; but some men enjoy being thought for and having the decisions taken off their minds. They really prefer the kind of wife who can take care of their money and will tell them when they need a hair cut and decide where they are going to spend the evening.

* * *

God made mild, pliant, easy-going, diffident men for strong, brilliant, efficient, practical women to marry. Just as He made weak, clinging, ineffectual women, for strong, brilliant, efficient men to marry. At least, that is the way that Nature often seems to apportion them.



SO I SAID WE WOULD GO!
YES DEAR!

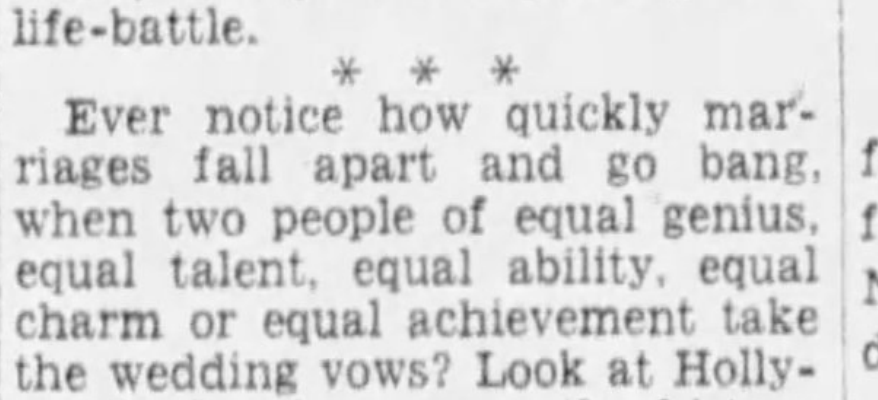
So, when an anxious mother begs me to tell her how to prevent her brilliant, intellectual daughter from marrying a quiet, harmless and apparently ineffectual young man, my answer is "DON'T!" He may be the only man in the world with whom she would be happy.

* * *

Two overly brilliant, high-powered intellects in a family might simply overcrowd the living-room and keep the house in a turmoil. And the mating of two strong personalities and cast-iron wills is nearly always the beginning of a life-battle.

* * *

Ever notice how quickly marriages fall apart and go bang, when two people of equal genius, equal talent, equal ability, equal charm or equal achievement take the wedding vows? Look at Hollywood! Or glance over the history of the grand opera singers or the literary set!



AND YOU TALKING ABOUT MY VOICE!
WELL YOU TALK OF MINE!

Of COURSE, the ideal marriage is that of a big, strong, capable, masterful man and a sweet, mild, gentle, domestic woman. That's the way we always picture the Perfect Husband-and-wife, just as we've always pictured the angels wearing long white nightgowns. And the devil in red tights. That's the way it OUGHT to be.

* * *

But, alas, not all men are born masterful and efficient, and not all women are born mild and domestic and clinging.

* * *

Some women love a man for his force, his strength, his virility and his achievements—and others love a man for his fineness of spirit and gentleness of soul. Some women marry a man in order to cling to him and lean on him—and others marry a man in order to mother him.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

By O. O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—Thoughts while strolling: All the porters at swell hotels are Irish with thick brogues. Ed Wynn's strapping six-foot son. They're certainly three-sheeting those sex-exhibits in continuous burlesque. No more lookouts at the speakeasies. Lester Allen's two dot mustache.

James Thurber, a Columbus, O., boy, who made good in the city. Never knew a leading man to be more than 39. A chic dresser, Mrs. Paul Whiteman. Sign "Ultra Large Rooms." Sid Solomon's robin bright eyes. Frank Phillip's Oklahoma hat. Robert Coleman has the longest sideburns in town. With Emil Coleman as a runner-up. Mrs. John P. Medbury and Ivy Sawyer look alike. One of my favorite people—Esmond O'Brien. The former Margaret Sinclair of the Follies. Now lives in a Paris chateau. The Carnegie mansion is waxing into chronic gloom. Certainly a white summer for the ladies.

Corrine Boyd Dillon, the artist, and her dog. Whatever became of those phoney strong men in vaudeville, Collins and Hart? Also warts? Nothing shocks me like a gray haired woman smoking a cigaret along the street. That leather lunged Grand Central Newsie, "The San Diego Kid."

One word description of Hal Skelley—hippity. Hype Igoe, the sport writer, Tad's closest buddy. And how everybody misses Tad! Whatever they say about Carnera he was a lifesaver for prizefighting. Wonder what bright mind thought up those tin tongs for candy boxes?

* * *

Every effort has been exerted to make the proposed restaurant in the French building on the Forty-ninth street side of Radio City the town's toniest eating place. It will try to achieve that swank at which Martin's failed. Formal dress and a kid-gloved elegance throughout. The cuisine will be in charge of Henri, long known to selective gourmets visiting his off-the-trail caravansary on Long Island.

* * *

Of all cities outside the metropolis, San Francisco has contributed artists and writers most conspicuously to New York journalism. Among limners, outside of "Tad," were Harrison Fisher, Rube Goldberg, Rea Irvin, Homer Davenport, Billy De Beck and many others.

* * *

The great magazine cover artist, Harrison Fisher, was apprenticed to a San Francisco art department. His first assignment was a political convention. He entered the hall in mouse timidity and whispered to a busy reporter: "Is this the Democratic convention?" The barking retort was: "No, Aloysius. This is a drop stitch meeting for palsied old maids." Fisher slung out, his face blazing. That night he was in a banana-skin littered red-plushed day coach headed east. A notable instance of acute sensitiveness paying dividends. No other artist's work ever adorned the outside page of the Cosmopolitan, a spot the desire of all.

* * *

Homer Davenport's first drawing for publication was that of a Mongolian pheasant, limned in a few minutes in the back room of a Market street saloon at the request of a San Francisco editor of a sportsman's magazine who had lost another drawing. Davenport didn't even know how to ink it in. Later he found an all-sorts job in the art department of the Chronicle, but was sacked for incompetency.

Among younger novelists Louis Bromfield has shown least interest in what publishers call "a personality build-up." He even restrains them from such hippodroming. Born in Mansfield, O., Bromfield has spent his most successful years in rural France. When he comes to America he is little seen. He is a glorious model for show-offs and one of the enormously increasing number of earnest writers who believes it's not the writer who counts. But what he writes.

Harry Acton, Galahad of the galleons, stopped in today with a copy of Punch—"just off the boat." But the only thing we found in it even mildly amusing was the plight of Mr. and Mrs. Kangaroo, who suddenly discovered their child was missing. "My God," cried Mr. Kangaroo, "pickpockets!"

A letter from Ray Long, Jr., aged 9, in the morning mail from a summer camp reads: "I hop you are fine and wood like a couple of old botles to put my crabs in, one big syze and uther teeney. They are loveily crabs and I hop you are fine. P. S. Don't forget the botles, a olive one will do for the big syze."

LISTEN, WORLD

By Elsie Robinson

I'm glad I'm living today!

Yes—I know—it isn't a comfortable day in which to live. Nor, for most of us, a profitable day. Nor, perhaps, even a very safe day.

Everything's in a mess. All our old weaknesses and hypocrisies are being shown up. All our old bills are coming due. Our fathers' programs have gone smash. We haven't, as yet, established any new programs to fit our altered times and needs. There is, in short, only one fact about our present era on which you can safely bet—it's a Tough Time for anyone to tackle. And yet—

I'M GLAD I'M LIVING TODAY!

I'm glad I'm living today because it's a Big Dare.

Life, today, is daring men to do something harder than they've ever done before. Men have faced plenty of hard things since they first crawled down out of tree tops into caves, out of caves into tents, out of tents into tribes. They've faced saber tooth tigers and mastodons . . . fire, famine, flood, war and pestilence. Each new age has meant a new step to take, a new risk to run.

But today life is daring men to take the longest step, run the greatest risk in all human history.

TODAY LIFE IS FORCING MEN TO FACE THEMSELVES . .

DARING MEN TO FIGHT THEIR OWN SELFISHNESS AND GREED, LAZINESS AND STUPIDITY.

And believe you me, that's the hardest job we weak and wobbly humans have ever taken on!

It's easier to face a hundred saber tooth tigers . . . or endure years of fever or famine . . . than it is to learn how to shape one of your thoughts or control one of your own habits. For the first only requires courage. But the second task requires INTELLIGENCE. And intelligence will raise more Cain with your comfort and conceit than any other force on earth.

So the job we moderns are facing isn't going to be any snap. And it will be all the harder because, for the last hundred years, most "civilized" citizens have been living mighty soft. A few of us have been doing all the difficult thinking, taking all the dangerous risks. The rest have been carried along. All that the average man needed to do—or had a chance to do—was goose step. Do what some boss told him to do. Believe what some authority told him to believe. Fit into a niche which somebody else had prepared. Follow a pattern which somebody else had devised. Lead a canned life. All the real work and worrying was done by the Master Minds. And what a swell mess they made of it!

SO NOW IT'S UP TO US!

NOW EACH OF US . . . YOU AND I, INDIVIDUALLY . . . HAVE GOT TO GET OUT AND GET UNDER . . . AND LEARN HOW TO RUN OURSELVES AND OUR COUNTRY.

It's no longer enough to be brave, or obedient, or respectable, or efficient, or charming or self serving.

NOW WE MUST KNOW HOW TO THINK FOR OURSELVES AND FOR THE OTHER FELLOW, TOO . . . MAKE A PROFIT FOR OURSELVES AND FOR THE OTHER FELLOW, TOO . . . HOW TO BE RACE MINDED AS WELL AS INDIVIDUAL MINDED.

NOW, AT LAST, WE MUST STOP BEING MARIONETTES, MANIPULATED BY THE MASTER MINDS . . . AND LEARN HOW TO BE MEN!

Will that be easy? No it won't. It will be hard . . . it will be humiliating . . . it will be maddening . . . it will completely get our goats! We'll lose our money at it—and friends. And get the worst beating of our lives. But, oh boy, what a grand scrap it will be!

Why am I glad that I'm living today? That's why! BECAUSE HERE'S THE BIGGEST CHANCE AND THE BIGGEST CHALLENGE THAT WAS EVER HANDED HUMANS?

Can I take it? Make good on it? I don't know.

BUT I'M GOING TO HAVE A SWELL TIME TRYING!

AND WHAT A BANG I'LL GET EVERY TIME I SUCCEED!

(Copyright, 1933, King Features Synd., Inc.)

OUR RHYMING OPTIMIST

By Aline Michaelis

Winter of Love

Love may be fair in spring, when all
The buds come to the trees,
When all the mating swallows call
In sudden ecstasies.

And love in summer may be sweet
When life's swift tides are high;
And when rich harvests are complete
Beneath the autumn sky.

But lovers never know the taste
Of love's most potent wine
Until the world, a wintry waste,
Lies drear about their shrine.

For closer hearts and hands must cling
Beneath time's threatening blast;
More dear for each remembered spring
That blossomed in the past.

Until the world, a wilderness
Of bitter cold and storm,
Lies bleak before them, none can guess
The shelter of love's arm.

The Human Side of the News

Standing Bear, of the Sioux, Writes the Story of His People—Longs for the Good Old Days

By EDWIN C. HILL

ONE of the greatest of American Indians, Standing Bear, of the Sioux Nation, has written the story of his people. It is a fascinating book and a book that makes one think. For "Land of the Spotted Eagle," as Chief Standing Bear calls his biography of the Sioux, is apt to raise in any open mind the grave question as to whether the white man's civilization is suited to all the children of men, as to whether it should be inexorably and ruthlessly clapped upon all races that fall under the subjection of the white man.

The story of the American Indian is a tragic story, the story of three centuries of oppression and betrayal by the whites, and of a proud and warlike race which could do no less than fight to the death. If happiness is the principal aim of mankind, there can be no doubt that there was once a real Utopia in America, whose happy citizens went share and share alike, in which there was no unemployment of the painful sort and in which generosity, courage and mercy flowed like the gentle rain from heaven.

It was an Indian Utopia, in the country of the Sioux, on the western plains. It is this period of the long ago to which Standing Bear looks backward as toward a vanished and irretrievable golden age, an age free from the sordid and sinister complexities of the white man's world.

Very simply and very movingly Standing Bear tells of his own boyhood and childhood, of home and family among the Sioux, of their government and their social customs.

* * *

Unthinkable to Strike a Child

THE Indian of his memories was a clean, superbly healthy, rigidly self-controlled, naturally religious human being. In his childhood days he was treated with kindness and surrounded with love. For an older person to strike a child was an unthinkable brutality. His education was sensible and practical and suited to the world he lived in and the life he had to lead. Like the ancient Persians, he learned to shoot, to ride, to hunt, to fight and to tell the truth. He listened to unwritten narratives, told around the fires, narratives handed down by word of mouth from the dim, dim past.

Courtship among the young men and maidens was conducted according to rules and regulations that make the old fashioned chaperones of the white people seem lax. Marriage was real, although unceremonious. Divorce occurred about as it now does among the white races. And the Indian lived close to Nature and felt the beat of her heart in every hour of his daily life.

This kinship with Nature caused him to be poetic and sensitive. It produced great orators, like Logan and Yellow Jacket and Red Cloud. The mountains and the prairies seemed no wider to the Red Man than the congested streets of a modern city seem to us. He found meaning in the stars and in the rolling clouds.

As Standing Bear expresses it:

"Only to the White Man was Nature a wilderness, and only to him was the land infested with wild animals and savage people. To us it was tame. Earth was bountiful and we were surrounded with the blessings of the Great Mystery. Not until the hairy man from the East came and inflicted injustices upon us and the families we loved was it wild for us. When the very animals of the forest began fleeing at the white man's approach then it was for us that the Wild West began."

For Chief Standing Bear the old life ended in 1879 when he was sent to Carlisle to be "civilized."

* * *

Civilization Fatal To Many Children

THE civilizing process in those days cost the lives of half the Indian children submitted to it. It included crooked and thieving Indian agents who robbed the red men and found protection under the skirts of the politicians at Washington. Standing Bear went back to his people with a passionate resentment against the agents and the missionaries who were making the Indian forget his ancient heritage.

In his old age he says calmly that he believes the Indian may yet save America, a challenge which is rather thrilling when one thinks of all it involves. And he strings his bow and drives an arrow straight at the heart of the white man's civilization, for he writes:

"If I today had a young mind to direct, to start on the journey of life, and I was faced with the duty of choosing between the natural way of my forefathers, and the white man's present way of civilization, I would unhesitatingly set that child's feet in the path of my forefathers. I would raise him to be an Indian."

Is it possible that the first Americans, the true Americans, the people who owned the soil and the trees and all that lived and moved upon the face of America, the people who lived and died by simple standards of decency and honor, have preserved enough vitality to influence and remodel the very civilization that has crushed them like the car of Juggernaut?

It seems incredible, but God moves in mysterious ways. The Indians of America are increasing in numbers. The strongest of their races have not lost the old vitality. It might be that a stumbling and incompetent civilization, aware at last of the false gods it has pursued, would yet turn back to the Red Man's conception of Nature and of God and to the simple things that make men strong.

ONCE OVERS

By J. J. Mundy

Don't worry about your enemies.

If you have been fairly successful you will have some, bound to.

It is the price of success, and you should expect it.

But if you temper your success with humility, you will not be aggressive enough to make a real success in any executive position.

That does not mean you should be arrogant to hold a high position, but it does mean that a man of power has to show a firm, unflinching front.

Even in the line of duty you find it hard to oppose a friend.

And often your friends ask favors that should not be asked of any man.

If you were to grant the requests of your friends, many times it would lower your value as an official, and you must think of your position.

What were you hired for, or appointed to do?

Get that fixed firmly in your mind, and then carry on.

You need not be ruthless, but you can be clean cut in action.

There is so much in the manner of doing.

You don't have to be disagreeable while carrying out plans that make some persons trouble, when the trouble must be made in order to right matters.

But keep your eyes on the star and forge ahead—the enemies will fade.

ISN'T IT SO?

The electric light bill isn't always a light burden.

Few people can hold their temper as long as they can their breath.

Some people seek pleasure abroad and find it waiting for them on their return home.

Proof of the political pudding lies in the plum distribution.

It isn't necessary for a woman to be an artist in order to draw attention.

No wonder the ocean waves get angry when the wind is continually blowing them up.

"Half a loaf's better than no bread," but half the truth sometimes is worse than a whole lie.
